Kefauver Charges War 'Plot'

Yalta Release Helped To Win Pact Approval

State Dept. Defends Papers' Publication In Breaking Silence

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The State Department strongly implied today that publication of the Yalta papers helped pile up a big vote for French and German ratification of the German rearmament treaties.

Breaking two weeks of official silence on the political controversy over publication of the documents the State Department said in a letter to Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) that Secretary of State Dulles "had made up his mind on March 15 to authorize publication" and he confirmed this March 16.

A factor which "influenced the timing" of the release, it stated, was "that it was certain that German and French ratification of the Paris accords (to rearm Germany) would lead to more intensive consideration of another conference with the Russians.

Dangers, Values Pointed Up

"It was obvious that the full story of Yalta illuminates graphically the dangers, as well as the possible values, of such talks," the State Department said.

These statements were contained in a letter dated March 28. The letter was signed by Thruston B. Morton, assistant secretary of state for congressional liaison. It was made available to a reporter.

Humphrey had demanded in a letter to Secretary of State Dulles March 23 an answer to these questions: who "leaked" the documents to the New York Times March 15, one day before they were officially released? And was the leak a breach of security regulations?

Reply Called Inadequate

Humphrey a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, today termed the reply "wholly inadequate" and sent a second letter to Dulles. He did not immediately make it public.

Morton avoided a direct answer to Humphrey's first question. On the second, he told Humphrey:

"Prior to, and at the time of, the incident you refer to the papers did not have any security classification under the executive order.

"The secretary of state had independently decided upon early general release of the documents. Actual publication occurred simultaneously in the press generally on March 17 after publication had been duly authorized on March 16."

Ike Has Word With Sam

President Eisenhower turns to speak to House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) outside the White House after a luncheon Eisenhower held with a bipartisan group of House leaders yesterday. Secretary of State Dulles is at center. After the meeting Rayburn told reporters: "I don't feel any better about" the international situation. He declined to say why.

Ike Rebukes Adm. Carney For War Talk

President Declares Speculation Doesn't Serve World Peace

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower administered an oblique rebuke to Adm. Robert B. Carney today with a declaration that too much speculation about war does not serve world peace and tranquillity.

Carney, chief of naval operations, has been named as the source of predictions that war may start in the Formosa Strait around April 15.

To prophesy when a war is going to break out, Eisenhower told a news conference, is to assume an accuracy of information never yet attained by a country that was to be attacked.

The President said he cannot say, because he doesn't know, that there will not be an attack from April 15 onward on the Nationalist-held Matsu Islands off the Chinese mainland.

No Reprimand By Ike

"But I do say," he added, "that if anyone is predicting it will be that soon they have information that I do not have."

While Eisenhower told a news conference that Carney will not be reprimanded "by me," he also said that:

"I do not believe that the peace of the world, the tranquillity of the world, is being served at this moment by talking too much in terms of speculation about such things."

The President upheld the right of a subordinate to hold personal opinions. But the subordinate doesn't belong on the administration team, he said, if he is going to create difficulty for the administration or his commander in chief or violate announced administration policy.

Sequence Of Events

The emphasis on the possibility and timing of war in the Far East stemmed from this sequence of events:

After Carney held a dinner discussion with several newsmen, stories were published last week that the United States has reason to believe the Chinese Communists might move against the Matsus and Quemoy Island about April 15.

More stories appeared yesterday that Eisenhower did not believe an attack was likely by April 15. Several newspapers named presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty as the man who gave out this information.

Various Democrats in Congress complained about the release of conflicting views among those in authority on such a ticklish matter as the possibility of war.

Senator Says Some Officials Seek Conflict

Tennessee Democrat Excludes President But Accuses Aides

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) accused unnamed persons high in the Eisenhower administration today of "plotting and planning" to throw America into war with Red China over the Matsu and Quemoy Islands.

In a Senate speech, Kefauver said President Eisenhower is "not rocking the boat," but:

"There are forces in his administration so powerful and apparently so eager for war with China that they are becoming almost impossible to resist.

Such War "Unthinkable"

"That the United States should be plunged into a war over Matsu and Quemoy ought to be unthinkable. Yet there are those in high places in the present administration itself who are plotting and planning to bring such a war about whatever the risks involved."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the White House would have no comment.

Quemoy and the Matsus are islands just off the Communist Chinese mainland held by the Formosa-based Chinese Nationalists. If they have become important, Kefauver said, "it is in large part the doing of military leaders in this administration."

"They have encouraged the Formosan Chinese," he said, "to commit a large portion of their armed forces and equipment to the defense of those islands. Their loss would be a great one to the Nationalists but we are largely to blame for their being there."

Americans "Tired Of War"

No matter how warlike some leaders wish to make the United States seem, the senator said, the mood of the country is deeply pacific.

He said he believes the explanation of Eisenhower's great popularity is that the President "hasn't done very much."

"The American people are tired of war and they want a period of uninterrupted peace and quiet," the Tennessean said. "The source of the President's strength appears to lie in the fact that he is not rocking the boat."

He said he thinks Eisenhower senses this but if he doesn't, "he had better get briefed on it." And he said such a briefing "could well be given in the Pentagon and State Department as well."

Defense Boss Issues 'Constructive' Edict For Military Articles

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today set up a new standard for military articles written by anybody in his department — they must be constructive.

He also ordered the Army, Navy and Air Force to use civilians instead of officers to head their public information services.

These civilians would be responsible to the secretaries of the various services. It was not stated by Wilson, but one purpose may be to end a situation in which a public information officer might be called on to approve or disapprove the brainchild of a superior officer.

The order setting up the "constructive" criterion for writings said they would have to be cleared for security, as in the past.

Publicity Staff To Be Cut

It went on to say they would also be subjected "to a determination of whether release or publication of the material would constitute a constructive contribution to the primary mission of the Department of Defense."

Also in today's orders from Secretary Wilson's office was one directing that the number of military persons engaged in public information duties be reduced one-third to one-half. A spokesman said it had been determined that the services hadn't carried out instructions given last year to reduce the number of such information people in Washington by about 25 per cent.

Edict Applies To Speeches

The edict on being "constructive" applies to manuscripts of all kinds, speeches, press releases, photographs or "other information." It applies to civilian personnel as well as military.

A Defense Department spokesman said the order, while not drafted with this in mind, should discourage such off - the - record talks as the one Adm. Robert B. Carney gave a group of newsmen last week on the Quemoy-Matsu situation.

From now on, all matter prepared for publication must be submitted for review to Wilson's office before it is shown to a publisher or editor.

Servicemen Pay Boost Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — Congress, moving rapidly and without objection, today voted a pay raise averaging about 12 per cent for career personnel in the armed forces.

Adopted by voice vote on both sides of the Capitol, the measure went to President Eisenhower for signature. If he acts tomorrow, the increases for nearly 1,700,000 officers and men will become effective the next day.

The administration-backed bill was designed to keep personnel with experience and specialized talents from dropping out of service.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), Armed Services Committee chairman guided it through the Senate early this afternoon to give the House time to concur in a pair of amendments. The House obliged.

One Senate amendment provided a $100 monthly increase for three-star generals and admirals and $200 for four-star officers.

The second Senate revision allowed 20 cents a mile on a change of station to servicemen whose families live and move in trailers.

Anti-Pakistan Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan, March 30 (AP)—Forty-seven persons were injured in anti-Pakistan demonstrations today in Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, Kabul radio reported tonight.

Eight Nebraska Prisoners End 65-Hour Revolt

LINCOLN, Neb., March 30 (AP)—A 65-hour revolt by eight Nebraska penitentiary convicts ended quietly today, on terms laid down by the governor.

Released unharmed and little the worse for nearly three days of detention at knife point were two guards and a hostage convict.

Since Sunday morning, convicts and captives had been barricaded in the square, three-story prison "jail" building used to house recalcitrant prisoners.

15 Days In The "Hole"

The windup to the odd war of nerves began about 11 p.m. Tuesday when the hungry rebels telephoned to ask for interviews.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson talked with four of the men, one at a time.

He told them what punishment they would get—15 days in the "hole" and 60 days in solitary confinement.

The "hole" is the name given the first floor of the holdout building, containing small, barren cells. The upper two floors have confinement cells.

Famished Men Fed

All eight rebels accepted the punishment order and at 3:15 a.m., the two guards walked out of the captive building into the glare of floodlights.

Thirteen minutes later the convicts began to emerge. They walked unescorted to the office of Deputy Warden John Greenholtz.

Hot meals went to famished captors and captives alike. The only food they had eaten since breakfast Sunday was a loaf of bread, some sugar and grapefruit rinds.

Scelba, Ike Pledge Allied Cooperation

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba of Italy and President Eisenhower agreed today on the need of "making every effort to settle together with their Allies" important East-West problems which affect world peace.

A communique announced the results of Scelba's three-day visit in the capital. It also said Secretary of State Dulles and Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino hope "it will be possible soon" after the German arms agreements are approved "to find the basis for a truly fruitful conference with the Soviet government."

Bea Lillie Collapses

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Beatrice Lillie, veteran comedienne, collapsed on the stage of the Globe Theater tonight shortly after the show began. She had recovered sufficiently, however, to go on with a later second show on tonight's program.

World Situation Still Tense, Ike Tells Legislators

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower discussed the world situation with a bipartisan group of House leaders today and Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said afterwards: "I don't feel any better."

Rep. Martin (R-Mass), the House minority party leader, offered a separate sum up of the picture presented by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles at the White House conference:

"Not too bright and not too gloomy, still tense."

The 2¼-hour meeting touched on the question of Quemoy and Matsu, but Rayburn said Eisenhower did not say whether the United States would defend these Chinese Nationalist islands against a Communist attack.

President, Senators To Meet

Rayburn's statement that he felt no better about the international situation was in response to a question whether he was encouraged by what Eisenhower and Dulles reported. Rayburn refused to say more on the point and Dulles declined to say anything.

Eisenhower will hold a similar meeting tomorrow with Republican and Democratic leaders in the Senate, especially those in charge of legislation on foreign policy.

The meetings were described as intended for further development of bipartisan foreign policy.

No Light On Clashing Views

Rayburn said today's meeting shed no light on what a questioner referred to as apparent differences between the President and Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations.

Carney has been quoted as telling a group of newsmen at a background conference last week that the Red Chinese probably would start an attack on Quemoy and the Matsus by mid-April. Eisenhower told his news conference today he had no such information; he also said speculation about the possibility of war does the country no service.

Flier Admits Draining Air Base Fuel Trucks

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 30 (AP)—A young airman with "an urge to destroy" admitted today he drained 24 fuel tank trucks at Nellis Air Base. It caused a brief investigation for possible sabotage.

All the 288 aircraft at the base were grounded early today after petroleum personnel discovered gasoline drained from 24 of the 69 refueling trucks. Each holds 2,000 gallons of fuel and 11,600 gallons were dumped on the ground.

Office of Special Investigation agents looked for a man with his clothing saturated with fuel. They found one identified by the base as James E. Igoe, 20, whose guardian is Francis Igoe, Brewer, Maine.

Brig. Gen. James Roberts, commanding officer, said Igoe confessed he opened petcocks on the fuel trucks because he had "an urge to destroy."

Britain, Turkey, Iraq Sign Defense Accord

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Britain established today a new defense linkup with Turkey and Iraq extending the defensive area of the North Atlantic Pact to the Indian Ocean.

New accords were signed in Baghdad to replace a 25-year British-Iraqi treaty with a new system of military cooperation.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons these can serve as the foundation of a general defense arrangement in the Middle East.

Soviet Officer, Family Ask Asylum In West

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—A Russian officer, his wife and two children walked into the British army sales store today and asked for asylum.

The Soviet officer laid his pistol on the counter where material for women's suits was being sold, and said to the clerk:

"I give up."

The family was taken into custody today. British authorities declined any further details.

The sales store serves the British community, including army and foreign office personnel stationed in Berlin.

Corporate, Excise Tax Cuts Postponed As Ike Signs Bill

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower signed into law tonight a bill postponing about three billion dollars in corporation and excise tax cuts which were due to go into effect at midnight tomorrow.

The President added his signature to the legislation at 6:55 p.m. right after returning from a round of golf in nearby Maryland.

Final congressional action came earlier in the day when the House passed the bill on a 386-8 rollcall vote, with hardly a whisper of the bristling fight which once surrounded it.

Under the old law, tax rates were scheduled to drop at midnight tomorrow on corporation income and on liquor, automobiles, gasoline, beer and wine, cigarettes, trucks and auto parts.

The bill extends present rates on these items for one more year—to April 1, 1956.

The tax fight of the year arose over a Democratic drive to write into the extension bill an annual income tax cut of $20 per person, to start Jan. 1.

They succeeded in the House, despite Eisenhower's strong opposition. But they were beaten in the Senate and in a Senate-House Conference Committee.

That killed the tax-cutting move for this year. But political leaders in both parties are cheerfully eyeing prospects for a tax cut next year, a Presidential and Congressional election year.

Report Salk Polio Vaccine 100 Per Cent Effective Questioned

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—A news story today declared the Salk polio vaccine has been found 100 per cent effective.

But polio officials said there's been no authoritative word, that only one man knows the results, and he isn't talking.

And reports of a few cases of polio among vaccinated children indicated the official report, when it comes, would be a verdict of something less than 100 per cent. That could still mean a good useful vaccine.

In a copyrighted story, the New York World-Telegram and Sun said it had learned from an "unimpeachable medical source" that not a single child taking the vaccine had developed polio. It said this was the gist of the report to be made officially April 12 by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. at the University of Michigan.

But Dr. Francis replied "the official report has not been written."

The medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, declared "only Dr. Francis knows whether or not the Salk vaccine is effective and, if effective, to what extent. Neither the National Foundation nor anyone else has received any information from Dr. Francis."

From New Orleans, Washington, D. C., Oklahoma and Indiana came word that polio had developed in several youngsters getting the vaccine in last summer's big test.

There has been much speculation the official report on the vaccine will be favorable. Some experts have cautioned not to expect this or any vaccine will be 100 per cent effective.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist who perfected the vaccine, "has not seen the report himself," said a spokesman at the university's medical center. The spokesman added: "Personally I don't believe the information was gotten from the Francis report."

The newspaper story by staff writer William Michelfelder said the medical source reported not a single case of polio among 440,000 children who received the vaccine.

Polio did occur in some other children who received harmless, useless shots of water in the tests, he said.

The purported official word of no polio among vaccinated youngsters—meaning a 100 per cent effective vaccine—was not borne out by other reports over the country.

Two Louisiana youngsters given the vaccine developed polio, said Dr. John P. Fox, Tulane University epidemiologist. He said the two cases by themselves meant little, for "nobody expected the vaccine to be 100 per cent."

Even Dog Can Get Beer In Ontario

TORONTO, March 30 (AP)—Arthur Child, member of the Ontario Legislature, thinks beer order forms filled out by customers at brewers' stores ought to be discontinued.

He told the Legislature yesterday a person can sign a dog's name and get a case of beer.

The Toronto Telegram said today he was right.

The newspaper published a photograph of a beer order it said was promptly accepted for a 12-pint case. The form was signed "Rover Collie, 44 Kennel Row."

Rover is the applicant's name and he is a Collie.

GOP Report Contends Yalta Concessions Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—A Senate Republican Policy Committee report contended today that Franklin D. Roosevelt knew three months before the Feb. 1945, Yalta conference that Russia would enter the Pacific War.

In a 12,000-word summarization of the Yalta papers which Chairman Bridges (R-NH) said would be made available to Republican speakers, the committee staff said "the A-bomb was in Mr. Roosevelt's pocket one month before Yalta."

These statements were by way of reply to Democratic arguments it was necessary for President Roosevelt to make concessions to Marshal Stalin at Yalta in order to get Russia into the war against Japan.

President Eisenhower has said there was nothing to be gained by going back 10 years to decide if somebody was wrong or right. But Bridges and Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, said they intend to discuss Yalta on occasions they feel appropriate.

The Republican report said Americans would have to decide for themselves "whether the United States made an appalling mess of the Yalta conference," the details of which it said were "suppressed and kept secret through the Truman administration."

The GOP committee staff document asserted that, far from being a mere technician at Yalta, Alger Hiss was "given all documents and top secret files which set forth what the United States delegation planned to do at Yalta."

The policy staff denied Democratic charges that publication of the Yalta documents was "premature" but made no other reference to controversy surrounding their release.

Publicity Staff To Be Cut

It went on to say they would also be subjected "to a determination of whether release or publication of the material would constitute a constructive contribution to the primary mission of the Department of Defense."

Also in today's orders from Secretary Wilson's office was one directing that the number of military persons engaged in public information duties be reduced one-third to one-half. A spokesman said it had been determined that the services hadn't carried out instructions given last year to reduce the number of such information people in Washington by about 25 per cent.

Edict Applies To Speeches

The edict on being "constructive" applies to manuscripts of all kinds, speeches, press releases, photographs or "other information." It applies to civilian personnel as well as military.

A Defense Department spokesman said the order, while not drafted with this in mind, should discourage such off - the - record talks as the one Adm. Robert B. Carney gave a group of newsmen last week on the Quemoy-Matsu situation.

From now on, all matter prepared for publication must be submitted for review to Wilson's office before it is shown to a publisher or editor.

Servicemen Pay Boost Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — Congress, moving rapidly and without objection, today voted a pay raise averaging about 12 per cent for career personnel in the armed forces.

Adopted by voice vote on both sides of the Capitol, the measure went to President Eisenhower for signature. If he acts tomorrow, the increases for nearly 1,700,000 officers and men will become effective the next day.

The administration-backed bill was designed to keep personnel with experience and specialized talents from dropping out of service.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), Armed Services Committee chairman guided it through the Senate early this afternoon to give the House time to concur in a pair of amendments. The House obliged.

One Senate amendment provided a $100 monthly increase for three-star generals and admirals and $200 for four-star officers.

The second Senate revision allowed 20 cents a mile on a change of station to servicemen whose families live and move in trailers.

Anti-Pakistan Riots

Eight Nebraska Prisoners End 65-Hour Revolt

LINCOLN, Neb., March 30 (AP)—A 65-hour revolt by eight Nebraska penitentiary convicts ended quietly today, on terms laid down by the governor.

Released unharmed and little the worse for nearly three days of detention at knife point were two guards and a hostage convict.

Since Sunday morning, convicts and captives had been barricaded in the square, three-story prison "jail" building used to house recalcitrant prisoners.

15 Days In The "Hole"

The windup to the odd war of nerves began about 11 p.m. Tuesday when the hungry rebels telephoned to ask for interviews.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson talked with four of the men, one at a time.

He told them what punishment they would get—15 days in the "hole" and 60 days in solitary confinement.

The "hole" is the name given the first floor of the holdout building, containing small, barren cells. The upper two floors have confinement cells.

Famished Men Fed

All eight rebels accepted the punishment order and at 3:15 a.m., the two guards walked out of the captive building into the glare of floodlights.

Thirteen minutes later the convicts began to emerge. They walked unescorted to the office of Deputy Warden John Greenholtz.

Hot meals went to famished captors and captives alike. The only food they had eaten since breakfast Sunday was a loaf of bread, some sugar and grapefruit rinds.

Scelba, Ike Pledge Allied Cooperation

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba of Italy and President Eisenhower agreed today on the need of "making every effort to settle together with their Allies" important East-West problems which affect world peace.

A communique announced the results of Scelba's three-day visit in the capital. It also said Secretary of State Dulles and Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino hope "it will be possible soon" after the German arms agreements are approved "to find the basis for a truly fruitful conference with the Soviet government."

Flier Admits Draining Air Base Fuel Trucks

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 30 (AP) —A young airman with "an urge to destroy" admitted today he drained 24 fuel tank trucks at Nellis Air Base. It caused a brief investigation for possible sabotage.

All the 288 aircraft at the base were grounded early today after petroleum personnel discovered gasoline drained from 24 of the 69 refueling trucks. Each holds 2,000 gallons of fuel and 11,600 gallons were dumped on the ground.

Office of Special Investigation agents looked for a man with his clothing saturated with fuel. They found one identified by the base as James E. Igoe, 20, whose guardian is Francis Igoe, Brewer, Maine.

Brig. Gen. James Roberts, commanding officer, said Igoe confessed he opened petcocks on the fuel trucks because he had "an urge to destroy."

World Situation Still Tense, Ike Tells Legislators

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower discussed the world situation with a bipartisan group of House leaders today and Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said afterwards: "I don't feel any better."

Rep. Martin (R-Mass), the House minority party leader, offered a separate sum up of the picture presented by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles at the White House conference:

"Not too bright and not too gloomy, still tense."

The 2¼-hour meeting touched on the question of Quemoy and Matsu, but Rayburn said Eisenhower did not say whether the United States would defend these Chinese Nationalist islands against a Communist attack.

President, Senators To Meet

Rayburn's statement that he felt no better about the international situation was in response to a question whether he was encouraged by what Eisenhower and Dulles reported. Rayburn refused to say more on the point and Dulles declined to say anything.

Eisenhower will hold a similar meeting tomorrow with Republican and Democratic leaders in the Senate, especially those in charge of legislation on foreign policy.

The meetings were described as intended for further development of bipartisan foreign policy.

No Light On Clashing Views

Rayburn said today's meeting shed no light on what a questioner referred to as apparent differences between the President and Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations.

Carney has been quoted as telling a group of newsmen at a background conference last week that the Red Chinese probably would start an attack on Quemoy and the Matsus by mid-April. Eisenhower told his news conference today he had no such information; he also said speculation about the possibility of war does the country no service.

Britain, Turkey, Iraq Sign Defense Accord

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Britain established today a new defense linkup with Turkey and Iraq extending the defensive area of the North Atlantic Pact to the Indian Ocean.

New accords were signed in Baghdad to replace a 25-year British-Iraqi treaty with a new system of military cooperation.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons these can serve as the foundation of a general defense arrangement in the Middle East.

Even Dog Can Get Beer In Ontario

TORONTO, March 30 (AP)—Arthur Child, member of the Ontario Legislature, thinks beer order forms filled out by customers at brewers' stores ought to be discontinued.

He told the Legislature yesterday a person can sign a dog's name and get a case of beer.

The Toronto Telegram said today he was right.

The newspaper published a photograph of a beer order it said was promptly accepted for a 12-pint case. The form was signed "Rover Collie, 44 Kennel Row."

Rover is the applicant's name and he is a Collie.

Corporate, Excise Tax Cuts Postponed As Ike Signs Bill

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower signed into law tonight a bill postponing about three billion dollars in corporation and excise tax cuts which were due to go into effect at midnight tomorrow.

The President added his signature to the legislation at 6:55 p.m. right after returning from a round of golf in nearby Maryland.

Final congressional action came earlier in the day when the House passed the bill on a 386-8 rollcall vote, with hardly a whisper of the bristling fight which once surrounded it.

Under the old law, tax rates were scheduled to drop at midnight tomorrow on corporation income and on liquor, automobiles, gasoline, beer and wine, cigarettes, trucks and auto parts.

The bill extends present rates on these items for one more year—to April 1, 1956.

The tax fight of the year arose over a Democratic drive to write into the extension bill an annual income tax cut of $20 per person, to start Jan. 1.

They succeeded in the House, despite Eisenhower's strong opposition. But they were beaten in the Senate and in a Senate-House Conference Committee.

That killed the tax-cutting move for this year. But political leaders in both parties are cheerfully eyeing prospects for a tax cut next year, a Presidential and Congressional election year.

Report Salk Polio Vaccine 100 Per Cent Effective Questioned

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—A news story today declared the Salk polio vaccine has been found 100 per cent effective.

But polio officials said there's been no authoritative word, that only one man knows the results, and he isn't talking.

And reports of a few cases of polio among vaccinated children indicated the official report, when it comes, would be a verdict of something less than 100 per cent. That could still mean a good useful vaccine.

In a copyrighted story, the New York World-Telegram and Sun said it had learned from an "unimpeachable medical source" that not a single child taking the vaccine had developed polio. It said this was the gist of the report to be made officially April 12 by Dr Thomas Francis Jr. at the University of Michigan.

But Dr. Francis replied "the official report has not been written."

The medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, declared "only Dr. Francis knows whether or not the Salk vaccine is effective and, if effective, to what extent. Neither the National Foundation nor anyone else has received any information from Dr. Francis."

From New Orleans, Washington, D. C., Oklahoma and Indiana came word that polio had developed in several youngsters getting the vaccine in last summer's big test.

There has been much speculation the official report on the vaccine will be favorable. Some experts have cautioned not to expect this or any vaccine will be 100 per cent effective.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist who perfected the vaccine, "has not seen the report himself," said a spokesman at the university's medical center. The spokesman added: "Personally I don't believe the information was gotten from the Francis report."

The newspaper story by staff writer William Michelfelder said the medical source reported not a single case of polio among 440,000 children who received the vaccine.

Polio did occur in some other children who received harmless, useless shots of water in the tests, he said.

The purported official word of no polio among vaccinated youngsters—meaning a 100 per cent effective vaccine—was not borne out by other reports over the country.

Two Louisiana youngsters given the vaccine developed polio, said Dr. John P. Fox, Tulane University epidemiologist. He said the two cases by themselves meant little, for "nobody expected the vaccine to be 100 per cent."

GOP Report Contends Yalta Concessions Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—A Senate Republican Policy Committee report contended today that Franklin D. Roosevelt knew three months before the Feb. 1945, Yalta conference that Russia would enter the Pacific War.

In a 12,000-word summarization of the Yalta papers which Chairman Bridges (R-NH) said would be made available to Republican speakers, the committee staff said "the A-bomb was in Mr. Roosevelt's pocket one month before Yalta."

These statements were by way of reply to Democratic arguments it was necessary for President Roosevelt to make concessions to Marshal Stalin at Yalta in order to get Russia into the war against Japan.

President Eisenhower has said there was nothing to be gained by going back 10 years to decide if somebody was wrong or right. But Bridges and Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, said they intend to discuss Yalta on occasions they feel appropriate.

The Republican report said Americans would have to decide for themselves "whether the United States made an appalling mess of the Yalta conference," the details of which it said were "suppressed and kept secret through the Truman administration."

The GOP committee staff document asserted that, far from being a mere technician at Yalta, Alger Hiss was "given all documents and top secret files which set forth what the United States delegation planned to do at Yalta."

The policy staff denied Democratic charges that publication of the Yalta documents was "premature" but made no other reference to controversy surrounding their release.

GI Captive Of Soviets For Six Years Draws AWOL Fine Of $396

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 30 (AP)—A U.S. Army private described to a military court today the tortures he said his Russian captors inflicted while holding him prisoner for six years. After hearing his story, the court fined him $396 for being AWOL.

Pvt. William A. Verdine, 28, of Starks, La., tossed the seven-man court a snappy salute after the sentence was read. Later an Army announcement said the lanky soldier, apparently in good health and spirits, had been returned to duty.

It was his first night as a free man since a roving patrol of East German Peoples' Police picked him up Feb. 5, 1949. Until the Russians freed him last Jan. 20, he was a prisoner in Communist jails in East Germany. He also spent nearly two years as a laborer in the Soviet Union's Arctic camp at Vorkuta.

Verdine pleaded innocent when he appeared before the court of three officers and four enlisted men.

Verdine could have been sentenced to six months in jail, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances. He will not receive Army pay for time spent in Red prisons—between $10,000 and $12,000.

In his account, Verdine did not disclose the circumstances of his crossing into East Germany. He said he was constantly punished in East German prisons for protesting his imprisonment. In the prison at Weimar he was frequently punished this way:

"They stripped me of my clothes, beat, me, handcuffed me with my hands behind my back and put me into a torture chamber which had six to eight inches of water. There was ice in the water and dead rats. I was put in usually two to three days at a time.

"You see, they had my hands behind my back. Then they punched me in the face and throat, mostly in the throat. This way I fell backward and my handcuffs cut my ribs."

UAW Challenge To Reuther Fails

CLEVELAND, March 30 (AP)—Opposition forces within the CIO United Auto Workers today gave President Walter P. Reuther's leadership its most serious challenge in years. But they lost.

The anti-Reuther delegates to the UAW convention rallied behind Carl Stellato for one of four international union vice presidencies. Stellato is president of the union's 55,000-member Ford Local No. 600—biggest in the 1¼-million-member union—and for several years has been recognized as Reuther's strongest opponent.

Reuther was elected to a sixth term without opposition. Secretary Treasurer Emil Mazey won a fifth term the same way.

The Reuther slate of four vice presidents swept into office, with margins of some two or three to one, over Stellato.

Incumbents John W. Livingston and Richard T. Gosser led the field of six candidates. Close behind were the Reuther-slate nominees for two newly created vice presidencies, Norman Matthews and Leonard Woodcock.

Israeli-Egyptian Peace Resolution Approved By U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., March 30 (AP)—The U.N. Security Council appealed to Israel and Egypt today to cooperate with the U.N. truce chief in restoring order along their tense frontier. The vote was unanimous.

The Council's action was a sequel to yesterday's resolution unanimously condemning Israel for the Gaza incident in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed Feb. 28.

Israel had submitted a series of amendments, including one calling for censure of Egypt for permitting illegal border crossings, but did not press for their adoption.

The truce chief, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, will leave tomorrow for Palestine to resume negotiations with the two countries on the problem.

Today's action came at the end of the Council's fifth meeting on the current Egyptian-Israeli differences.

Both the peace resolution and the proposal condemning Israel were sponsored by the United States, Britain and France. Russia went along with the other 10 Council members.

Government To Stay Out Of Wage Issue

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said today the government will not interfere in bargaining on the guaranteed annual wage unless there is a national emergency.

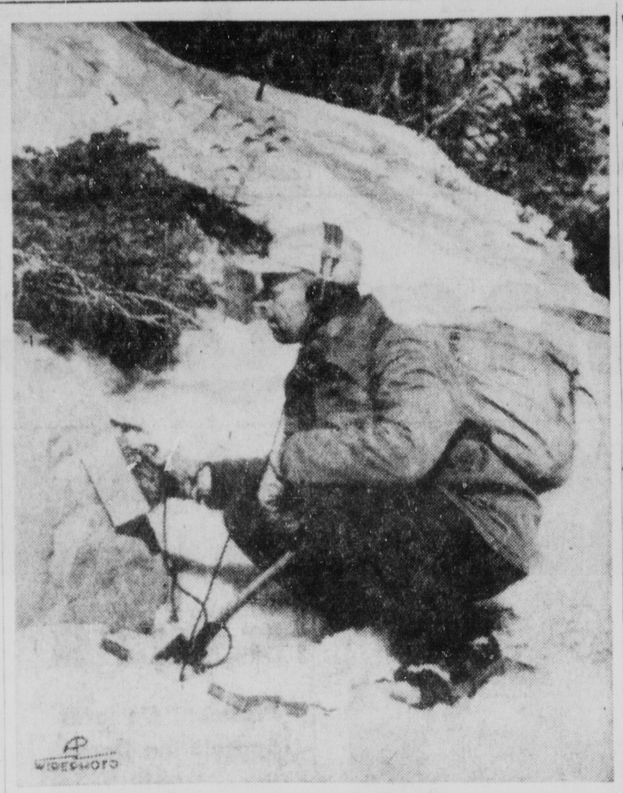

"Issues that develop between the employer and the union are a matter for the employer and the union to settle," Mitchell said in a recorded interview with radio station WOR's Martha Deane. "We will not throw the weight of the government on one side or the other."

The CIO Auto Workers Union is seeking a guaranteed annual wage for its members.

Red Ships Attacked

Captain Describes A-Sub's Performance As 'Amazing'

GROTON, Conn., March 30 (AP)—The atomic submarine Nautilus, with 3,000 miles of tests and a couple of minor mishaps behind her, is ready to join the Navy's fleet of fighting ships.

Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson, captain of the first nuclear submersible, said today builder's trials of the big, 3,000-ton boat are finished, and the next step will be a demonstration for a Navy Board of Acceptance.

Wilkinson, in a news conference held at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. where the Nautilus was built, said the submarine was given "tough trials," but the boat's performance was "exciting and amazing."

The sea trials included 69 dives and several hundred miles of travel underwater.

There was an "agonizing" moment of anxiety as the Nautilus, last Jan. 17, started backing away from her pier for the first tests.

The engineer officer telephoned the bridge to say there was a disturbing, rubbing sound in a turbine driving a propeller shaft.

Power was transferred quickly from direct steam drive to a slower electrical drive and the Nautilus cautiously completed her swing into the Thames River.

The noise, it was discovered, came from a plate rubbing caused by a loose screw. It was fixed promptly.

The next anxious moment came during the first dive.

Two small fires in electrical panels smoked up. This was straightened out immediately. Then there was one day of storm when a wave bashed in a piece of outer steel sheathing on the conning tower structure and ripped up some wood planking.

Ohioan Dies In Crash

Viet Nam Quiet As Shaky Truce Goes Into Effect

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Thursday, March 31 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's Nationalist forces and Binh Xuyen former river pirates maintained an uneasy truce today in South Viet Nam's "little civil war."

The truce was arranged by Gen. Paul Ely, French commissioner general, in talks with the American-supported Premier and a representative of Gen. Le Van Vien, Binh Xuyen commander and once czar of Saigon's organized vice.

The truce went into effect at 7 p.m. yesterday for 24 hours to give tempers time to cool before negotiations start for a firmer settlement.

Saigon was quiet, in the wake of clashes early Wednesday between government forces and mobile units of Binh Xuyen's private army that left at least 26 dead and 112 wounded.

Warned by the government and the French, foreigners, Vietnamese, and Chinese residents kept within their homes. The French expeditionary force took over protection of the French section. About 17,000 foreigners, including 1,000 members of U.S. diplomatic, military, and economic missions, live in the French section. No foreigners were reported wounded in the fighting.

There was an ominous tension around the national police headquarters in the center of the capital, still held by the Binh Xuyen. There soldiers armed with submachineguns crouched behind barricades and sandbags.

Ely conferred with Gen. J. Lawton Collins, former U.S. Army chief of staff and now President Eisenhower's special envoy to Viet Nam, on means for protecting the foreign residents.

Merger Of New York Banks Is Approved

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Two historic and powerful banking institutions joined forces today when stockholders of National City Bank of New York and First National Bank of New York approved merger terms.

Following prompt sanction by the comptroller of the currency, the merger became immediately effective.

The new institution, "First National City Bank of New York," has total resources of $7,180,000,000 and combined deposits of $6,301,000,000.

As such, the bank ranks second only to the recently merged "Chase Manhattan Bank" in New York, the nation's financial capital. California's Bank of America (N.T. & S.A.) is the only banking institution in the country surpassing both New York banks.

National City shareholders authorized the merger by a vote of 8,280,383 shares of 82.8 per cent of the 10 million shares outstanding to 17,033 shares opposed. First National stockholders approved by an 85.3 per cent margin of 256,046 shares to 4,749 shares.

German Reds To Up Highway Traffic Tax

BERLIN, March 30 (AP) — The East German Communist regime said today it will increase taxes on highway traffic between West Germany and Berlin. West German authorities expressed fears the new levies would seriously impair the isolated city's lifeline to the West.

The Bonn Parliament's Committee for National Affairs and Berlin Questions, which is meeting in Berlin this week, urged the Allies to approach the Russians in an effort to have the tax canceled. The American, British and French commandants of the divided city met with West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr to discuss the situation.

The East Zone government announcement said tolls on trucks passenger cars and other vehicles plying the 110-mile superhighway between Berlin and the West will be drastically increased Friday. In the case of some heavy trucks, the increase will be from 5 to 11 times the present tax.

Department Of Agriculture Opposes Relief Flour Plan

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—A plan to provide flour and cornmeal from surplus grain for distressed areas ran into opposition today after several congressmen called for approval.

Opposition from the Department of Agriculture during testimony before a House Agriculture subcommittee on bills offered by Rep. Jennings (D-Va) and others.

The department contended there would be difficulties from displacement of commercial marketings of flour and cornmeal.

And such a program, it contended, would put the department into a welfare program.

But backers of the plan contended it would make sense to use surplus grains to help feed hungry Americans who through no fault of theirs are suffering from unemployment.

Among those testifying for the bill, or offering statements in support, were congressmen from Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Jennings even suggested that Southwest Virginia, hard-hit along with other mining areas by unemployment, might stand a better chance for relief by seceding from the union.

He said he favors some of the foreign aid program, but will oppose it until "obligations" at home are met.

"In connection with this foreign aid program, perhaps if my district (Southwest Virginia) would secede from the union and then make application for foreign aid, the request would be approved," he said.

Laborites Keep Bevan In Party

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Britain's Labor party gave Aneurin Bevan one more chance today but warned it would take drastic action if the leftwing leader violated party discipline again.

The National Executive voted to keep Bevan in the party after the rebellious Welshman gave a written promise never again to challenge the leadership of Clement Attlee.

While he remains within the party ranks, Bevan still has to be welcomed back into Labor's delegation in Parliament. Indications were this would not happen until he asks to come back.

Failure to kick Bevan out of the party gave the Laborites at least an outward facade of solidarity—something they have not had in many months.

Today's action was in the nature of a compromise—a move to close the gaps in the Socialist party's ranks should a general election be called this summer or autumn.

According to rules Bevan must apply to get back into Labor's parliamentary delegation. His application would have to be approved by the Laborites in the House of Commons who, by a vote of 141-112 on March 16, booted him out.

Government To Stay Out Of Wage Issue

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said today the government will not interfere in bargaining on the guaranteed annual wage unless there is a national emergency.

"Issues that develop between the employer and the union are a matter for the employer and the union to settle," Mitchell said in a recorded interview with radio station WOR's Martha Deane. "We will not throw the weight of the government on one side or the other."

The CIO Auto Workers Union is seeking a guaranteed annual wage for its members.

Red Ships Attacked

Captain Describes A-Sub's Performance As 'Amazing'

GROTON, Conn., March 30 (AP)—The atomic submarine Nautilus, with 3,000 miles of tests and a couple of minor mishaps behind her, is ready to join the Navy's fleet of fighting ships.

Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson, captain of the first nuclear submersible, said today builder's trials of the big, 3,000-ton boat are finished, and the next step will be a demonstration for a Navy Board of Acceptance.

Wilkinson, in a news conference held at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. where the Nautilus was built, said the submarine was given "tough trials," but the boat's performance was "exciting and amazing."

The sea trials included 69 dives and several hundred miles of travel underwater.

There was an "agonizing" moment of anxiety as the Nautilus, last Jan. 17, started backing away from her pier for the first tests.

The engineer officer telephoned the bridge to say there was a disturbing, rubbing sound in a turbine driving a propeller shaft.

Power was transferred quickly from direct steam drive to a slower electrical drive and the Nautilus cautiously completed her swing into the Thames River.

The noise, it was discovered, came from a plate rubbing caused by a loose screw. It was fixed promptly.

The next anxious moment came during the first dive.

Two small fires in electrical panels smoked up. This was straightened out immediately. Then there was one day of storm when a wave bashed in a piece of outer steel sheathing on the conning tower structure and ripped up some wood planking.

Ohioan Dies In Crash

Viet Nam Quiet As Shaky Truce Goes Into Effect

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Thursday, March 31 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's Nationalist forces and Binh Xuyen former river pirates maintained an uneasy truce today in South Viet Nam's "little civil war."

The truce was arranged by Gen. Paul Ely, French commissioner general, in talks with the American-supported Premier and a representative of Gen. Le Van Vien, Binh Xuyen commander and once czar of Saigon's organized vice.

The truce went into effect at 7 p.m. yesterday for 24 hours to give tempers time to cool before negotiations start for a firmer settlement.

Saigon was quiet, in the wake of clashes early Wednesday between government forces and mobile units of Binh Xuyen's private army that left at least 26 dead and 112 wounded.

Warned by the government and the French, foreigners, Vietnamese, and Chinese residents kept within their homes. The French expeditionary force took over protection of the French section. About 17,000 foreigners, including 1,000 members of U.S. diplomatic, military, and economic missions, live in the French section. No foreigners were reported wounded in the fighting.

There was an ominous tension around the national police headquarters in the center of the capital, still held by the Binh Xuyen. There soldiers armed with submachineguns crouched behind barricades and sandbags.

Ely conferred with Gen. J. Lawton Collins, former U.S. Army chief of staff and now President Eisenhower's special envoy to Viet Nam, on means for protecting the foreign residents.

Merger Of New York Banks Is Approved

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Two historic and powerful banking institutions joined forces today when stockholders of National City Bank of New York and First National Bank of New York approved merger terms.

Following prompt sanction by the comptroller of the currency, the merger became immediately effective.

The new institution, "First National City Bank of New York," has total resources of $7,180,000,000 and combined deposits of $6,301,000,000.

As such, the bank ranks second only to the recently merged "Chase Manhattan Bank" in New York, the nation's financial capital. California's Bank of America (N.T. & S.A.) is the only banking institution in the country surpassing both New York banks.

National City shareholders authorized the merger by a vote of 8,280,383 shares of 82.8 per cent of the 10 million shares outstanding to 17,033 shares opposed. First National stockholders approved by an 85.3 per cent margin of 256,046 shares to 4,749 shares.

German Reds To Up Highway Traffic Tax

BERLIN, March 30 (AP) — The East German Communist regime said today it will increase taxes on highway traffic between West Germany and Berlin. West German authorities expressed fears the new levies would seriously impair the isolated city's lifeline to the West.

The Bonn Parliament's Committee for National Affairs and Berlin Questions, which is meeting in Berlin this week, urged the Allies to approach the Russians in an effort to have the tax canceled. The American, British and French commandants of the divided city met with West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr to discuss the situation.

The East Zone government announcement said tolls on trucks passenger cars and other vehicles plying the 110-mile superhighway between Berlin and the West will be drastically increased Friday. In the case of some heavy trucks, the increase will be from 5 to 11 times the present tax.

Department Of Agriculture Opposes Relief Flour Plan

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—A plan to provide flour and cornmeal from surplus grain for distressed areas ran into opposition today after several congressmen called for approval.

Opposition from the Department of Agriculture during testimony before a House Agriculture subcommittee on bills offered by Rep. Jennings (D-Va) and others.

The department contended there would be difficulties from displacement of commercial marketings of flour and cornmeal.

And such a program, it contended, would put the department into a welfare program.

But backers of the plan contended it would make sense to use surplus grains to help feed hungry Americans who through no fault of theirs are suffering from unemployment.

Among those testifying for the bill, or offering statements in support, were congressmen from Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Jennings even suggested that Southwest Virginia, hard-hit along with other mining areas by unemployment, might stand a better chance for relief by seceding from the union.

He said he favors some of the foreign aid program, but will oppose it until "obligations" at home are met.

"In connection with this foreign aid program, perhaps if my district (Southwest Virginia) would secede from the union and then make application for foreign aid, the request would be approved," he said.

Laborites Keep Bevan In Party

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Britain's Labor party gave Aneurin Bevan one more chance today but warned it would take drastic action if the leftwing leader violated party discipline again.

The National Executive voted to keep Bevan in the party after the rebellious Welshman gave a written promise never again to challenge the leadership of Clement Attlee.

While he remains within the party ranks, Bevan still has to be welcomed back into Labor's delegation in Parliament. Indications were this would not happen until he asks to come back.

Failure to kick Bevan out of the party gave the Laborites at least an outward facade of solidarity—something they have not had in many months.

Today's action was in the nature of a compromise—a move to close the gaps in the Socialist party's ranks should a general election be called this summer or autumn.

According to rules Bevan must apply to get back into Labor's parliamentary delegation. His application would have to be approved by the Laborites in the House of Commons who, by a vote of 141-112 on March 16, booted him out.

MORE LUXURY OUTSIDE

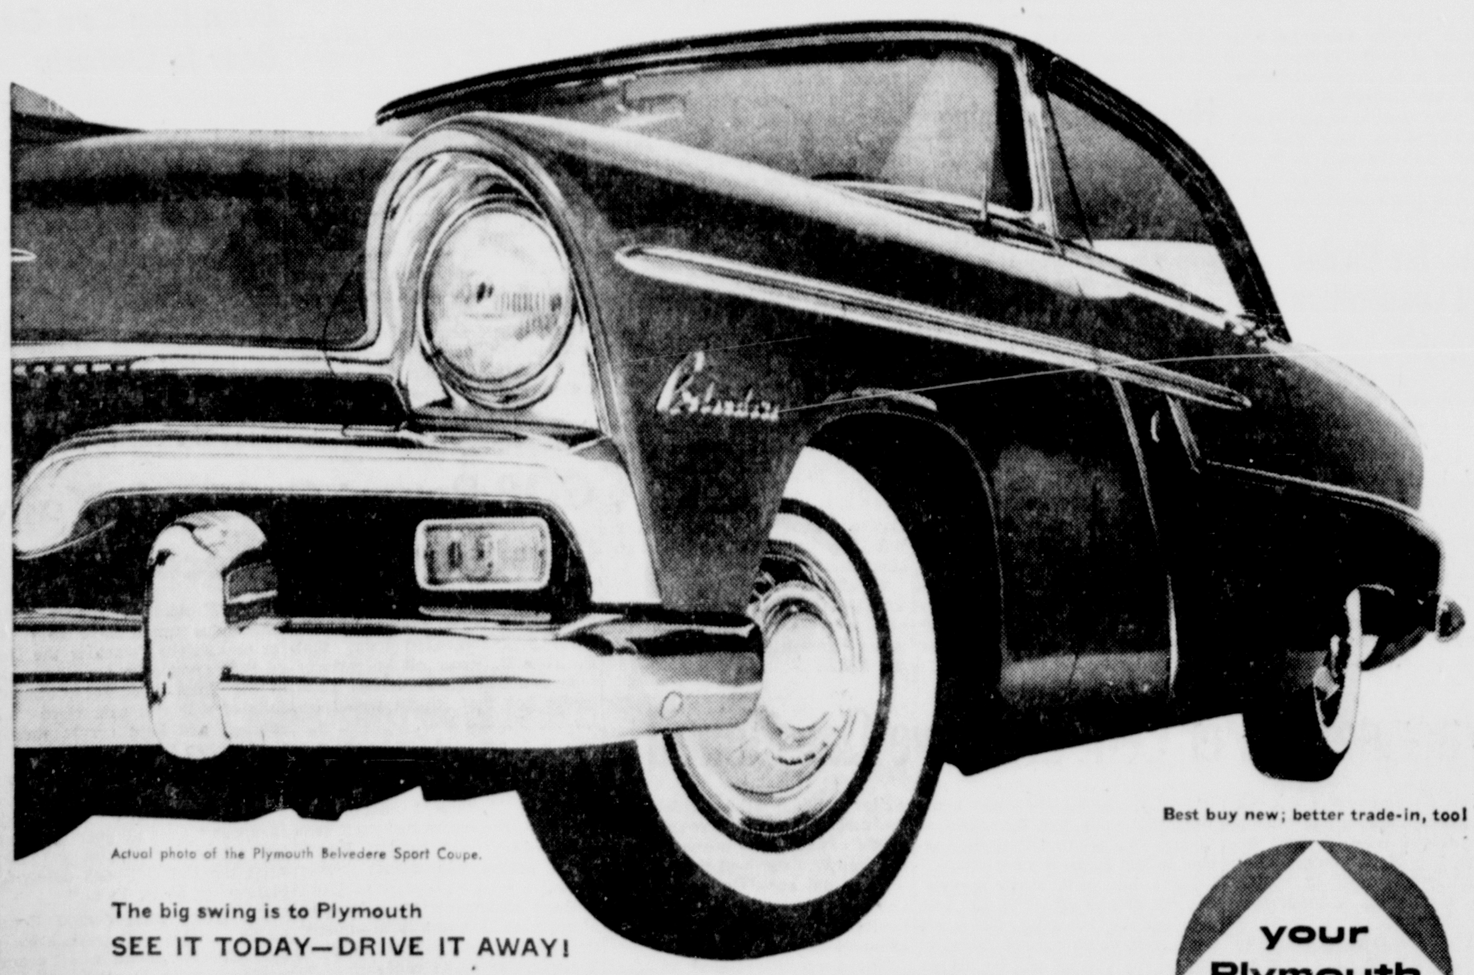

You'll be understandably proud of the long, low, flowing lines of your new Plymouth. Its 17 feet of shining steel make it the biggest car of the low-price 3 (8.4 inches longer than one car, 5.3 inches ahead of the other). And its glamorous new Full-View windshield, with swept-back corner posts, gives you wider, safer visibility than either of the "other 2" low-price cars.

MORE COMFORT INSIDE

Plymouth's greater over-all dimensions also mean more interior roominess. You get the widest front seat (by up to 2 inches), the greatest front and rear leg room (by up to 3.7 inches). Plymouth's door openings are higher and wider, too, permitting the easiest possible entry and exit. What's more, Plymouth's new trunk is mammoth—with far greater capacity than the "other 2."

Subdivision Of Baltimore Tunnel Contract Required By State, Wolfson Reports

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Louis J. Wolfson, head of Merritt, Chapman and Scott, said today "we made the best deal we could" in agreeing to a subdivision of the construction work for a four-lane vehicular tunnel under the harbor at Baltimore.

"The State of Maryland refused to give us the contract unless we divided the tunnel-building work," he told a news conference. He was here to address a regional meeting of stockholders of Montgomery Ward. He is seeking to gain control of Montgomery Ward in a proxy battle on April 22.

He said the state government "offered all sorts of excuses" in not allowing New York Shipbuilding Co. to build all sections of the tunnel.

"As an example," he said, "they told us our labor situation was uncertain. We told them that we had a bond and would be responsible for the entire operation."

The contract was awarded to Merritt, Chapman and Scott yesterday on the basis the firm subcontract eight of the tunnel sections to the Bethlehem Steel Co., plant at Sparrow's Point, and four to Maryland Drydock Co. The contract is for $29,894,081. It is estimated that New York Shipbuilding Co. will produce the nine sections of tunnel at a cost of $2,200,000.

The other 12 sections will cost about $3,250,000, it is estimated.

Wolfson said if Merritt, Chapman and Scott had refused to accept the contract with the subcontracting proviso "we might have had our way through long litigation or wound up with no contract at all. This way the work is provided immediately."

Reckord Hopes To Keep Guard Jet Unit In Md.

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of Maryland, said today he would make renewed efforts to keep a National Guard jet fighter squadron in Maryland.

The National Guard Bureau in Washington said today if the squadron doesn't find an adequate field it will withdraw the squadron from Maryland. The 104th Interceptor Squadron is ranked as one of the best in the United States.

The bureau suggested today further efforts be made to locate the squadron at Friendship International Airport or the Glenn L. Martin Co. field, both near Baltimore.

The bureau said should either of these attempts fail the jet squadron would be withdrawn from Maryland in the next fiscal year, some time between July 1, 1955 and June 30, 1956.

Walter F. Perkins chairman of the Baltimore Airport Board does not want to mix military and commercial flying. Martin has said use of its field by the guard would interfere with its own testing programs.

The squadron has had its main base at Harbor Field in Baltimore, its jet trainers at Friendship and its fighters at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

Both Harbor Field and the field at the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood have been ruled inadequate.

Leonardtown Man Drowns After Leap

LEONARDTOWN, Md., March 30 (AP)—Harold Ignatius Joy, 66-year-old retired Leonardtown man, drowned this morning after jumping off a loading dock into Britton Bay.

The sheriff said Beech Clark, also of Leonardtown, saw Joy jump off the dock into 10 feet of water and called for help.

Dr. Julian Lane, St. Marys County medical examiner pronounced Joy dead and ordered an autopsy.

Cancer Society Given Boost As Maryland Fund Drive Begins

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP)—The Maryland division of the American Cancer Society today started a campaign for $360,000 and George Stein, manufacturer of sports wear at Bloomsburg, Pa., told how the society "twice saved my life."

Stein, who is 52, developed cancer of the larynx about two years ago and had to undergo an operation which left him unable to talk.

In seven months at a Cancer Society clinic at Wilkes-Barre he learned how to talk again.

Research sponsored by the society saved his life the first time, he said, by making possible the operation.

"Twenty years ago about 95 per cent of those who got cancer of the larynx died," he explained. "Now only about 4 per cent are lost."

The society saved his life a second time, he said, by teaching him how to talk again.

The cancer fund campaign will continue through April.

WORLD'S LARGEST HOME TREATMENT FIRM TELLS TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND SCALP

"SOME OLDER METHODS ARE GOOD BUT OURS WILL DO WHAT WE SAY"—OCHS

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Cumberland, Md., Saturday only, April 2, 1955.

The private individual demonstrations will be held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel on Saturday only, April 2, 2 P. M. til 9 P. M.

OKLAHOMA CITY— March 30 — In an interview here today R. W. Ochs, internationally famous Hair and Scalp Consultant and director of The House of Winston, said: "There are 23 common hair and scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

DOUBLE GUARANTEE

"The Winston firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers this guarantee," Ochs said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Winston treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, Winston offers two guarantees. "First, if you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress in the very first 30 days after enrollment your money will be returned. Second, The House of Winston also guarantees complete satisfaction at the end of treatment, regardless of condition," Ochs emphasized.

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Winston consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Winston firm can perform wonders.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Winston firm in Oklahoma City, and a consultant will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Winston firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Ochs emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to me a miracle.

There is one thing Ochs wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all to rest of their lives," Ochs said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, and offers a lifetime guarantee, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you call Consultant Lynn Jones at the Fort Cumberland Hotel in Cumberland, Md., on Saturday only, April 2, 2 P. M. til 9 P. M. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Man Put On Probation For Murder In 1921

ELLSBURG, W. Va., March 30 (AP)—Vincenzo Pennino, 65-year-old man returned here to stand trial for a murder he said he committed 34 years ago, was put on probation today but ordered to pay the expensive costs of his extradition.

Reimbursement of the costs was a condition of Pennino's probation.

The probation period was put at two years. Pennino was given one year in which to reimburse Brooke County for its expenses in connection with his hearing.

The aging man's attorney, Charles D. Bell, of Wellsburg, said friends of the man in California have raised $400 for his defense.

Pennino pleaded guilty to the murder charge March 15. He was arrested several weeks ago in California after telling drinking companions of shooting Paul Lucia in West Virginia in March of 1921.

Pennino blamed Lucia for causing his wife's death shortly after their marriage.

He has been staying with a brother, Pete, in York, Pa., since the hearing began.

Reckord Hopes To Keep Guard Jet Unit In Md.

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of Maryland, said today he would make renewed efforts to keep a National Guard jet fighter squadron in Maryland.

The National Guard Bureau in Washington said today if the squadron doesn't find an adequate field it will withdraw the squadron from Maryland. The 104th Interceptor Squadron is ranked as one of the best in the United States.

The bureau suggested today further efforts be made to locate the squadron at Friendship International Airport or the Glenn L. Martin Co. field, both near Baltimore.

The bureau said should either of these attempts fail the jet squadron would be withdrawn from Maryland in the next fiscal year, some time between July 1, 1955 and June 30, 1956.

Walter F. Perkins chairman of the Baltimore Airport Board does not want to mix military and commercial flying. Martin has said use of its field by the guard would interfere with its own testing programs.

The squadron has had its main base at Harbor Field in Baltimore, its jet trainers at Friendship and its fighters at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

Both Harbor Field and the field at the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood have been ruled inadequate.

Leonardtown Man Drowns After Leap

LEONARDTOWN, Md., March 30 (AP)—Harold Ignatius Joy, 66-year-old retired Leonardtown man, drowned this morning after jumping off a loading dock into Britton Bay.

Sheriff Robert Mievinski and local firemen recovered Joy's body in about 10 minutes but were unable to revive him during an hour of artificial respiration.

The sheriff said Beech Clark, also of Leonardtown, saw Joy jump off the dock into 10 feet of water and called for help.

Dr. Julian Lane, St. Marys County medical examiner pronounced Joy dead and ordered an autopsy.

Bricklayer Held In Death Of Son

BEL AIR, Md., March 30 (AP)—A husky bricklayer accused of beating his deaf-mute son so severely he died, was bound over to the Harford County grand jury today on a charge of murder.

Held without bond was Eugene I. Stillman, 33, of Havre de Grace.

Magistrate George W. Williams held him in the death last Feb. 18 of his 4-year-old son Ronald. The mother, Mrs. Ruby Stillman, told police her husband beat the boy with the buckle end of a belt and kicked him Feb. 17.

Police Chief William Bullock quoted the woman that her husband was angry because Ronald refused to put on his slipper socks.

Cancer Society Given Boost As Maryland Fund Drive Begins

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP)—The Maryland division of the American Cancer Society today started a campaign for $360,000 and George Stein, manufacturer of sports wear at Bloomsburg, Pa., told how the society "twice saved my life."

Stein, who is 52, developed cancer of the larynx about two years ago and had to undergo an operation which left him unable to talk.

In seven months at a Cancer Society clinic at Wilkes-Barre he learned how to talk again.

Research sponsored by the society saved his life the first time, he said, by making possible the operation.

"Twenty years ago about 95 per cent of those who got cancer of the larynx died," he explained. "Now only about 4 per cent are lost."

The society saved his life a second time, he said, by teaching him how to talk again.

The cancer fund campaign will continue through April.

The largest denomination of United States currency is $10,000.

WORLD'S LARGEST HOME TREATMENT FIRM TELLS TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND SCALP

"SOME OLDER METHODS ARE GOOD BUT OURS WILL DO WHAT WE SAY"—OCHS

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Cumberland, Md., Saturday only, April 2, 1955.

The private individual demonstrations will be held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel on Saturday only, April 2, 2 P. M. til 9 P. M.

OKLAHOMA CITY— March 30 — In an interview here today R. W. Ochs, internationally famous Hair and Scalp Consultant and director of The House of Winston, said: "There are 23 common hair and scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

DOUBLE GUARANTEE

"The Winston firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers this guarantee," Ochs said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Winston treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, Winston offers two guarantees. "First, if you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress in the very first 30 days after enrollment your money will be returned. Second, The House of Winston also guarantees complete satisfaction at the end of treatment, regardless of condition," Ochs emphasized.

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Winston consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Winston firm can perform wonders.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Winston firm in Oklahoma City, and a consultant will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Winston firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Ochs emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to me a miracle.

There is one thing Ochs wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all to rest of their lives." Ochs said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, and offers a lifetime guarantee, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you call Consultant Lynn Jones at the Fort Cumberland Hotel in Cumberland, Md., on Saturday only, April 2, 2 P. M. til 9 P. M. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Man Put On Probation For Murder In 1921

ELLSBURG, W. Va., March 30 (AP)—Vincenzo Pennino, 65-year-old man returned here to stand trial for a murder he said he committed 34 years ago, was put on probation today but ordered to pay the expensive costs of his extradition.

Reimbursement of the costs was a condition of Pennino's probation.

The probation period was put at two years. Pennino was given one year in which to reimburse Brooke County for its expenses in connection with his hearing.

The aging man's attorney, Charles D. Bell, of Wellsburg, said friends of the man in California have raised $400 for his defense.

Pennino pleaded guilty to the murder charge March 15. He was arrested several weeks ago in California after telling drinking companions of shooting Paul Lucia in West Virginia in March of 1921.

Pennino blamed Lucia for causing his wife's death shortly after their marriage.

He has been staying with a brother, Pete, in York, Pa., since the hearing began.

Tennessee's White And Negro Juvenile Delinquents Housed In Separate Schools

By SAUL PETT

PIKEVILLE, Tenn., March 30 (AP)—The state of Tennessee houses its male juvenile delinquents in two institutions 120 miles apart.

The white boys are kept in a school on the edge of Nashville. The Negro boys are kept in a school high in the mountains of east Tennessee, far from any urban area.

The State Training and Agriculture School for Colored Boys lies 15 miles from the nearest incorporated town (Pikeville, population less than 1,000) and more than 65 miles from the nearest city, Chattanooga.

The surrounding mountain people are tough, laconic, suspicious of strangers, handy with shotguns. Although there are no walls to stop them, very few Negro boys try to escape. There's a standing $10 reward for their capture, if they try.

About two months ago, a boy ran off. Officers found him at a mountain shack, guarded by an old lady with a shotgun across her lap.

Three years ago, a 15-year-old Negro fugitive had his back filled with bird shot and was seriously wounded by mountaineers.

In 1940, school officers went out to retrieve a young escapee. They found him 25 miles away—dead. "He was shot in the neck," an officer recalled. "He was just running—not trying to break into a house or anything."

Of the institution's staff of 38, only the four schoolteachers are Negro.

The school has more than 200 boys, ranging in age from 10 to 20, in crimes from truancy to murder, in mentality from the feeble minded to the intelligent. But its "hospital" is one room, like any of the sleeping rooms, just big enough to squeeze in six or seven beds.

The "hospital" is run by a male "nurse." A doctor comes from town twice a week. He diagnoses and prescribes treatment. Without supervision, the "nurse" takes blood tests, gives penicillin and other shots, treats cuts and other injuries.

Who is the "nurse"? He is a 17-year-old Negro inmate, serving two to five years for voluntary manslaughter. He had killed a man at a dance.

"He's proven to be a good, intelligent boy," said Supt. Herbert C. Wasson. "He had first aid courses and is doing a good job. After all, if a boy wasn't right in this job, he could cause us a lot of trouble."

This year, Wasson is asking the Legislature for funds to expand recreational, vocational and educational facilities. The school is handicapped by the fact there are no Negro civic or church groups close enough to help in such activities.

The state Training and Agricultural School (for white boys) in Nashville is better equipped and better staffed in some respects, but not all.

It has a considerably larger, separate hospital staffed by two trained nurses. It has a gym, swimming pool and added advantage of being close to civic and church groups whose members help in recreational and athletic programs.

For its 260 boys, the school has larger, more cheerful classrooms and a big, well-stocked library.

Atomic License Division Set Up By Commission

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission today established a special division for licensing private industry to enter the nuclear field.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, last weekend criticized the AEC for not acting faster in issuing atomic licenses to private industry.

His remark came at a news conference after announcing his committee had established a civilian advisory panel to help "speed the proper development of peaceful uses of atomic energy."

AEC General Manager K. D. Nichols said the new division will be headed by Harold L. Price, who will shift from the post of deputy general counsel.

Nichols said Price's division "will be responsible for the preparation and administration of commission regulations dealing with the licensing of private atomic energy activities." He said Price has headed a group which has been drafting the regulations for submission to the commission.

Meanwhile, Nichols said, the AEC has issued licenses to applicants "who needed them to proceed with approved atomic energy enterprises in such fields as the construction of small research

Two Boys Perish In Tunnel Collapse

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Two 11-year-old boys were buried alive yesterday when a tunnel they had dug in a Staten Island hillside collapsed on them.

The boys, Dan Myers, and John Percoco, both of Great Kills, Staten Island, were dug out of the hillside within minutes, but efforts to revive them failed.

Physicians List Patient Irritants

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP) — Some hints on how to drive your doctor crazy were given today in a nationwide study reported to the American Academy of General Practice.

Five of the things patients do which irritate physicians were listed by W. E. Syers of Austin, Texas, a public relations executive. Syers interviewed more than 1,000 doctors in various parts of the country.

Here are the principal irritants:

"The self-diagnosis type. This patient reads all the magazines and 'keeps ahead' of the doctor on what's new in medicine.

"The long-winded patient who can't stop talking about ailments long enough for the doctor to make a diagnosis.

"The family bystander who must have complete individual reports from the doctor when a member of the family is slightly ill.

"Late afternoon drop-in patients. He drops in unannounced and forgets that the physician has four home calls to make.

"The secretary bypasser. This type wants information direct from the 'horse's mouth' even though it upsets office routine.

None of these things does the patient any good, Syers said. People who are more considerate of their doctors will get better treatment, he added.

Fun With Easter Eggs

LET HER COLOR . . . Saturday before Easter is dyeing time in every household. This little miss is making a Humpty Dumpty with safe and certified Easter egg dye, a cardboard box wall and sewing box scraps.

SPARKLE EGGS . . . After dyeing, trim with pearls, sequins, beads, rhinestones.

AP Newsfeatures

As any little girl will tell you, there will always be an Easter egg—just so long as the hens hold out.

On the Saturday before Easter all over America Mom and the children — and sometimes even Dad — congregate in the kitchen to dip and decorate eggs for the bunny's basket.

The eggs will be hard boiled. Then decorations will be gathered from the sewing basket, button box and variety store. Certified Easter egg colors make the dyes safe for small children. Little Miss Pigtails may design an egg head to represent her favorite storybook friend.

Humpty Dumpty on the wall is a favorite. The face is drawn on with waxed crayon. Legs and arms are pipe cleaners, dyed in the egg coloring and fastened with tape. Odd pieces of drawing paper, ribbon, sequins and wisps of cotton add finishing touches of beards, collars, buttons, hats. A wall for Humpty is made of white cardboard boxes pencilled with red crayon to resemble bricks. Cut box tops crosswise at intervals and press down to make seats for the egg men.

The children also can write their names on the eggs with the mystic writer which is part of most dye sets. The writing shows up white while the rest of the egg takes the color.

Conversation pieces for adults may be made in an assortment of brilliantly jeweled eggs. Tinted eggs may be begemmed with diamonds, rubies, sequins from variety stores. A glue made especially for applying imitation gems to fabrics works like a charm on the eggs, too. The imaginative woman will think of many designs such as flowers, crosses, circles, spirals and geometric patterns. Round up the broken beads around the house for a good start. These eggs make stunning table decorations, too.

BPW Club Prepares Project For Test Atomic Attack

A Civil Defense registration test featured the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club and plans were made for a Health and Safety program Tuesday night at the Central YMCA.

Besides the names and residences of the volunteer workers, their ages, religion, race work they can do, experience and qualifications are listed. The object of the project is to have a file of volunteer service available.

The club is planning to have the project in operation before the test atomic attack begins June 15.

It was pointed out that there will be five centers in Cumberland as well as one in each of the communities and Tri-Towns, covering Allegany County. For this the Business and Professional Women will appeal for volunteer help.

Miss Gerardine Pritchard presided at the meeting and the club went on record approving "George Washington Crossing" for the name of the new bridge from Riverside Park to Ridgeley.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, state chairman for the Bermuda trip, announced June 24 as the tentative date for the trip.

Fun With Easter Eggs

LET HER COLOR . . . Saturday before Easter is dyeing time in every household. This little miss is making a Humpty Dumpty with safe and certified Easter egg dye, a cardboard box wall and sewing box scraps.

SPARKLE EGGS . . . After dyeing, trim with pearls, sequins, beads, rhinestones.

AP Newsfeatures

As any little girl will tell you, there will always be an Easter egg—just so long as the hens hold out.

On the Saturday before Easter all over America Mom and the children — and sometimes even Dad — congregate in the kitchen to dip and decorate eggs for the bunny's basket.

The eggs will be hard boiled. Then decorations will be gathered from the sewing basket, button box and variety store. Certified Easter egg colors make the dyes safe for small children. Little Miss Pigtails may design an egg head to represent her favorite storybook friend.

Humpty Dumpty on the wall is a favorite. The face is drawn on with waxed crayon. Legs and arms are pipe cleaners, dyed in the egg coloring and fastened with tape. Odd pieces of drawing paper, ribbon, sequins and wisps of cotton add finishing touches of beards, collars, buttons, hats. A wall for Humpty is made of white cardboard boxes pencilled with red crayon to resemble bricks. Cut box tops crosswise at intervals and press down to make seats for the egg men.

The children also can write their names on the eggs with the mystic writer which is part of most dye sets. The writing shows up white while the rest of the egg takes the color.

Conversation pieces for adults may be made in an assortment of brilliantly jeweled eggs. Tinted eggs may be begemmed with diamonds, rubies, sequins from variety stores. A glue made especially for applying imitation gems to fabrics works like a charm on the eggs, too. The imaginative woman will think of many designs such as flowers, crosses, circles, spirals and geometric patterns. Round up the broken beads around the house for a good start. These eggs make stunning table decorations, too.

W. Va. Will Try Camps For Young Offenders

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 30 (AP)—West Virginia's initial venture into forestry camps for youthful male lawbreakers tentatively is scheduled for about July 1 in a 20,000-acre area in Morgan and Berkeley counties.

Plans for setting up the camp in Sleepy Creek State Forest were outlined after a conference today attended by Conservation Director Carl J. Johnson, Board of Control officials and Warden Orel J. Skeen of the State Penitentiary.

The project generally is to be undertaken in line with an enactment of the recent Legislature authorizing the Board of Control to establish and maintain such camps in connection with the state penal system.

Specifically, the camps are planned to provide appropriate facilities for housing of youthful male offenders amenable to discipline other than in close confinement.

President Joe F. Burdett of the Board of Control and Johnson said that tentative planning calls for the board to operate the camps, and for the Conservation Department to set up a work program.

"We are going to move into this new field very slowly and cautiously, partly because no funds were provided by the Legislature for such a program," Burdett said.

Several buildings on the Shepherd College campus at Shepherdstown which were obtained several years ago from the federal government as emergency dormitories will be available for use at Sleepy Creek.

It is planned to use facilities of the state's prison labor division and a work crew from the penitentiary to take the temporary structures apart, move them to the state forest and re-erect them.

The initial group assigned to the camp will number up to 65, and will be youths screened from offenders currently housed at badly over-crowded industrial schools at Pruntytown and at Lakin, Mason County.

Ridgeley Firemen Check Home Fire

Yesterday afternoon volunteer firemen of Ridgeley received two separate calls to the same private home located on Route 28 about three-quarters of a mile from the community.

Defective wiring was the apparent cause of the first blaze, which was confined to the attic of the home. Firemen said there was not too much fire damage, but quite a bit of water damage. The first call was received about 12:25 p. m. The volunteers got a second call at 3:30 p. m. when smoldering embers started another small blaze.

Sewer Line Is Repaired

The completion of repairs to a broken sewer line located 26 feet below the surface of Louisiana Avenue at Sheridan Place was announced by Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz.

He said crews have begun to backfill after replacing 20 feet of broken 24-inch single strength sewer line.

Andrew Heller, street superintendent, said the new section has been reinforced with concrete so it will withstand the weight, which he said probably caused the collapse of the old line.

The difficult job has taken several weeks to complete due to the depth below the surface, which has required careful shoring.

Heller recalled that the city has had to go deeper to repair sewer lines.

He said a 32-foot excavation was needed to repair a broken line at Queen and Lafayette streets which drains the Virginia Avenue Subway, and that crews had to go down 34 feet a number of years ago to make repairs at Crawford and Thomas streets.

Area Firemen Attend Anniversary Fete

Four local and area volunteer firemen officials attended the 25th anniversary of the Cabins John Fire Company near Washington over the weekend.

Attending the banquet and dance were William A. Wilson, treasurer of the State Association; John Prichard, chairman of the Board of Trustees; Cromwell Zembower past president and present secretary of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association and David E. Kirk, president of the bi-county association.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Zembower accompanied their husbands to the affair. Kirk said that members of the state association have received the new Maryland license tags which bear the letters FA before the numerals.

License tags with these letters have been issued to members for the past two years.

A funeral service for Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, 57, of 57 Offutt Street, wife of Charles Wright, who died Tuesday in Memorial Hospital as a result of second and third degree burns sustained about the lower part of her body at her home March 19, will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a. m. in Scarpelli's Funeral Home.

Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery. The body is at the funeral home.

Her husband was questioned in the State's Attorney's office and was released. As a result of the incident, Wright was fined $5 in Police Court on March 21 for two misdemeanors. Picked up Tuesday afternoon for Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick, he was freed yesterday morning with a "tongue-lashing" from Dick.

Admonished for drinking, Wright said he "swore off the stuff."

A native of Harmon, W. Va., Mrs. Wright was born October 1, 1897 and was a daughter of the late William and Ida (Nelson) Kisamore. She had lived here 40 years.

A sister, Mrs. Oscar Flanagan, of Wiley Ford, survives.

rector, pass along requests for about $295,000 more in public improvements. These projects are financed by State bond issues.

Rennie said the governor recommended $100,000 more for the Department of Correction for contributions to the Calvert and Prince Georges jails, $95,000 for two dormitories at Frostburg State Teachers College, $70,000 more for a proposed library at Salisbury State Teachers College and $30,000 for a dormitory at Bowie Teachers College.

House OKs Police Pay Hike

The House passed two bills that would cost more money by reducing the work week of state employes from 44 to 40 hours and giving State Police a $500 raise.

The work week reduction drew minor opposition because it may cost about $600,000 a year to hire 1,500 more employes. But it was forwarded to the Senate by a vote of 68-28.

In its afternoon session, the Senate concentrated on clearing its backlog of local bills postponing debate on the budget. Sens. Goodman (D-Balto 5th), Phoebus (R-Somerset) and Kimble (R-Allegany) had introduced amendments which would restore virtually most of the $1,227,000 cut from the budget by the House and Senate money committees.

W. Va. Will Try Camps For Young Offenders

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 30 (AP)—West Virginia's initial venture into forestry camps for youthful male lawbreakers tentatively is scheduled for about July 1 in a 20,000-acre area in Morgan and Berkeley counties.

Plans for setting up the camp in Sleepy Creek State Forest were outlined after a conference today attended by Conservation Director Carl J. Johnson, Board of Control officials and Warden Orel J. Skeen of the State Penitentiary.

The project generally is to be undertaken in line with an enactment of the recent Legislature authorizing the Board of Control to establish and maintain such camps in connection with the state penal system.

Specifically, the camps are planned to provide appropriate facilities for housing of youthful male offenders amenable to discipline other than in close confinement.

President Joe F. Burdett of the Board of Control and Johnson said that tentative planning calls for the board to operate the camps, and for the Conservation Department to set up a work program.

"We are going to move into this new field very slowly and cautiously, partly because no funds were provided by the Legislature for such a program," Burdett said.

Several buildings on the Shepherd College campus at Shepherdstown which were obtained several years ago from the federal government as emergency dormitories will be available for use at Sleepy Creek.

It is planned to use facilities of the state's prison labor division and a work crew from the penitentiary to take the temporary structures apart, move them to the state forest and re-erect them.

The initial group assigned to the camp will number up to 65, and will be youths screened from offenders currently housed at badly over-crowded industrial schools at Pruntytown and at Lakin, Mason County.

Ridgeley Firemen Check Home Fire

Yesterday afternoon volunteer firemen of Ridgeley received two separate calls to the same private home located on Route 28 about three-quarters of a mile from the community.

Defective wiring was the apparent cause of the first blaze, which was confined to the attic of the home. Firemen said there was not too much fire damage, but quite a bit of water damage. The first call was received about 12:25 p. m. The volunteers got a second call at 3:30 p. m. when smoldering embers started another small blaze.

Sewer Line Is Repaired

The completion of repairs to a broken sewer line located 26 feet below the surface of Louisiana Avenue at Sheridan Place was announced by Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz.

He said crews have begun to backfill after replacing 20 feet of broken 24-inch single strength sewer line.

Andrew Heller, street superintendent, said the new section has been reinforced with concrete so it will withstand the weight, which he said probably caused the collapse of the old line.

The difficult job has taken several weeks to complete due to the depth below the surface, which has required careful shoring.

Heller recalled that the city has had to go deeper to repair sewer lines.

He said a 32-foot excavation was needed to repair a broken line at Queen and Lafayette streets which drains the Virginia Avenue Subway, and that crews had to go down 34 feet a number of years ago to make repairs at Crawford and Thomas streets.

Area Firemen Attend Anniversary Fete

Four local and area volunteer firemen officials attended the 25th anniversary of the Cabins John Fire Company near Washington over the weekend.

Attending the banquet and dance were William A. Wilson, treasurer of the State Association; John Prichard, chairman of the Board of Trustees; Cromwell Zembower past president and present secretary of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association and David E. Kirk, president of the bi-county association.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Zembower accompanied their husbands to the affair. Kirk said that members of the state association have received the new Maryland license tags which bear the letters FA before the numerals.

License tags with these letters have been issued to members for the past two years.

Hearing Held On County Judgeship

A hearing on the bill that would keep two resident Circuit Court judges in Allegany County was held yesterday in an attempt to get the measure out of the Senate Judiciary Committee in Annapolis.

Speaking before the committee in support of the measure were D. Lindley Sloan, former judge of the Court of Appeals and former chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, and William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and former associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

They explained that the constitutional amendment concerning changes in the Maryland judicial system inadvertently deleted one of the two judgeships in this county.

The amendment provided for a resident judge in Garrett County, and as the circuit can have only three judges, it means that when one of the two Allegany County judges leaves office, none will be appointed to succeed him.

Walsh and Sloan contended the amount of work handled in Allegany County Circuit Court justifies a second judge.

It was reported in Annapolis earlier this week that the bill sponsored by State Senator Robert B. Kimble was destined to "die in committee."

The Senate enacted:

House Bill 133 — By the Garrett Delegation — Changing from 9 to 8 p. m. the hour after which motion pictures can be shown in Garrett County on Sundays.

House Bill 260 — By the Garrett Delegation — Authorizing appropriation of $100 to the Allega y-Garrett Tuberculosis Association by the Garrett County Commissioners.

House Bill 200 by Dels. George Hughes Jr., Noel Speir Cook and H. Hughes — Making voidable any release of claim for damages or injury as result of tort signed within ten days of infliction instead of two days.

House Bill 459 — By Dels. Estel Kelley, Charles M. See and Lester B. Reed — Permitting the State Roads Commission to regulate ingress and egress only on commercial establishments built after June 1.

The Senate concurred in amendment and enacted Senate Bill 182— By Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County — Changing the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds and to further allow computing of excess weight caused by accumulation of cinders, snow and ice in determining such cases.

The House passed:

House Bill 827 — By Del. J. J. Ashby of Garrett County — To authorize certain organizations to conduct bingo games in Garrett County.

Senate Bill 503 — By Sen. Robert B. Kimble—Legalizing the 1955 edition of the Code of Public Laws of Allegany County.

Senate Bill 529 — By Kimble — Providing more expenses for the Allegany County trial magistrates in attending meetings of the State Trial Magistrates Association.

Senate Bill 182 — By Friend — To change the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds and to further allow computing of excess weight caused by accumulation of cinders, snow and ice in determining such cases. (An amended bill).

Senate Bill 520 — By Friend — Increasing from $6 to $8 the day's pay of Garrett County Orphans Court judges.

Senate Bill 530 — By Friend — Providing for a referendum on Daylight Saving Time in Garrett County.

The governor signed:

Friends Aware Group To Hear Specialist

Miss Esther Carter, visiting teacher of the pupil personnel department of the Allegany County Board of Education, will be the speaker at a meeting of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children, today at 8 p.m. at the Cumberland Savings Bank, Virginia Avenue.

Miss Carter, who specializes in testing, will discuss "Ways of Determining Eligibility of Mentally Retarded Children for School Experiences." A question and answer period will follow, according to Mrs. John J. Long, president of Friends Aware.

Parents and others interested in helping get mentally retarded children more nearly ready for the experimental class planned next year by the Board of Education should attend, Mrs. Long said.

DeWitt Trial Postponed For Two Weeks

The trial of a Garrett County woodcutter in the death of his three-month-old daughter was postponed from yesterday until Tuesday, April 12, in Garrett County Circuit Court.

State's Attorney Stephen R. Pagenhardt of Garrett County said Hobert William DeWitt, 27, Sang Run, who has been residing in Buena Vista, Va., since January, will be arraigned on the morning the trial is scheduled.

DeWitt was indicted by the March grand jury on a charge of murdering his infant daughter.

Missing Man Is Found Dead

The skeleton of William D. (Will) Walker, 67, last seen during the 1953 West Virginia deer hunting season, has been found in the Bear's Hell section of Hardy County, W. Va., near Needmore, Cpl. C. G. Hamrick and Trooper Donald Burner of the Moorefield Detachment of State Police announced yesterday.

The skeleton was found last Friday by Samuel Clark, of Needmore, member of a search party of 12 that included the two state policemen. Identity has been established, Cpl. Hamrick said, from Walker's hunting license and remnants of clothing.

Despite the fact Walker had been missing about 16 months no report was made to authorities until about three weeks ago when a Needmore area neighbor, Lemuel Funk, notified Hardy County Prosecuting Attorney W. D. McCauley that friends had not seen Walker for more than a year.

McCauley arranged with State Police to organize a search party and the finding of the skeleton followed.

Hearing Held On County Judgeship

A hearing on the bill that would keep two resident Circuit Court judges in Allegany County was held yesterday in an attempt to get the measure out of the Senate Judiciary Committee in Annapolis.

Speaking before the committee in support of the measure were D. Lindley Sloan, former judge of the Court of Appeals and former chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, and William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and former associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

They explained that the constitutional amendment concerning changes in the Maryland judicial system inadvertently deleted one of the two judgeships in this county.

The amendment provided for a resident judge in Garrett County, and as the circuit can have only three judges, it means that when one of the two Allegany County judges leaves office, none will be appointed to succeed him.

Walsh and Sloan contended the amount of work handled in Allegany County Circuit Court justifies a second judge.

It was reported in Annapolis earlier this week that the bill sponsored by State Senator Robert B. Kimble was destined to "die in committee."

The Senate enacted:

House Bill 133 — By the Garrett Delegation — Changing from 9 to 8 p. m. the hour after which motion pictures can be shown in Garrett County on Sundays.

House Bill 260 — By the Garrett Delegation — Authorizing appropriation of $100 to the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association by the Garrett County Commissioners.

House Bill 200 by Dels. George Hughes Jr., Noel Speir Cook and H. Hughes — Making voidable any release of claim for damages or injury as result of tort signed within ten days of infliction instead of two days.

House Bill 459 — By Dels. Estel Kelley, Charles M. See and Lester B. Reed — Permitting the State Roads Commission to regulate ingress and egress only on commercial establishments built after June 1.

The Senate concurred in amendment and enacted Senate Bill 182— By Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County — Changing the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds and to further allow computing of excess weight caused by accumulation of cinders, snow and ice in determining such cases.

The House passed:

House Bill 827 — By Del. J. J. Ashby of Garrett County — To authorize certain organizations to conduct bingo games in Garrett County.

Senate Bill 503 — By Sen. Robert B. Kimble—Legalizing the 1955 edition of the Code of Public Laws of Allegany County.

Senate Bill 529 — By Kimble — Providing more expenses for the Allegany County trial magistrates in attending meetings of the State Trial Magistrates Association.

Senate Bill 182 — By Friend — To change the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds and to further allow computing of excess weight caused by accumulation of cinders, snow and ice in determining such cases. (An amended bill).

Senate Bill 520 — By Friend — Increasing from $6 to $8 the day's pay of Garrett County Orphans Court judges.

Senate Bill 530 — By Friend — Providing for a referendum on Daylight Saving Time in Garrett County.

The governor signed:

House Bill 247 — By the Garrett Delegation — Defining a Garrett County resident for the purpose of procuring an angler's license as one who has resided in the county six of the last 12 months before applying.

Junk Dealers Are Target In Court Trial

Men Sentenced In Brass Theft

The practice of Pennsylvania junk dealers in buying metal which they "usually have an idea is stolen" was brought out yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court in remarks by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Judge Henderson commented on the situation to James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, after he had sentenced two local young men to terms of up to three years in the Maryland Reformatory.

The defendants, Charles E. Swandol, 24, of 113 Offutt Street, and Elwood Edison Swanger, 25, of 608 Virginia Avenue, pleaded guilty to stealing brass valves from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad back shops here.

Criminal information against the two men was filed Tuesday in Circuit Court by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Statements signed by the defendants were read by Getty. They contained information that the two men took the brass valves from the back shops in a car owned by Swandol to the city dump.

There, they said, they broke up the valves and took the brass in Swanger's auto to Johnstown where they received $82.84 from a junk dealer for the 436 to 450 pounds.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the defendants, stated the two men had made no effort to conceal their activities and didn't expect to get off "scot free" but asked the court for mercy.

It was pointed out the two men were given six month sentences in the House of Correction by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick when they were tried in Trial Magistrates Court here on a charge of tampering with an automobile. Swanger entered an appeal, but Swandol did not, Ryan explained.

Judge Henderson said Swandol's six-month term will run concurrent with his reformatory sentence.

In regard to the junk yards in Pennsylvania, Getty explained to Judge Henderson that already Sol Glessner, operator of a business at Pocohontas, Pa., is facing a charge from Somerset County authorities. Getty said the Pennsylvania action was instigated by a report from the state's attorney's office in connection wtih another stolen metal case.

Judge Henderson had said: "Why can't something be done about these Pennsylvania junk dealers? The men buying the brass usually have an idea it was stolen."

Wins Speech Event

A senior student, Willa Royce Smith, won the annual speech contest yesterday at Allegany High School. Placing second was Carol Lannon, junior student.

Sponsored by the English Department of the school, this morning's contest was under the direction of Miss Virginia W. Dixon, English instructor. Raymond O. McCullough, principal, presented Miss Smith a gold medal, while Miss Lannon was given a silver one. The principal presided at the contest, held in the school auditorium.

The winner's selection was "What America Means To Me," and Miss Lannon discussed "Religion in the Life of a Teenager."

Man Sentenced For Assaulting Sheriff Fisher

A Sang Run man who pleaded guilty Monday to assault upon Garrett County Sheriff Paul Fisher was sentenced by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in Garrett County Circuit Court to two years in the Maryland House of Correction Tuesday.

The man, John Dillsworth, admitted having assaulted Sheriff Fisher near Sang Run, according to State's Attorney Stephen R. Pagenhardt.

A number of other cases were disposed of Tuesday in the Oakland court.

Elmer Slider of Friendsville pleaded guilty to false pretenses, in obtaining $115 from the County Welfare Board while employed. He received a one-year suspended sentence.

Roy Hinebaugh of Oakland was fined $250 after being found guilty of the sale of one pint of whisky illegally.

Martin Woodrow McKenzie of Grantsville, who pleaded guilty to breaking into a church, got one year in the House of Correction from Judge Fraley.

Troy Smith of Deer Park was found not guilty of breaking into a barn at Bethlehem and stealing a horse.

Elwood Phillippi of Friendsville was given 60 days in the Garrett County Jail on a charge of resisting arrest by Constable Olin Friend. Judge Fraley held in abeyance another charge against Phillippi of non-support of his family.

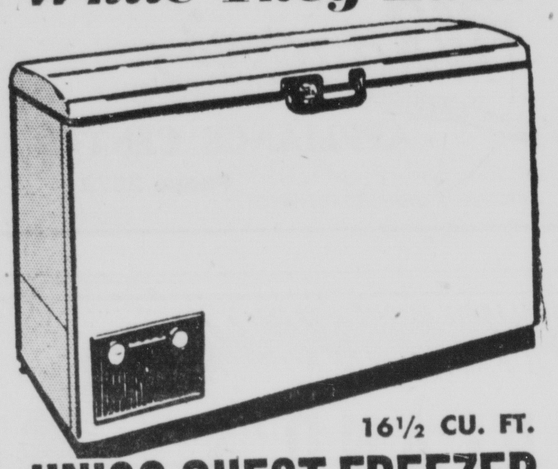

The first of Maryland's famous horse races was run in 1740, but interest centered around the "Fashion Show" rather than the horses.

Expanding Economy Has Its Problems

It's still not clear why the Senate Banking and Currency Committee called Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, to testify in its late and unlamented investigation of the stock market. He is an industrialist, not a broker or banker. But his testimony made worthwhile reading.

There is his statement about America's future: "I think," he said, "that we are on the threshold of one of the greatest periods of prosperity that this nation has ever seen."

That, coming from a man with the responsibility of planning for a great corporation operating in a basic industry, carries great weight. It is apparent he is thinking how U. S. Steel is to build its share of the 65 million tons of additional capacity the industry will add to its present plant by 1980.

How is that to be done? Steel mills cost money —more now than ever in the past. A ton of capacity costs $300. Thus 65 million tons will require an investment of $20 billion dollars in the next 25 years. To obtain new capital by the issuance of common stock, as Fairless told the committee, dividends of about 6 per cent must be paid to the investor. Because of the federal corporation tax, earnings must therefore be at least 13 per cent. That would put a heavy burden on customers.

In actuality, steel men turn to the bond route for the money they need for new capital. The annual cost of $100 in bond interest is only $2.60, about one-fifth of the cost of paying dividends on common stock. U. S. Steel might like to have its stock more widely held, might prefer to finance its growth with equity capital, but in practice it issues bonds.

Fairless cites as one reason for this unfortunate situation what he terms "the unwise and discriminatory double taxation of corporate income and dividends." But he recognizes that there is another reason—the industry, in the past, has not "provided a fair and dependable return to investors."

This hasn't much to do with the stock market, but it is an illuminating sidelight on a much larger problem, the problem of how to keep the American economy expanding, as the nation grows, to provide more goods and services to the people.

The Morals Of Yalta

Those who make a faith out of humanity, rejecting the perfections of God for the perfections of man, often fall upon the error of creating a deity out of a man. Thus, the followers of Hitler almost sanctified this curiously unattractive personality. We ridiculed the Germans for that, and the Italians for their adulation of Mussolini, but not the Russians, who had abandoned their God but carried ikons of Stalin through the streets.

In those very same years, there was a tendency in the United States to adulate Franklin D. Roosevelt as almost perfect, although in this country deification of politicians somehow did not take. We now know from the Yalta documents that Roosevelt not only had clay feet, but that he could speak out of both sides of his mouth.

Judge Learned Hand undoubtedly did not have Roosevelt in mind when he said:

". . . Over and over again such prophets succeed in converting us to unquestioning acceptance; there is scarcely a monstrous belief that has not had its day and its passionate adherents, so eager are we for safe footholds in our dubious course. How certain is any one of us that he too might not be content to follow any fantastic creed, if he was satisfied that nothing would ever wake him from the dream . . ."

But to me this applies to the whole cult of man-god worship which somehow diverts the human mind from tried experience — which often is called orthodoxy — to accepting every brilliantly spoken absurdity that a popular politician advocates as sacrosanct. Roosevelt met Chiang Kai-shek at the Pyramids on November 22, 1943, and subsequently issued the Cairo Declaration. It sounded as though all questions relating to China were resolved in favor of our allies, the Nationalists. Within a few days at Teheran, Roosevelt apparently had already forgotten the Cairo Declaration. It is true that Chiang would have been happier had he been permitted to accompany Roosevelt and Churchill to Teheran, but Stalin did not want him and for a very good reason; he planned to undo all that Roosevelt had promised Chiang. Stalin had no need for Chiang's presence at the rape of China.

The Teheran papers have not yet been published and the British do not want them to be published. But from the Yalta documents, we gain a fair insight into the nature of the Teheran conversations. At any rate at Yalta, Roosevelt and Churchill both agreed to deny to China what they had accepted as right at Cairo. And they never notified Chiang that he had been undone. They left that to history.

It was a shameless act of double-dealing, restoring all to China that Japan had taken from China since 1895, and then giving to Russia all that had been restored to China. There may be some who can condone this sort of thing, but it must be on pragmatic, not on moral grounds.

Judge Hand, in the paragraph from which I quoted a few sentences, also said:

". . . Cruel and savage as orthodoxies have always proved to be, the faithful seem able to convince themselves that the heretics, as they continue to crop up, get nothing worse than their due, and to rest with an easy conscience."

But no orthodoxy has been so cruel, so savage or so complacent that it deprives a people of such knowledge of its own danger as a rattlesnake does not withhold from its intended victim.

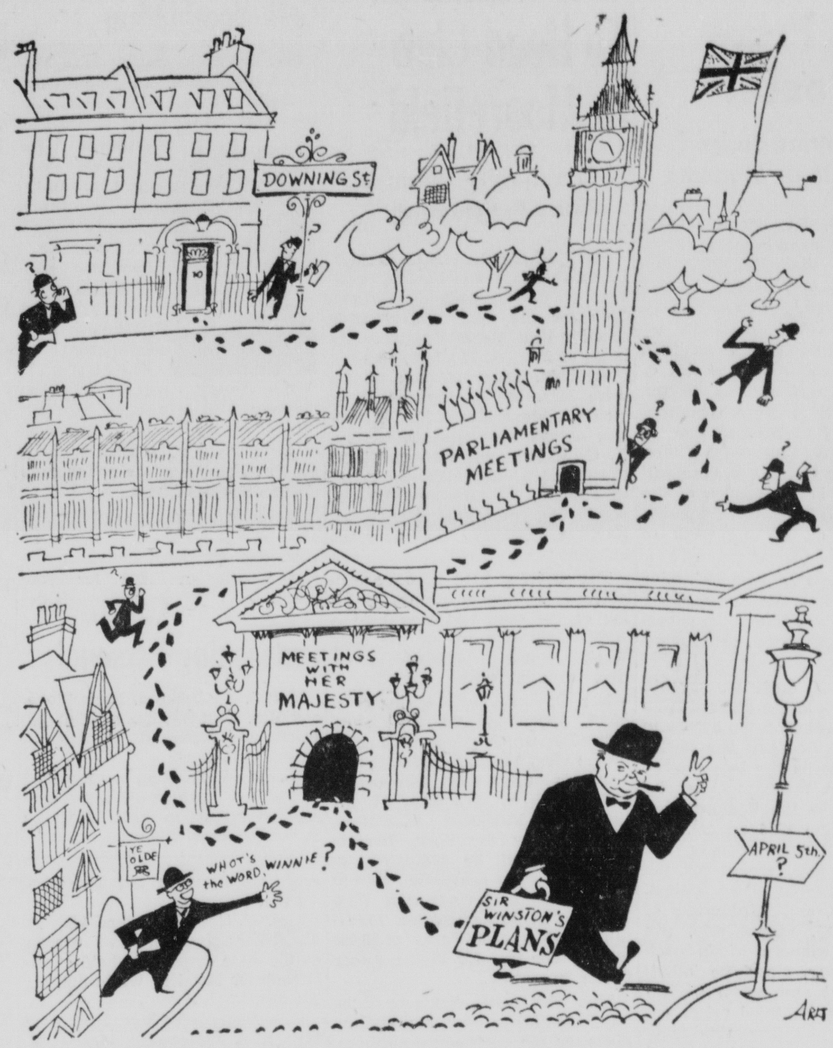

China, like Poland, was given no chance whatsoever at Yalta. Three men sat in a palace and cut paper dolls out of maps and millions of human beings found themselves enslaved and trapped.

What can be done about it? Actually, nothing. An historic mistake can only be corrected by war or revolution, by bloodshed and disorder. How can the injustice of Yalta to China be corrected? There is no way short of war. Mao Tze-tung will not say to the Chinese people: "You were betrayed at Yalta; therefore I shall break my relations with the Kremlin and restore China to the Chinese people." Nor will Soviet Russia, on the same premises, restore Poland to the Polish people. These countries are gone irretrievably.

But we in the United States can see to it that Yalta does not happen again. The Bricker Amendment or some similar amendment needs to be adopted to safeguard our country from tired, sick, cynical or whimsical presidents.

Tallyho, The Hunt's On!

Eisenhower In Paradoxical Position As Crisis Over Formosa Is Debated

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower finds himself in a paradoxical and difficult position as he confers with congressional leaders on what the United States should do in the Formosa crisis.

First he finds almost all of his top military-diplomatic advisers, including his secretary of state, in favor of defending Quemoy and Matsu even at the risk of precipitating World War III.

On the other hand, in addition to his own deep personal views against war, the President cannot get away from the political fact that he was elected on a platform to keep the nation out of war.

There may come a time in the life of any president when he has to make a fateful decision to retreat no further, a decision which may take the nation into war. Eisenhower advisers are telling him that that time has now come and that the United States must defend China's tiny offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Such defense almost certainly means the atom-bombing of the Chinese mainland with all that goes with it—war.

On the other hand, Ike's political advisers remember all to well the hitherto untold circumstances of a key political decision made during the 1952 presidential campaign. It was a decision which vitally affects the talks now going on at the White House.

Mrs. Smith Says No.

During that campaign, Republican polls showed that the women's vote was slipping away from Ike. So, at a top strategy meeting, attended by Eisenhower, Sherman Adams, Henry Luce of Life, Time, and Fortune, C. J. Jackson, an associate of Luce's who later became White House psychological adviser, and others, it was proposed that General Eisenhower move to settle the Korean War and bring the boys home.

Sherman Adams then phoned Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in Maine, told her about the slipping women's vote and asked her to make a major speech promising women that a vote for Ike would be a vote for bringing their sons and husbands home.

Mrs. Smith refused. She said this was playing dangerous politics with peace; that Eisenhower might not be able to settle the Korean War, in which case the promise would boomerang.

Later, Eisenhower himself phone Senator Smith, pleaded that he might lose the election unless the Republicans dramatized the "Peace in Korea" issue. Mrs. Smith still refused.

So the GOP high command switched strategy and had the general himself make the speech promising to go to Korea personally and settle the war.

Incidentally, India Edwards, then vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, heard about the proposal and asked Senator Smith to make a statement putting peace above politics. This again Mrs. Smith refused to do. She said this too would be playing politics—for the Democrats.

Public Remembered Promises

Republican strategists have since credited their 1952 victory to the women's vote and the campaign for peace. In fact, they have considered it such a potent issue that time after time they have urged that the White House and State Department not reverse it.

Early in 1954, for instance, Secretary of State Dulles threatened "massive retaliation" against the Reds if they continued their aggression in Indochina. Vice President Nixon also stated that the United States was ready to use U. S. land troops in Indochina. All this was part of a campaign to prepare the public for any eventuality in Indochina.

However, letters began pouring in from wives and mothers that Indochina wasn't worth risking their sons and husbands. So the planned tough policy in Indochina was reversed.

Later in the same year, GOP strategists pounded home the peace theme during the fall election. Waiting until just before elections, Republican speakers were instructed to harp on the idea that the Democrats had got the United States into three wars and that only Republicans could be trusted to keep the peace.

All over the United States identical advertisements appeared reading in part:

"Lest We Forget 3 Great Wars! Three great wars with the horror, the heartaches, the cruelly maimed bodies, and widows and orphans and sorrowing mothers. Three great wars in our generation during terms of three Democratic presidents. Here is the gruesome score."

Then followed the casualties of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

"In less than two years President Eisenhower and the Republican statesmen," continued the ads, "have opened a new vista of peace on earth goodwill to men! Republican leadership has pointed the way. The Republican party has proved that this great nation can have prosperity in peace. So when you cast your ballot on Tuesday think—

"The son you save may be your own."

Then followed a quote from Dwight D. Eisenhower: "I thank God that today there is not in the whole world an active battlefront."

"Vote straight Republican ticket" were the concluding words of this highly effective advertisement.

Will Democrats Forget?

Variations of this ad appeared all over the country. One read: "I proudly voted Republican because I was tired of watching New Deal Democrats kill our sons and daughters in a senseless hot war."

Another, appearing in the St. Charles, Ill., Chronicle of October 27, showed an ambulance carrying away war wounded. Below was the caption: "Remember the total destruction of Nagasaki? It could be total destruction of Aurora and Elgin including you. The above disaster scene could be ours. Vote straight Republican."

These ads in Illinois materially cut the commanding lead of Sen. Paul Douglas, Democrat, a Marine hero of World War II. In some other states they are credited with defeating some Democratic candidates.

But having blamed the Democrats for war, Eisenhoyer's political advisers feel he is stuck with that policy—regardless of Secretary Dulles and military advisers—unless he can persuade Democratic leaders to endorse the Dulles policy of risking war over the small islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

That's partly what the current White House meeting are all about.

NOTE — Various senators and congressmen have informed me that they would be delighted to receive more reaction from the people back home as to whether the United States should take a definite stand in the defense of Quemoy and Matsu; or whether we should defend Formosa only; or whether we should not get involved in any problems in the Far East. In keeping with the democratic principle of representative government, they would be happy to hear from their constituents.

Democrat Objective: Undermine Confidence In Ike

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The Democratic party, which is in control of both houses of Congress, may not be aware of the impression which it is conveying to the country, but, now that about three months of the present session have elapsed, it is apparent that the main objective of most of the Democrats is to undermine confidence in President Eisenhower.

It is a new experience for Dwight Eisenhower to be accused by a United States senator of "parading his religion."

It is a new experience for the man who commanded the Allied armies in Europe to be made the subject of attempted ridicule by a United States senator who raises an issue because two or three squirrels were prevented from ruining a putting green that the President uses to get the exercise which his physician prescribes.

Try To Destroy Prestige

It is a new experience for the President to have a Democratic party spokesman hint to audiences that there is something wrong with the health of Mrs. Eisenhower which might cause the President not to run in 1956—as if this, too, were a proper subject for political discussion.

But the net effect of it all is to awaken a suspicion that maybe the Democratic party speakers think they must first destroy the prestige of the President and that then they will carry the next election.

Not long ago the Congress voted itself an increase in pay, and it was a deserved increase, but it will not sit well with the people if members of Congress give a cumulative impression of being concerned with personal attacks on the man in the White House rather than with the progress of legislation needed to advance the nation's welfare.

It was Senator Neely of West Virginia, Democrat, who throughout the campaign last autumn bitterly attacked Mr. Eisenhower, and now the senator selects the convention of the CIO union, the United Auto Workers, as the place to criticize Mr. Eisenhower for having lately joined a church. Mr. Neely, according to an Associated Press dispatch this week from Cleveland, said:

Calculated Attack

"Eisenhower never joined a church until after he became president. . . . (Now) it has reached the point that one of the great papers of the country every Monday morning carries a story about Eisenhower's attendance at church the day before . . .

"Any man who tries to parade his religion that way before the public is ungodly. If that's an unreasonable and unfair statement, then make the most of it."

Here was a calculated and deliberate attack on the personal side of the President. Whether he joins a church as a member and where—as a military man, he has moved about considerably — is his own business. Certainly nobody with the least knowledge about public life can for a moment believe that Mr. Eisenhower or any other president "parades" his religion just because the newspapermen report where he goes on Sundays or any other day. They report not only on his attendance or non-attendance at church each week, but they uncover the fact that squirrels have been damaging the putting green. Mr. Eisenhower should not be accused of "parading" these things. That's the normal everyday initiative of the press as it reports on matters of reader interest.

But for United States senators to take up these incidents and magnify them for political purposes is to assume that the voters will accept such misrepresentation.

Censure Demand Unlikely

What Mr. Neely said tends to bring the United States Senate into disrepute—to revive a phrase that was heard last autumn when another United States senator said some sharp things about an Army general who refused to answer questions clearly in a congressional committee hearing. It is a safe bet, however, that no spokesman of America's "left wing" in the Senate will rise to demand that Senator Neely be "censured" or "condemned" for his intemperate remark. Those things aren't suggested when a "left wing" senator begins to swing wildly against the President of the United States.

The impression conveyed by these Democrats is that they are not seriously concerned with the business of the American people but only with headline hunting and the techniques of ridicule and personal attack. The voters will not be misled into accepting this form of political warfare as a substitute for the service the Democrats ought to be rendering to their constituents in the 84th Congress.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Don't see why Congress is waggling its trunk-rack over the fever charts of Wall Street.

It's been up-and-down like a fool on hossback ever since John Law blew that Mississippi bubble without soap.

We claim that a 50 per cent binder on stock is not margin. How can you have a margin with as much on one side as the other?

You don't put that much down on your house, your automobile, your television set or your electric kitchen.

Did you ever stop to think you don't put that much down on your life insurance, your defense bonds, your furniture or your clothes. Or don't you have to stop to think.

Climb too high on the mountain and you'll start an avalanche. When you get to the bottom the snow still belongs to you.

Back in 1929 we wrote that all we lost was paper. Too bad it had our lunch wrapped up in it.

But we got over that like a stile on a fence. When you pay 60 per cent margin you have more in the pot than you have on your plate. If Congress sends it to 75 they might as well drop that chalk and burn it in with a blow torch.

A 60 per cent margin should protect you like shin-guards in a square dance. You can ride the market both ways like it was a two-headed hoss.

We went through the 1929 slumperoo and had plenty of fun with it. Probably the best gag we wrote was a stranger walking into a hotel and asking for a room. The clerk asked, "Do you want it for sleeping or jumping?"

We think the market naturally goes up and down because of Newton's law of speculation. Matter of activity is the best stock in the world requires the least margin.

Careful Planning Can Pave Way To Ideal Retirement

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Ideal retirement is obtained through careful planning. This applies to men and women in all walks of life because withdrawal from circulation is just as hard on the ego of the business tycoon as it is on the printer. Even when Jack grows up, he may find that all play and no work will leave him a disgruntled, dull old man.

In my opinion, ideal retirement consists of shelving responsibility and doing less work. For some, this means staying on the same job on a part time basis or on a more leisurely schedule. Others give up their profession or occupation but take up things they have always wanted to do. Preparation is necessary because new jobs, abilities, and hobbies are not created overnight.

The person who is able to continue at a slower pace in the field he knows best has many advantages as he need not find new friends and interests. By taking a cut in salary and working at a slower tempo, the individual is released from a lifetime of strenuous effort yet remains self-sufficient, independent, and alert.

The opportunity came to a friend of mine recently who had contemplated retiring to a farm he had purchased years ago. He had been manager of one of the largest of a worldwide organization where the battle of ideas and the strain of "doing better than last year" demanded all his physical and mental vigor.

Suddenly a break came that would have been overlooked by the majority of executives. The company opened a smaller branch office in a neighboring suburb and a manager was needed. Here my friend could stay in the business he knew best but with only a fraction of the work. The new but smaller job requires just enough pressure and tension to stimulate a zest for living but rest and relaxation are possible when needed.

The same happened to the editor of a metropolitan daily, who took over a rural weekly newspaper. When an advertising salesman with five large accounts came to retirement age, he asked to be kept on by the firm in a lesser capacity. He was given one account and the other four went to younger men.

The firm profits because their senior salesman is available for advice. He is earning more than he would on retirement pay but can come and go at will. Meanwhile, there is more time for hobbies and philanthropies. These men live longer because they are willing to sacrifice prestige and power.

The ordinary working man, as well as the executive, also must plan along this line at least 10 years in advance. Innumerable part time jobs offer congenial activity and hobbies may turn out to have commercial value. What is done matters little so long as it brings gratification and satisfaction.

TOMORROW: Is your job your trademark?

HEMORRHOIDS

C. L. writes: What can be done for pain in piles?

REPLY

Pain usually is associated with the complication, thrombosed external hemorrhoids. The application, first of ice and then of heat, will give relief and the application of a local anesthetic will do the same. Surgical removal of the clot gives permanent relief.

CAESAREAN BIRTHS

Mrs. W. Writes: If you have one caesarean, must all future births be the same way?

REPLY

No, but they usually are because the reason for doing a caesarean the first time usually still exists when the next baby is due. Furthermore, the procedure is advisable because the scar from the previous caesarean may not hold up under the contractions of labor.

WOMEN ARE FAVORED

H. N. writes: Do men ever develop femoral hernia?

REPLY

Yes, but this type of hernia is more common in women.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

When Casey Stengel was managing a sub-par Brooklyn team—in days Ol' Case would just as soon forget—he started a rookie pitcher whose first six offerings were hammered for successive hits. Case stopped the carnage long enough to yell to his catcher, "What's he putting on that ball anyhow?" The catcher bawled back, "How the heck would I know? I ain't touched a one he's thrown!"

Joe Grizzly Bear, hunting camp scout in the Black Hills, carries a favorite picture in his wallet. It shows a stout lady all togged up in fancy hunting clothes, with a smoking rifle in her hands, and a look of unholy glee on her face. "I must have hit something," she's exulting to her husband. "Just listen to that language"

Alan Ladd, on location for a Western, came upon an Indian preparing smoke signals. "What size fire do you use?" asked Ladd. "It depends," explained the Injun, "on whether it's a local or a long-distance call."

Safest Year Of Flying

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK — (INS) — This information can be only of cold comfort to those few who have lost relatives in plane crashes of late. But on the whole the industry's record, 1954 statistics of which have just been released, is remarkably excellent.

During last year the scheduled airlines of the U. S. flew 34,000,000 passengers more than 20,411,844,000 passenger miles in this country and overseas with a passenger fatality rate of .08 per cent for every 100,000,000 miles flown.

There were 16 deaths during the 12-month period ending December 31, which adds up to one person killed for every 1,300,000,000 passenger miles flown. It was commercial aviation's safest year of flying, and upped plane travel to within one tenth of one per cent of the traditional safety record of train travel.

New Developments

Flying industry men say it's due to mechanical and technological advances such as reversible pitch propellers, automatic feathering, better tires and brakes, anti-icing systems, better understanding of the wonders of electronics, etc. etc. etc.

The total of 16 air fatalities for 1954 compares with 36,300 who lost their lives over the same period while traveling by road or on city streets. And Lord knows how many more who were killed taking a bath.

Of all the wonders of science few things baffle me more than "magnetic cores," microscopic bits of iron (100,000 to the pound) which possess the equivalent of a human memory. But a much more efficient memory than most humans have.

There's a piece about them in a magazine called Steelways, the voice of the American Iron and Steel Institute. A bit herewith:

They are known commercially as magnetic cores, the metal mental geniuses in the giant electronic brains which are now being manufactured in this country. One such electronic calculator, used in conjunction with radar warning screens stretched across the polar reaches to Canada and the U. S., can "remember" enough information pumped into it from hosts of outlying points that in a matter of seconds it is flashing orderly warnings to fighter bases, nike stations and civil defense headquarters.

Another of these brains, now functioning at White Sands, N. Mex., home of the Army's rocketeering, is being rigged not only to tell the rocketeers exactly what is happening to a missile that has sped out of sight and sound of human eye but also will remember to send out the electric impulse needed to detonate it instantly if it gets out of line.

Baffled By Science

Don't ask m how magnetic cores do it. I'm baffled by anything more scientific than driving a nail.

Trowbridge H. Stanley, a member of "The Ancient and Honorable Society of Atombombwatchers," Las Vegas Local No. 1, takes the president of that society to task for a careless assertion in print that buildings which will be subjected to next month's civil defense A-bomb test at Yucca Flat will be crowded with "dummies."

They should be called "mannequins," our man Stanley writes. He makes them, normally for less bizarre work—such as department store windows. In a stirring defense of mannequins, he declares:

"Dummies are guys who put too much vermouth in your martinis, crease the sleeves in your coat, give you a single section when you want a drawing room, and inhabit Las Vegas' casinos."

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Russian atomic scientists boast they will some day turn Siberia's frozen climate into a balmy one. However, we doubt whether the salt mines can ever be converted into summer resorts.

We wouldn't know the exact length of the spring fever season, but it must be quite a stretch.

There is a great deal of talk about improving our nation's roads for defense. Perhaps it would be better, suggests F.E.F., to leave 'em as they are—a perfect defense against any land forces.

But no orthodoxy has been so cruel, so savage or so complacent that it deprives a people of such knowledge of its own danger as a rattlesnake does not withhold from its intended victim.

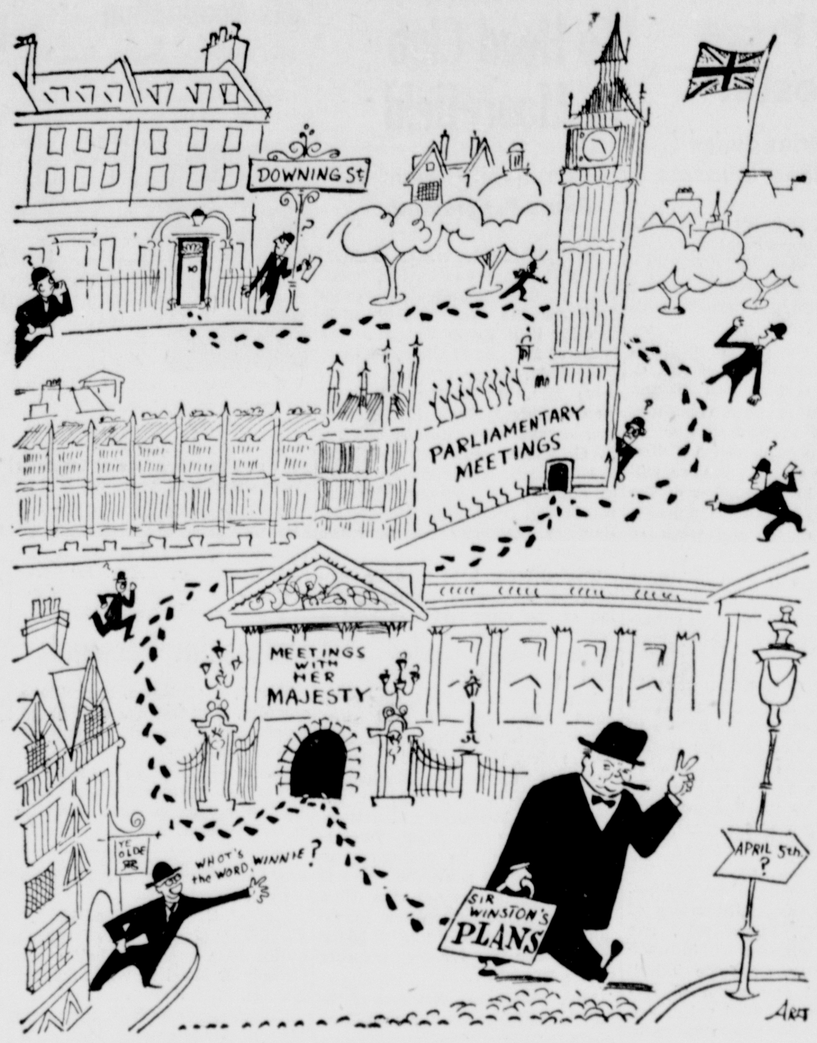

China, like Poland, was given no chance whatsoever at Yalta. Three men sat in a palace and cut paper dolls out of maps and millions of human beings found themselves enslaved and trapped.

What can be done about it? Actually, nothing. An historic mistake can only be corrected by war or revolution, by bloodshed and disorder. How can the injustice of Yalta to China be corrected? There is no way short of war. Mao Tze-tung will not say to the Chinese people: "You were betrayed at Yalta; therefore I shall break my relations with the Kremlin and restore China to the Chinese people." Nor will Soviet Russia, on the same premises, restore Poland to the Polish people. These countries are gone irretrievably.

But we in the United States can see to it that Yalta does not happen again. The Bricker Amendment or some similar amendment needs to be adopted to safeguard our country from tired, sick, cynical or whimsical presidents.

Tallyho, The Hunt's On!

Eisenhower In Paradoxical Position As Crisis Over Formosa Is Debated

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower finds himself in a paradoxical and difficult position as he confers with congressional leaders on what the United States should do in the Formosa crisis.

First he finds almost all of his top military-diplomatic advisers, including his secretary of state, in favor of defending Quemoy and Matsu even at the risk of precipitating World War III.

On the other hand, in addition to his own deep personal views against war, the President cannot get away from the political fact that he was elected on a platform to keep the nation out of war.

There may come a time in the life of any president when he has to make a fateful decision to retreat no further, a decision which may take the nation into war. Eisenhower advisers are telling him that that time has now come and that the United States must defend China's tiny offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Such defense almost certainly means the atom-bombing of the Chinese mainland with all that goes with it—war.

On the other hand, Ike's political advisers remember all to well the hitherto untold circumstances of a key political decision made during the 1952 presidential campaign. It was a decision which vitally affects the talks now going on at the White House.

Mrs. Smith Says No.

During that campaign, Republican polls showed that the women's vote was slipping away from Ike. So, at a top strategy meeting, attended by Eisenhower, Sherman Adams, Henry Luce of Life, Time, and Fortune, C. J. Jackson, an associate of Luce's who later became White House psychological adviser, and others, it was proposed that General Eisenhower move to settle the Korean War and bring the boys home.

Sherman Adams then phoned Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in Maine, told her about the slipping women's vote and asked her to make a major speech promising women that a vote for Ike would be a vote for bringing their sons and husbands home.

Mrs. Smith refused. She said this was playing dangerous politics with peace; that Eisenhower might not be able to settle the Korean War, in which case the promise would boomerang.

Later, Eisenhower himself phone Senator Smith, pleaded that he might lose the election unless the Republicans dramatized the "Peace in Korea" issue. Mrs. Smith still refused.

So the GOP high command switched strategy and had the general himself make the speech promising to go to Korea personally and settle the war.

Incidentally, India Edwards, then vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, heard about the proposal and asked Senator Smith to make a statement putting peace above politics. This again Mrs. Smith refused to do. She said this too would be playing politics—for the Democrats.

Public Remembered Promises

Republican strategists have since credited their 1952 victory to the women's vote and the campaign for peace. In fact, they have considered it such a potent issue that time after time they have urged that the White House and State Department not reverse it.

Early in 1954, for instance, Secretary of State Dulles threatened "massive retaliation" against the Reds if they continued their aggression in Indochina. Vice President Nixon also stated that the United States was ready to use U. S. land troops in Indochina. All this was part of a campaign to prepare the public for any eventuality in Indochina.

However, letters began pouring in from wives and mothers that Indochina wasn't worth risking their sons and husbands. So the planned tough policy in Indochina was reversed.

Later in the same year, GOP strategists pounded home the peace theme during the fall election. Waiting until just before elections, Republican speakers were instructed to harp on the idea that the Democrats had got the United States into three wars and that only Republicans could be trusted to keep the peace.

All over the United States identical advertisements appeared reading in part:

"Lest We Forget 3 Great Wars! Three great wars with the horror, the heartaches, the cruelly maimed bodies, and widows and orphans and sorrowing mothers. Three great wars in our generation during terms of three Democratic presidents. Here is the gruesome score."

Then followed the casualties of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

"In less than two years President Eisenhower and the Republican statesmen," continued the ads, "have opened a new vista of peace on earth goodwill to men! Republican leadership has pointed the way. The Republican party has proved that this great nation can have prosperity in peace. So when you cast your ballot on Tuesday think—

"The son you save may be your own."

Then followed a quote from Dwight D. Eisenhower: "I thank God that today there is not in the whole world an active battlefront."

"Vote straight Republican ticket" were the concluding words of this highly effective advertisement.

Will Democrats Forget?

Variations of this ad appeared all over the country. One read: "I proudly voted Republican because I was tired of watching New Deal Democrats kill our sons and daughters in a senseless hot war."

Another, appearing in the St. Charles, Ill., Chronicle of October 27, showed an ambulance carrying away war wounded. Below was the caption: "Remember the total destruction of Nagasaki? It could be total destruction of Aurora and Elgin including you. The above disaster scene could be ours. Vote straight Republican."

These ads in Illinois materially cut the commanding lead of Sen. Paul Douglas, Democrat, a Marine hero of World War II. In some other states they are credited with defeating some Democratic candidates.

But having blamed the Democrats for war, Eisenhoyer's political advisers feel he is stuck with that policy—regardless of Secretary Dulles and military advisers—unless he can persuade Democratic leaders to endorse the Dulles policy of risking war over the small islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

That's partly what the current White House meeting are all about.

NOTE — Various senators and congressmen have informed me that they would be delighted to receive more reaction from the people back home as to whether the United States should take a definite stand in the defense of Quemoy and Matsu; or whether we should defend Formosa only; or whether we should not get involved in any problems in the Far East. In keeping with the democratic principle of representative government, they would be happy to hear from their constituents.

Democrat Objective: Undermine Confidence In Ike

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The Democratic party, which is in control of both houses of Congress, may not be aware of the impression which it is conveying to the country, but, now that about three months of the present session have elapsed, it is apparent that the main objective of most of the Democrats is to undermine confidence in President Eisenhower.

It is a new experience for Dwight Eisenhower to be accused by a United States senator of "parading his religion."

It is a new experience for the man who commanded the Allied armies in Europe to be made the subject of attempted ridicule by a United States senator who raises an issue because two or three squirrels were prevented from ruining a putting green that the President uses to get the exercise which his physician prescribes.

Try To Destroy Prestige

It is a new experience for the President to have a Democratic party spokesman hint to audiences that there is something wrong with the health of Mrs. Eisenhower which might cause the President not to run in 1956—as if this, too, were a proper subject for political discussion.

But the net effect of it all is to awaken a suspicion that maybe the Democratic party speakers think they must first destroy the prestige of the President and that then they will carry the next election.

Not long ago the Congress voted itself an increase in pay, and it was a deserved increase, but it will not sit well with the people if members of Congress give a cumulative impression of being concerned with personal attacks on the man in the White House rather than with the progress of legislation needed to advance the nation's welfare.

It was Senator Neely of West Virginia, Democrat, who throughout the campaign last autumn bitterly attacked Mr. Eisenhower, and now the senator selects the convention of the CIO union, the United Auto Workers, as the place to criticize Mr. Eisenhower for having lately joined a church. Mr. Neely, according to an Associated Press dispatch this week from Cleveland, said:

Calculated Attack

"Eisenhower never joined a church until after he became president. . . . (Now) it has reached the point that one of the great papers of the country every Monday morning carries a story about Eisenhower's attendance at church the day before . . .

"Any man who tries to parade his religion that way before the public is ungodly. If that's an unreasonable and unfair statement, then make the most of it."

Here was a calculated and deliberate attack on the personal side of the President. Whether he joins a church as a member and where—as a military man, he has moved about considerably—is his own business. Certainly nobody with the least knowledge about public life can for a moment believe that Mr. Eisenhower or any other president "parades" his religion just because the newspapermen report where he goes on Sundays or any other day. They report not only on his attendance or non-attendance at church each week, but they uncover the fact that squirrels have been damaging the putting green. Mr. Eisenhower should not be accused of "parading" these things. That's the normal everyday initiative of the press as it reports on matters of reader interest.

But for United States senators to take up these incidents and magnify them for political purposes is to assume that the voters will accept such misrepresentation.

Censure Demand Unlikely

What Mr. Neely said tends to bring the United States Senate into disrepute—to revive a phrase that was heard last autumn when another United States senator said some sharp things about an Army general who refused to answer questions clearly in a congressional committee hearing. It is a safe bet, however, that no spokesman of America's "left wing" in the Senate will rise to demand that Senator Neely be "censured" or "condemned" for his intemperate remark. Those things aren't suggested when a "left wing" senator begins to swing wildly against the President of the United States.

The impression conveyed by these Democrats is that they are not seriously concerned with the business of the American people but only with headline hunting and the techniques of ridicule and personal attack. The voters will not be misled into accepting this form of political warfare as a substitute for the service the Democrats ought to be rendering to their constituents in the 84th Congress.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Don't see why Congress is waggling its trunk-rack over the fever charts of Wall Street.

It's been up-and-down like a fool on hossback ever since John Law blew that Mississippi bubble without soap.

We claim that a 50 per cent binder on stock is not margin. How can you have a margin with as much on one side as the other?

You don't put that much down on your house, your automobile, your television set or your electric kitchen.

Did you ever stop to think you don't put that much down on your life insurance, your defense bonds, your furniture or your clothes. Or don't you have to stop to think.

Climb too high on the mountain and you'll start an avalanche. When you get to the bottom the snow still belongs to you.

Back in 1929 we wrote that all we lost was paper. Too bad it had our lunch wrapped up in it.

But we got over that like a stile on a fence. When you pay 60 per cent margin you have more in the pot than you have on your plate. If Congress sends it to 75 they might as well drop that chalk and burn it in with a blow torch.

A 60 per cent margin should protect you like shin-guards in a square dance. You can ride the market both ways like it was a two-headed hoss.

We went through the 1929 slumperoo and had plenty of fun with it. Probably the best gag we wrote was a stranger walking into a hotel and asking for a room. The clerk asked, "Do you want it for sleeping or jumping?"

We think the market naturally goes up and down because of Newton's law of speculation. Matter of activity is the best stock in the world requires the least margin.

Safest Year Of Flying

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK — (INS) — This information can be only of cold comfort to those few who have lost relatives in plane crashes of late. But on the whole the industry's record, 1954 statistics of which have just been released, is remarkably excellent.

During last year the scheduled airlines of the U. S. flew 34,000,000 passengers more than 20,411,844,000 passenger miles in this country and overseas with a passenger fatality rate of .08 per cent for every 100,000,000 miles flown.

There were 16 deaths during the 12-month period ending December 31, which adds up to one person killed for every 1,300,000,000 passenger miles flown. It was commercial aviation's safest year of flying, and upped plane travel to within one tenth of one per cent of the traditional safety record of train travel.

New Developments

Flying industry men say it's due to mechanical and technological advances such as reversible pitch propellers, automatic feathering, better tires and brakes, anti-icing systems, better understanding of the wonders of electronics, etc. etc. etc.

The total of 16 air fatalities for 1954 compares with 36,300 who lost their lives over the same period while traveling by road or on city streets. And Lord knows how many more who were killed taking a bath.

Of all the wonders of science few things baffle me more than "magnetic cores," microscopic bits of iron (100,000 to the pound) which possess the equivalent of a human memory. But a much more efficient memory than most humans have.

There's a piece about them in a magazine called Steelways, the voice of the American Iron and Steel Institute. A bit herewith:

They are known commercially as magnetic cores, the metal mental geniuses in the giant electronic brains which are now being manufactured in this country. One such electronic calculator, used in conjunction with radar warning screens stretched across the polar reaches to Canada and the U. S., can "remember" enough information pumped into it from hosts of outlying points that in a matter of seconds it is flashing orderly warnings to fighter bases, nike stations and civil defense headquarters.

Another of these brains, now functioning at White Sands, N. Mex., home of the Army's rocketeering, is being rigged not only to tell the rocketeers exactly what is happening to a missile that has sped out of sight and sound of human eye but also will remember to send out the electric impulse needed to detonate it instantly if it gets out of line.

Baffled By Science

Don't ask m how magnetic cores do it. I'm baffled by anything more scientific than driving a nail.

Trowbridge H. Stanley, a member of "The Ancient and Honorable Society of Atombombwatchers," Las Vegas Local No. 1, takes the president of that society to task for a careless assertion in print that buildings which will be subjected to next month's civil defense A-bomb test at Yucca Flat will be crowded with "dummies."

They should be called "mannequins," our man Stanley writes. He makes them, normally for less bizarre work—such as department store windows. In a stirring defense of mannequins, he declares:

"Dummies are guys who put too much vermouth in your martinis, crease the sleeves in your coat, give you a single section when you want a drawing room, and inhabit Las Vegas' casinos."

Careful Planning Can Pave Way To Ideal Retirement

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Ideal retirement is obtained through careful planning. This applies to men and women in all walks of life because withdrawal from circulation is just as hard on the ego of the business tycoon as it is on the printer. Even when Jack grows up, he may find that all play and no work will leave him a disgruntled, dull old man.

In my opinion, ideal retirement consists of shelving responsibility and doing less work. For some, this means staying on the same job on a part time basis or on a more leisurely schedule. Others give up their profession or occupation but take up things they have always wanted to do. Preparation is necessary because new jobs, abilities, and hobbies are not created overnight.

The person who is able to continue at a slower pace in the field he knows best has many advantages as he need not find new friends and interests. By taking a cut in salary and working at a slower tempo, the individual is released from a lifetime of strenuous effort yet remains self-sufficient, independent, and alert.

The opportunity came to a friend of mine recently who had contemplated retiring to a farm he had purchased years ago. He had been manager of one of the largest of a worldwide organization where the battle of ideas and the strain of "doing better than last year" demanded all his physical and mental vigor.

Suddenly a break came that would have been overlooked by the majority of executives. The company opened a smaller branch office in a neighboring suburb and a manager was needed. Here my friend could stay in the business he knew best but with only a fraction of the work. The new but smaller job requires just enough pressure and tension to stimulate a zest for living but rest and relaxation are possible when needed.

The same happened to the editor of a metropolitan daily, who took over a rural weekly newspaper. When an advertising salesman with five large accounts came to retirement age, he asked to be kept on by the firm in a lesser capacity. He was given one account and the other four went to younger men.

The firm profits because their senior salesman is available for advice. He is earning more than he would on retirement pay but can come and go at will. Meanwhile, there is more time for hobbies and philanthropies. These men live longer because they are willing to sacrifice prestige and power.

The ordinary working man, as well as the executive, also must plan along this line at least 10 years in advance. Innumerable part time jobs offer congenial activity and hobbies may turn out to have commercial value. What is done matters little so long as it brings gratification and satisfaction.

TOMORROW: Is your job your trademark?

HEMORRHOIDS

C. L. writes: What can be done for pain in piles?

REPLY

Pain usually is associated with the complication, thrombosed external hemorrhoids. The application, first of ice and then of heat, will give relief and the application of a local anesthetic will do the same. Surgical removal of the clot gives permanent relief.

CAESAREAN BIRTHS

Mrs. W. Writes: If you have one caesarean, must all future births be the same way?

REPLY

No, but they usually are because the reason for doing a caesarean the first time usually still exists when the next baby is due. Furthermore, the procedure is advisable because the scar from the previous caesarean may not hold up under the contractions of labor.

WOMEN ARE FAVORED

H. N. writes: Do men ever develop femoral hernia?

REPLY

Yes, but this type of hernia is more common in women.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

When Casey Stengel was managing a sub-par Brooklyn team—in days Ol' Case would just as soon forget—he started a rookie pitcher whose first six offerings were hammered for successive hits. Case stopped the carnage long enough to yell to his catcher, "What's he putting on that ball anyhow?" The catcher bawled back, "How the heck would I know? I ain't touched a one he's thrown!"

Joe Grizzly Bear, hunting camp scout in the Black Hills, carries a favorite picture in his wallet. It shows a stout lady all togged up in fancy hunting clothes, with a smoking rifle in her hands, and a look of unholy glee on her face. "I must have hit something," she's exulting to her husband. "Just listen to that language"

Alan Ladd, on location for a Western, came upon an Indian preparing smoke signals. "What size fire do you use?" asked Ladd. "It depends," explained the Injun, "on whether it's a local or a long-distance call."

Russian atomic scientists boast they will some day turn Siberia's frozen climate into a balmy one. However, we doubt whether the salt mines can ever be converted into summer resorts.

We wouldn't know the exact length of the spring fever season, but it must be quite a stretch.

There is a great deal of talk about improving our nation's roads for defense. Perhaps it would be better, suggests F.E.F., to leave 'em as they are—a perfect defense against any land forces.

Nine Men Held In Thefts Of Copper Cable

27,640 Pounds Taken From Tucker Mines

After several weeks of investigation, West Virginia State Police in Tucker County have arrested nine men in connection with a series of thefts of copper from coal mines of that section of the state.

The copper, according to State Troopers Donald G. Peters and James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment, had been taken over a period of months from the Compass Coal Company of Thomas and surrounding area, from Ben Bush, Kempton and Pierce.

Police said the men were involved mostly in individual thefts and it was termed one of the largest groups of thefts in the county to date.

Arrested by police and arraigned Tuesday night before O. B. Collins, justice of the peace of Thomas, are:

Clifford D. Parsons, 36, of Ben Bush; Grant King Jr., 28, of Thomas; Denver T. Harper, 25, of Pierce; Willis C. Canon, 39, Edwin P. Miller, 27, and Charles H. Suder, 31, of Thomas. They posted $1,000 bond each for action of the June term of Circuit Court of Tucker County after waiving preliminary hearings.

Held in Tucker County jail is Donald Helmick, 18, of Thomas, in connection with the thefts and as a parole violator. Hearings for Delton H. Feut, 34, of Thomas, and Roy Ernest Carr, 41, of Ben Bush, will be held later.

The state troopers said that the series of thefts totaled more than 27,640 pounds of copper, including trolley cable and feeder cable.

Mrs. Whiteman To Head Club In Moorefield

Community Clean Up Plans Progressing

MOOREFIELD, W.Va. — Mrs. C. R. Whiteman was elected president of the Moorefield Woman's Club for the year 1955-56 at a meeting held Monday night at the home of Mrs. A. E. Judy, south of Moorefield. Other officers elected were Mrs. M. H. Maxwell, first vice president; Mrs. Roy Hamilton, second vice president; Mrs. K. G. Vance, secretary and Mrs. Howard Belt, treasurer. The slate of officers, as presented by the nominating committee, Mrs. J. M. Harrison, chairman, was accepted unanimously.

The meeting held Monday evening was the annual business meeting of the club and was held a week early because of the Holy Week services scheduled for the first week in April.

Mrs. C. B. Bishoff, retiring president, announced the first state Arbor Day which will be celebrated by the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs at Blackwater Falls, April 8, at 2 p.m. At this time, the Memorial Plantation, sponsored by the West Virginia Federation will be dedicated. At the recent state convention held at White Sulphur Springs, the West Virginia Federation voted to establish a Memorial Forest of 20,000 trees — one tree for each member of the federation.

Mrs. Whiteman, chairman of the city beautiful project, reported on plans for the community clean-up. Clean-Up Day in Moorefield has not been set by the City Council but when the day is determined, all members are expected to take care of their own premises first and then branch out. The Onward and Upward 4-H club will collect all soft drink bottles in an effort to clean up that particular type of rubbish. In addition to the refund price on such bottles, the Woman's Club will pay an additional amount for all collected.

Mrs. Wyndell Everett, chairman of the curtain committee, reported on the work of that committee. The clothing store will be closed April 2 with a rummage sale.

The secretary was instructed to write Governor Marland requesting that he call an extraordinary session of the Legislature to consider funds for the teacher increase and easing the situation of the State Health Department.

Mrs. Courtney Pratt read the constitution and by-laws of the organization as is required once a year.

Nine Men Held In Thefts Of Copper Cable

27,640 Pounds Taken From Tucker Mines

After several weeks of investigation, West Virginia State Police in Tucker County have arrested nine men in connection with a series of thefts of copper from coal mines of that section of the state.

The copper, according to State Troopers Donald G. Peters and James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment, had been taken over a period of months from the Compass Coal Company of Thomas and surrounding area, from Ben Bush, Kempton and Pierce.

Police said the men were involved mostly in individual thefts and it was termed one of the largest groups of thefts in the county to date.

Arrested by police and arraigned Tuesday night before O. B. Collins, justice of the peace of Thomas, are:

Clifford D. Parsons, 36, of Ben Bush; Grant King Jr., 28, of Thomas; Denver T. Harper, 25, of Pierce; Willis C. Canon, 39, Edwin P. Miller, 27, and Charles H. Suder, 31, of Thomas. They posted $1,000 bond each for action of the June term of Circuit Court of Tucker County after waiving preliminary hearings.

Held in Tucker County jail is Donald Helmick, 18, of Thomas, in connection with the thefts and as a parole violator. Hearings for Delton H. Feut, 34, of Thomas, and Roy Ernest Carr, 41, of Ben Bush, will be held later.

The state troopers said that the series of thefts totaled more than 27,640 pounds of copper, including trolley cable and feeder cable.

Bedford Girl Wins Prize For Poster

292 Entries Judged By College Students

BEDFORD, Pa.—Prize winners in the sixth annual health poster contest of the Bedford-Fulton Tuberculosis and Health Society were announced by President Fred S. Sammel.

The contest was open to pupils in the seventh and eighth grades of schools in Bedford and Fulton counties. Posters were submitted by 292 pupils in Bedford County. There were no entries from Fulton County. Prize winning posters will be displayed in the window of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, in Bedford, during the week of April 3.

The judging was done by senior students in art at the Indiana State Teachers College under the supervision of Dr. O. Kipp, department head.

Miss Phyllis Johnson, seventh grade students in the Bedford High School, was awarded top honors in the contest. Because her poster was judged to be the best entered in the contest, the Samuel Trophy will be held by the Bedford High School until the 1956 contest. The schools of Bedford County are divided into four groups for the entries and awards in the contest. First, second, and third prizes of $5, $3 and $1, respectively, are awarded to winners within each group. However, since the judges did not select any poster in any of the groups for third prize, but cited several for honorable mention, it has been decided to award a prize of $1 to each student whose poster was given honorable mention.

The poster awards are as follows: Group I—First Prize, Jane McCormick; Second Prize, Judith Ann Price; Honorable Mention, Larry Clark, Judy Fluke and Thelma Lane. All prize winners in this group are students in the Everett High School. Stock Prices Beaten Down In Late Flurry Of Selling

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The stock market was beaten down today in a late wave of selling.

Atomic stocks, which have been scoring wide gains in recent days, were hammered sharply. Some dropped 10 points. All sections of the market were involved in the selloff which included losses of 1 to around 4 points frequently.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.80, biggest fall in 2½ weeks. The average closed at $158.50. The industrial component of the average dropped back $2.10, railroads were down $2.50, and utilities lost 40 cents.

Volume mounted swiftly when the late selling got underway and came to 3,410,000 shares.

Bath Iron Works was the center of attention. Monday and Tuesday it shot ahead 15¾ in the midst of merger rumors and talk of naval atomic development. Last night the company denied merger rumors, but it declined to predict its future on atomic power for destroyers.

Sellers raced in at the start of trading today, and the stock lost 9¾ at the opening, posted a maximum loss of 11¾, and closed at 62¾ off 10.

Stock Prices Beaten Down In Late Flurry Of Selling

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The stock market was beaten down today in a late wave of selling.

Atomic stocks, which have been scoring wide gains in recent days, were hammered sharply. Some dropped 10 points. All sections of the market were involved in the selloff which included losses of 1 to around 4 points frequently.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.80, biggest fall in 2½ weeks. The average closed at $158.50. The industrial component of the average dropped back $2.10, railroads were down $2.50, and utilities lost 40 cents.

Volume mounted swiftly when the late selling got underway and came to 3,410,000 shares.

Bath Iron Works was the center of attention. Monday and Tuesday it shot ahead 15¾ in the midst of merger rumors and talk of naval atomic development. Last night the company denied merger rumors, but it declined to predict its future on atomic power for destroyers.

Sellers raced in at the start of trading today, and the stock lost 9¾ at the opening, posted a maximum loss of 11¾, and closed at 62¾ off 10.

Sisk's, Raupach's, Leo's Medics Advance To "Y" Finals

Electric Five Defeated 92-54 By Collegians

Optimists And Yoder's Also Eliminated As Tourney Ends Tonight

Raupach's Collegians, Sisk's Gulfers and Leo's Medics advanced to the finals tonight in the 10th annual YMCA-Jaycees Basketball Tournament by registering semi-final victories on the "Y" court last night.

Two of last night's contests were in the Senior Unlimited Division where Raupach's smashed a highly touted Cumberland Electric Seniors quint, led by Carl Hartman, 92 to 54. In the second Senior Division engagement Sisk's Gulfers got post Yoder's Plumbers, 79-68, to enter the finals tonight against Raupach's.

Tonight's Finals

6:30—(115 Pounds) — Athey's Gulf Station vs. Cumberland Electric Midgets.

7:30—(135 Pounds) — Hammond Agency vs. Leo's Medics.

8:30—(Junior Unlimited)—Stoops Restaurant vs. McIntyre's Confectionery.

9:30—(Senior Division) — Sisk's Gulfers vs. Raupach's Collegians.

In the 135-Pound Class opener last night Leo's Medics easily trimmed the Optimist Five, 61-29, to advance to tonight's main go with Hammond Agency.

Marple Scores 35 Points

Raupach's, composed mainly of Frostburg State Teachers College veterans, opened up a wide margin in the first quarter, and outdistanced the Cumberland Electric Seniors with little trouble.

Lanky Dave Marple poured 35 points through the hoops for the Collegians while teammate Jim Cave collected 23 to pace the victors, who are managed by Joe Wolfe.

Alderson - Broaddus star Carl Hartman registered 26 markers in a losing cause for the Ace Comer's Seniors.

Jerry Willison was the big gun for Leo's as he connected for 22 points to lead the Medic's into tonight's finals. Jerry collected nine of his team's 22 goals. High man for the Optimists was Jimmy Bean with nine points. Jack Long is manager of the Medics team.

In last night's finale Sisk's eliminated Yoder's as Jack Bergen, Ronnie Sisk, and Sullivan tallied 54 points between them. Bergen led the parade with 26 tallies. High for Yoder's was Roy Lester who had 23 points.

Stoop's Defending Champion

There were no 115-Pound or Junior Unlimited contests last night. In the smaller division Athey's Gulf Station and Cumberland Electric Midgets already had gotten to the finals.

In the Junior class Stoop's Restaurant, only defending champion left to seek a title tonight, will meet McIntyre's Confectionery. Both advanced to the finals earlier.

Following tonight's final quartet of games trophies and individual awards will be made.

SOLD TO KANSAS CITY BY YANKS — These three Yankee reserves were sold to the Kansas City Athletics yesterday by the New York club for "in excess of $50,000," Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City team, announced yesterday. They are (left to right) Pitchers Tom Gorman, Ewell Blackwell and First Baseman Dick Kryhoski. The latter recently was obtained by the Yankees in the nine-player trade with Baltimore.

Sunbury Granted Piedmont League Club Franchise

Action Admits Team Into Class B Loop

RICHMOND, Va., March 30 (AP)—Sunbury, Pa., tonight was admitted into the Class B Piedmont Baseball League.

Sunbury's entry brought the circuit up to full eight-club strength.

The announcement of Sunbury's entry was made by Judge Ben Campbell, president of the league, after he and the board of directors met for more than four hours behind locked doors here.

The action on Sunbury, which takes over the franchise held last year by Colonial Heights-Petersburg, Va., came as something of a surprise. Only Monday, the Sunbury Baseball Assn. announced it would not enter a team in the league because of lack of public interest in the Pennsylvania city. At that time, the association's board of directors voted 7-6 not to enter the loop.

However, during their meeting today, the league directors contacted the Sunbury group, headed by Allen Wolfe, by telephone. The Sunbury association agreed to poll the 26 members of its board of directors since only half that number were present Monday when the original vote was taken.

Fifteen affirmative votes were secured in the poll of the directors. Wolfe and Basse Beck, secretary-treasurer of the Sunbury association, then notified the league Sunbury would buy the Colonial Heights-Petersburg franchise from Owner Eddie Mooers and guaranteed to operate a club in the circuit.

"We kept the door open for Sunbury," Campbell said, "even after their first vote because we thought other directors of the Sunbury association should get the chance to vote."

Sunbury will have a working agreement with the Cincinnati Redlegs of the National League just as Colonial Heights-Petersburg did a year ago. Virgil Stallcup, former Cincinnati shortstop, will manage the club.

In addition to Sunbury, the league now consists of Newport News, Portsmouth, Norfolk and Lynchburg, Va., York and Lancaster, Pa., and Hagerstown, Md.

A's Buy Kryhoski, Gorman, Blackwell From New York

$50,000 Paid For Trio Of Yankees

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30 The Kansas City Athletics today bought pitchers Ewell Blackwell, Tommy Gorman and first baseman Dick Kryhoski from the New York Yankees in a straight cash deal.

The purchase price was announced as "in excess of $50,000."

Blackwell, once one of the finest righthanded pitchers in the game with Cincinnati, had been on the Yankee voluntarily retired list last year, suffered from a sore arm.

Gorman appeared in 11 games with the Yanks last year after being brought up from the then Kansas City Blues. His won lost record was 3-2 and his earned run average 3.88. He is a righthander.

Kryhoski, a veteran lefthanded first baseman, served several years in the Yankee organization before he was traded to Detroit. He came back to the Yankees in a winter deal from the Baltimore Orioles.

The cash deal came as a surprise, as Owner Arnold Johnson and his aides were believed to be hatching a trade that would send Arnold Portocarrerro, the A's righthanded pitcher, to the Yankees.

Whether the cash deal was the forerunner to a trade was not immediately determined. The Athletics are in dire need of lefthanded hitting, and Kryhoski is a power swinger who never quite lived up to expectations.

Johnson, when he bought the Athletics franchise from the Macks of *Philadelphia, said he had one mil*lion dollars to spend in improving the club. This is the first move to acquire talent, outside the organization with the exception of the draft.

Giants Win 6th Tilt From Tribe

Six Homers Belted In 12-11 Slugfest

TUCSON, Ariz., March 30 (AP) — The New York Giants and Cleveland Indians bade farewell to Arizona for the 1955 spring training season today, hooking up in a free hitting game, won by the Giants 12-11 on rookie Foster Castleman's ninth inning single.

It was the sixth victory for the Giants in 10 games with the Indians and gave them the cactus league championship. They beat the Chicago Cubs, six games to two.

New York entered the ninth trailing by a run, but tied it up on two singles, an error and a sacrifice fly. Castleman then drove across the winning run with a sharp hit to left.

There were six home runs in the game. Henry Thompson and rookie Gail Harris connected for the Giants' pair. Ralph Kiner, Bobby Avila, George Strickland and pitcher Art Houtteman hit the Cleveland homers.

Senators Down Cincinnati, 8-5

CHARLESTON, S.C., March 30 (AP)—The Washington Senators got to rookie righthander Rudy Minarcin for nine hits and six runs in four innings today, enough to insure an 8-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Senators rattled Minarcin for three hits and two runs in the first inning and sent eight men to bat during a four-run fourth. Six of the eight hit safely, but Pete Runnells—the lead off batter of the inning—was thrown out attempting to steal second base.

Runnells lead the Nats' 13-hit assault on three Red pitchers with three hits and a walk for a perfect day at the plate. He batted in two runs, with a 430-foot triple to centerfield.

Pennant Promised

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, told 200 guests at a reception here for his team that the A's will have a pennant contender within three years.

"I'm going to have this team in Kansas City a long time," said Johnson. "And we're going to get up there."

Among the guests were 75 people from Kansas City who made a special trip to see the club in spring training.

NCAA Boxing Tournament Gets Under Way Today

POCATELLO, Idaho, March 30 (AP)—Boxers from all over the United States and Hawaii punched and skipped through final workouts here today on the eve of the National Collegiate Boxing Tournament at Idaho State College.

The field dropped by one, to 61, before a blow was ever struck. Bob Rush of the University of Virginia withdrew from the 147-pound class. No reason was given.

Wisconsin will defend the team championship it won in 1954.

Seixas Advances In Net Tourney

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 30 (AP)—Vic Seixas, United States champion from Philadelphia, moved into the quarter-finals of the Puerto Rican Invitational Tennis Tournament today with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Roy Wilder.

Seixas was joined by Eddie Moulan of Trenton, N. J., who downed Andres Hammersley of Chile, 6-4, 6-2.

Herbie Flam of New York defeated Morton Stern of Philadelphia 6-3, 6-1 in the last second-round match.

Pirates Divide Twin Bill With Baltimore Birds

Pittsburgh Captures Second 2-0; Loses 3-1

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 30 (AP) — Baltimore and Pittsburgh split an exhibition doubleheader today, the Orioles taking the opener 3-1 on Hoot Ever's sixth-inning homer, before being shut out, 2-0 in the second game.

A single by Pirate George Freese with the bases loaded broke open a scoreless duel in the eighth frame of the second game which had been scheduled for seven innings.

Rookie southpaw Roger Sawyer limited the Orioles to a pair of hits in six innings and righthander Elroy Face hurled hitless ball the rest of the way.

Veteran Joe Coleman, who had had rough sledding in two previous starts for the Birds, gave up just three hits before being replaced by lefty Bill Miller at the start of the eighth inning. Miller was the loser.

Pittsburgh outhit Baltimore 8 to 3 in the opener. But Erv Palica and Saul Rogovin, the winner, were tough in the pinches.

Injury Bugaboo Cuts Derby Field, Roman Patrol Out

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—That old injury bugaboo is taking its toll of some top 3-year-old colts again this spring. With only about five weeks to go before the Kentucky Derby May 7, the opposition seems bent on making it easier for Nashua and Summer Tan to battle it out for 3-year-old honors.

Latest to join the hospital list is the Pin Oak Stable's Roman Patrol, winner of the recent Louisiana Derby who was declared out of the Louisville classic today because of an osselet in his left foreleg.

Roman Patrol, 4-1 second choice in the latest derby future book behind Nashua at 2-1, is the fifth colt high in the 1955 experimental handicap rankings to meet with mishap.

Other top 2-year-olds of 1954 now out of action include Royal Coinage, Royal Note, Bunny's Babe and Pyrenees.

Shuffle Race Close As Season Nears End

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League race ends two weeks from tonight and it could end in a photo finish for first place between Fisher & Robinette and the Cumberland Knights of Columbus.

Only 1½ games separate the leader and runner-up. The Knights have a postponed game to make up with the Frostburg Eagles on April 7.

Fisher and Robinette (63-18) plays host to the Frostburg K. of C. tonight while the local K. of C. (60-18) is being entertained at Clingerman's.

Purple Heart Club, only 2½ games out of second place, hosts Hann's Tavern while Frostburg American Legion, three games out of third place, plays at Mt. Savage V.F.W.

In other Thursday matches, Stadium Inn visits Golden Nugget, Frostburg Eagles are at the Hi Dee Club and the Cumberland Redmen invade Cas Taylor's place.

Friday night the Woodmen of the World entertain the Goodfellowship Club.

Yanks, Phils Battle To Tie

Rookie Stars Hit Hard In 10-10 Tilt

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The New York Yankees wound up the Florida phase of their spring training today in a loosely played 10-10 deadlock with the Philadelphia Phillies that was halted after 12 innings.

Both clubs had unexpected pitching troubles as their top rookie prospects were battered in starting roles. The Yanks swung for nine hits and seven runs in six innings against the Phil's Jim Owens, who hadn't given up a run in 11 previous exhibition frames.

And the Phils clubbed nine hits and six runs against Johnny Kucks, best of the Yankee youngsters, in five innings. Kucks had permitted only nine hits and four runs in 15 earlier innings.

Better Attitude Aids Jackson On Comeback Trail

Hurricane To Meet Archie McBride Next

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, hot on the comeback trail, has acquired culture and no longer thinks himself invincible.

Jackson meets Archie McBride in a televised heavyweight bout at New York's St. Nicholas Arena Monday night fresh from four straight knockouts over various nonentities since his kayo by Nino Valdes last July 14.

But this is a different Jackson than the one who said he thought he could lick anyone after his startling rise to prominence via upset victories over Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni. His demise was just as sudden as he lost to Jimmy Slade and Valdes although he is still rated seventh in the heavyweight division.

"Tommy is a year older now and he's learned more," explained Manager Louis Breidbart. "He's more gentle now and mature. He has, you know, culture."

What are the 23-year-old Jackson's plans for the future?

"Well, I. . ."

"He has two St. Nicks bouts lined up," interceded Breidbart. "We are trying to get Slade to wipe that one off. We stand a good chance of getting him."

Jackson and McBride have met once before with Jackson earning a six-round decision.

Harry Thomas Keefer vs. Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, No. 24044 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, Harry Thomas Keefer, and against the Defendant, Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill states that on June 6, 1941, Harry Thomas Keefer was married to Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, at Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland; that the parties lived together until 1942 when Magdalene A. Keefer abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff without just cause or reason; that such abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than eighteen months and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that no children were born of said marriage, and that the Plaintiff has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than one year.

It is thereupon this 16th day of March, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of April, 1955, giving notice to the said Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, of the object and substance of this bill of complaint, and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 4th day of May, 1955, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Ten Top Winners Of Golf Entered In Azalea Event

Toski Defends Title In $12,000 Tourney

By KEN ALYTA

WILMINGTON, N.C., March 29 (AP)—Bob Toski, last year's top money winner, and 10 of the 13 major tourney winners on the winter golf tour will be on hand tomorrow for the start of the $12,000 Azalea Open.

The four-day scramble over the 6,795-yard Cape Fear Country Club course will serve as a prelude to next week's classic Augusta, Ga., Masters for many of the touring stars. This is their last chance to tune up for the big one while shooting at $2,200 top money in the Azalea test.

Toski, who has been on an extensive exhibition tour since winning the world championship tournament last summer, tried his hand at one major open tournament this year, finishing in a tie for last money to win $11 at Baton Rouge, La., four weeks ago.

He comes here as defending champion, having breezed home by three shots with a 273 score last year. He led the pros last year with winnings of $65,000.

In his absence from the tournament picture such young stars as Mike Souchak and Gene Littler have come fast to win two tournaments each and take over the two top money winning spots in that order. Veteran Tommy Bolt also has been a double winner. All three are here, as well as U. S. Open champion Ed Furgol, Bob Rosburg, Shelley Mayfield and Eric Monti, other winners since the winter tour got under way last December in Miami.

After the Masters the touring stars return to North Carolina for the Greensboro Open April 14-17.

Notre Dame Spring Drills Get Started

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 30 (AP)—Notre Dame's spring football practice got underway belatedly today, with youthful Coach Terry Brennan refraining from pessimism despite loss of 14 lettermen.

That loss includes six starting linemen and two star backs.

Brennan, 26, who last season replaced retired Frank Leahy at the Irish helm, looked over 81 candidates reporting for the spring drill and asserted:

"We should have a pretty fair club. Just how good it is will depend on a lot of things—hard work and solid progress, to mention the main ones."

Sisk's, Raupach's, Leo's Medics Advance To "Y" Finals

Electric Five Defeated 92-54 By Collegians

Optimists And Yoder's Also Eliminated As Tourney Ends Tonight

Raupach's Collegians, Sisk's Gulfers and Leo's Medics advanced to the finals tonight in the 10th annual YMCA-Jaycees Basketball Tournament by registering semi-final victories on the "Y" court last night.

Two of last night's contests were in the Senior Unlimited Division where Raupach's smashed a highly touted Cumberland Electric Seniors quint, led by Carl Hartman, 92 to 54. In the second Senior Division engagement Sisk's Gulfers got post Yoder's Plumbers, 79-68, to enter the finals tonight against Raupach's.

Tonight's Finals

6:30—(115 Pounds) — Athey's Gulf Station vs. Cumberland Electric Midgets.

7:30—(135 Pounds) — Hammond Agency vs. Leo's Medics.

8:30—(Junior Unlimited)—Stoops Restaurant vs. McIntyre's Confectionery.

9:30—(Senior Division) — Sisk's Gulfers vs. Raupach's Collegians.

In the 135-Pound Class opener last night Leo's Medics easily trimmed the Optimist Five, 61-29, to advance to tonight's main go with Hammond Agency.

Marple Scores 35 Points

Raupach's, composed mainly of Frostburg State Teachers College veterans, opened up a wide margin in the first quarter, and outdistanced the Cumberland Electric Seniors with little trouble.

Lanky Dave Marple poured 35 points through the hoops for the Collegians while teammate Jim Cave collected 23 to pace the victors, who are managed by Joe Wolfe.

Alderson-Broaddus star Carl Hartman registered 26 markers in a losing cause for the Ace Comer's Seniors.

Jerry Willison was the big gun for Leo's as he connected for 22 points to lead the Medic's into tonight's finals. Jerry collected nine of his team's 22 goals. High man for the Optimists was Jimmy Bean with nine points. Jack Long is manager of the Medics team.

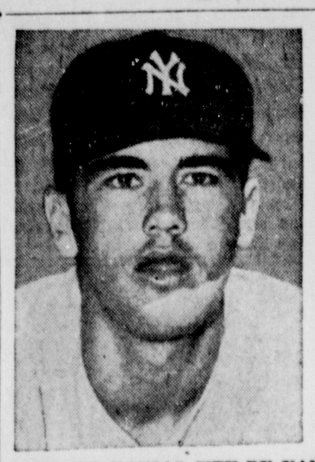

In last night's finale Sisk's eliminated Yoder's as Jack Bergen, Ronnie Sisk, and Sullivan tallied 54 points between them. Bergen led the parade with 26 tallies. High for Yoder's was Roy Lester who had 23 points.

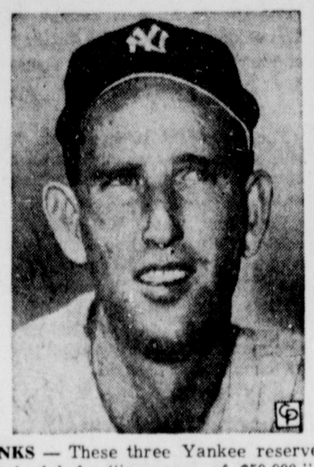

Stoop's Defending Champion

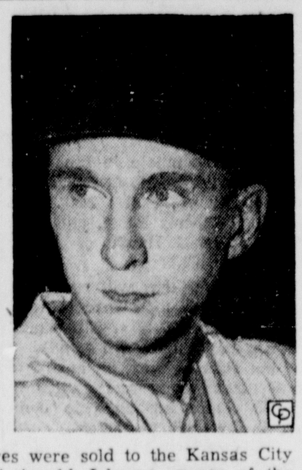

There were no 115-Pound or Junior Unlimited contests last night. In the smaller division Athey's Gulf Station and Cumberland Electric Midgets already had gotten to the finals.

In the Junior class Stoop's Restaurant, only defending champion left to seek a title tonight, will meet McIntyre's Confectionery. Both advanced to the finals earlier.

Following tonight's final quartet of games trophies and individual awards will be made.

SOLD TO KANSAS CITY BY YANKS — These three Yankee reserves were sold to the Kansas City Athletics yesterday by the New York club for "in excess of $50,000." Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City team, announced yesterday. They are (left to right) Pitchers Tom Gorman, Ewell Blackwell and First Baseman Dick Kryhoski. The latter recently was obtained by the Yankees in the nine-player trade with Baltimore.

Sunbury Granted Piedmont League Club Franchise

Action Admits Team Into Class B Loop

RICHMOND, Va., March 30 (AP)—Sunbury, Pa., tonight was admitted into the Class B Piedmont Baseball League.

Sunbury's entry brought the circuit up to full eight-club strength.

The announcement of Sunbury's entry was made by Judge Ben Campbell, president of the league, after he and the board of directors met for more than four hours behind locked doors here.

The action on Sunbury, which takes over the franchise held last year by Colonial Heights-Petersburg, Va., came as something of a surprise. Only Monday, the Sunbury Baseball Assn. announced it would not enter a team in the league because of lack of public interest in the Pennsylvania city. At that time, the association's board of directors voted 7-6 not to enter the loop.

However, during their meeting today, the league directors contacted the Sunbury group, headed by Allen Wolfe, by telephone. The Sunbury association agreed to poll the 26 members of its board of directors since only half that number were present Monday when the original vote was taken.

Fifteen affirmative votes were secured in the poll of the directors. Wolfe and Basse Beck, secretary-treasurer of the Sunbury association, then notified the league Sunbury would buy the Colonial Heights-Petersburg franchise from Owner Eddie Mooers and guaranteed to operate a club in the circuit.

"We kept the door open for Sunbury," Campbell said, "even after their first vote because we thought other directors of the Sunbury association should get the chance to vote."

Sunbury will have a working agreement with the Cincinnati Redlegs of the National League just as Colonial Heights-Petersburg did a year ago. Virgil Stallcup, former Cincinnati shortstop, will manage the club.

In addition to Sunbury, the league now consists of Newport News, Portsmouth, Norfolk and Lynchburg, Va., York and Lancaster, Pa., and Hagerstown, Md.

A's Buy Kryhoski, Gorman, Blackwell From New York

$50,000 Paid For Trio Of Yankees

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30 The Kansas City Athletics today bought pitchers Ewell Blackwell, Tommy Gorman and first baseman Dick Kryhoski from the New York Yankees in a straight cash deal.

The purchase price was announced as "in excess of $50,000."

Blackwell, once one of the finest righthanded pitchers in the game with Cincinnati, had been on the Yankee voluntarily retired list last year, suffered from a sore arm.

Gorman appeared in 11 games with the Yanks last year after being brought up from the then Kansas City Blues. His won lost record was 3-2 and his earned run average 3.88. He is a righthander.

Kryhoski, a veteran lefthanded first baseman, served several years in the Yankee organization before he was traded to Detroit. He came back to the Yankees in a winter deal from the Baltimore Orioles.

The cash deal came as a surprise, as Owner Arnold Johnson and his aides were believed to be hatching a trade that would send Arnold Portocarrerro, the A's righthanded pitcher, to the Yankees.

Whether the cash deal was the forerunner to a trade was not immediately determined. The Athletics are in dire need of lefthanded hitting, and Kryhoski is a power swinger who never quite lived up to expectations.

Johnson, when he bought the Athletics franchise from the Macks of Philadelphia, said he had one million dollars to spend in improving the club. This is the first move to acquire talent, outside the organization with the exception of the draft.

NCAA Boxing Tournament Gets Under Way Today

POCATELLO, Idaho, March 30 (AP)—Boxers from all over the United States and Hawaii punched and skipped through final workouts here today on the eve of the National Collegiate Boxing Tournament at Idaho State College.

The field dropped by one, to 61, before a blow was ever struck. Bob Rush of the University of Virginia withdrew from the 147-pound class. No reason was given.

Wisconsin will defend the team championship it won in 1954.

Seixas Advances In Net Tourney

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 30 (AP)—Vic Seixas, United States champion from Philadelphia, moved into the quarter-finals of the Puerto Rican Invitational Tennis Tournament today with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Roy Wilder.

Seixas was joined by Eddie Moulan of Trenton, N. J., who downed Andres Hammersley of Chile, 6-4, 6-2.

Herbie Flam of New York defeated Morton Stern of Philadelphia 6-3, 6-1 in the last second-round match.

Six Homers Belted In 12-11 Slugfest

TUCSON, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—The New York Giants and Cleveland Indians bade farewell to Arizona for the 1955 spring training season today, hooking up in a free hitting game, won by the Giants 12-11 on rookie Foster Castleman's ninth inning single.

It was the sixth victory for the Giants in 10 games with the Indians and gave them the cactus league championship. They beat the Chicago Cubs, six games to two.

New York entered the ninth trailing by a run, but tied it up on two singles, an error and a sacrifice fly. Castleman then drove across the winning run with a sharp hit to left.

There were six home runs in the game. Henry Thompson and rookie Gail Harris connected for the Giants' pair. Ralph Kiner, Bobby Avila, George Strickland and pitcher Art Houtteman hit the Cleveland homers.

Senators Down Cincinnati, 8-5

CHARLESTON, S.C., March 30 (AP)—The Washington Senators got to rookie righthander Rudy Minarcin for nine hits and six runs in four innings today, enough to insure an 8-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Senators rattled Minarcin for three hits and two runs in the first inning and sent eight men to bat during a four-run fourth. Six of the eight hit safely, but Pete Runnells—the lead off batter of the inning—was thrown out attempting to steal second base.

Runnells lead the Nats' 13-hit assault on three Red pitchers with three hits and a walk for a perfect day at the plate. He batted in two runs, with a 430-foot triple to centerfield.

Pennant Promised

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, told 200 guests at a reception here for his team that the A's will have a pennant contender within three years.

"I'm going to have this team in Kansas City a long time," said Johnson. "And we're going to get up there."

Among the guests were 75 people from Kansas City who made a special trip to see the club in spring training.

Pirates Divide Twin Bill With Baltimore Birds

Pittsburgh Captures Second 2-0; Loses 3-1

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 30 (AP) — Baltimore and Pittsburgh split an exhibition doubleheader today, the Orioles taking the opener 3-1 on Hoot Ever's sixth-inning homer, before being shut out, 2-0 in the second game.

A single by Pirate George Freese with the bases loaded broke open a scoreless duel in the eighth frame of the second game which had been scheduled for seven innings.

Rookie southpaw Roger Sawyer limited the Orioles to a pair of hits in six innings and righthander Elroy Face hurled hitless ball the rest of the way.

Veteran Joe Coleman, who had had rough sledding in two previous starts for the Birds, gave up just three hits before being replaced by lefty Bill Miller at the start of the eighth inning. Miller was the loser.

Pittsburgh outhit Baltimore 8 to 3 in the opener. But Erv Palica and Saul Rogovin, the winner, were tough in the pinches.

Injury Bugaboo Cuts Derby Field, Roman Patrol Out

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—That old injury bugaboo is taking its toll of some top 3-year-old colts again this spring. With only about five weeks to go before the Kentucky Derby May 7, the opposition seems bent on making it easier for Nashua and Summer Tan to battle it out for 3-year-old honors.

Latest to join the hospital list is the Pin Oak Stable's Roman Patrol, winner of the recent Louisiana Derby who was declared out of the Louisville classic today because of an osselet in his left foreleg.

Roman Patrol, 4-1 second choice in the latest derby future book behind Nashua at 2-1, is the fifth colt high in the 1955 experimental handicap rankings to meet with mishap.

Other top 2-year-olds of 1954 now out of action include Royal Coinage, Royal Note, Bunny's Babe and Pyrenees.

Rookie Stars Hit Hard In 10-10 Tilt

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The New York Yankees wound up the Florida phase of their spring training today in a loosely played 10-10 deadlock with the Philadelphia Phillies that was halted after 12 innings.

Both clubs had unexpected pitching troubles as their top rookie prospects were battered in starting roles. The Yanks swung for nine hits and seven runs in six innings against the Phil's Jim Owens, who hadn't given up a run in 11 previous exhibition frames.

And the Phils clubbed nine hits and six runs against Johnny Kucks, best of the Yankee youngsters, in five innings. Kucks had permitted only nine hits and four runs in 15 earlier innings.

Better Attitude Aids Jackson On Comeback Trail

Hurricane To Meet Archie McBride Next

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, hot on the comeback trail, has acquired culture and no longer thinks himself invincible.

Jackson meets Archie McBride in a televised heavyweight bout at New York's St. Nicholas Arena Monday night fresh from four straight knockouts over various nonentities since his kayo by Nino Valdes last July 14.

But this is a different Jackson than the one who said he thought he could lick anyone after his startling rise to prominence via upset victories over Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni. His demise was just as sudden as he lost to Jimmy Slade and Valdes although he is still rated seventh in the heavyweight division.

"Tommy is a year older now and he's learned more," explained Manager Louis Breidbart. "He's more gentle now and mature. He has, you know, culture."

What are the 23-year-old Jackson's plans for the future?

"Well, I. . ."

"He has two St. Nicks bouts lined up," interceded Breidbart. "We are trying to get Slade to wipe that one off. We stand a good chance of getting him."

Jackson and McBride have met once before with Jackson earning a six-round decision.

Harry Thomas Keefer vs. Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, No. 24044 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, Harry Thomas Keefer, and against the Defendant, Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill states that on June 6, 1941, Harry Thomas Keefer was married to Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, at Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland; that the parties lived together until 1942 when Magdalene A. Keefer abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff without just cause or reason; that such abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than eighteen months and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that no children were born of said marriage, and that the Plaintiff has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than one year.

It is thereupon this 16th day of March, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of April, 1955, giving notice to the said Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, of the object and substance of this bill of complaint, and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 4th day of May, 1955, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Nick Shuk Captures Bowie Feature Aboard Side Saddle

HEADING FOR TOP - - - By Alan Maver

Samuel Park, Stable Owner, Dies At Track

Horseman, 63, Had Heart Attack; Jockey Walter Blum Suspended

BOWIE, Md., March 30 (AP)—Nick Shuk, benefitting from the 10-day suspension handed Bill Hartack yesterday, booted home a pair of winners including Henry H. Hecht's Side Saddle in the featured fifth race at Bowie race track this afternoon.

Installed $4.80 for $2 favorite by the crowd of 10,733 fans on this mild, spring day, Side Saddle, a 6-year-old daughter of Holdall, was much the best in the mile and an eighth race and her time of 1.52 4/5 was the best of the meeting.

Bigdome, a Hecht castoff now owned by Henry Bowyer, was second, four lengths in front of Parlor Pink.

Samuel Park, Philadelphia owner of the Parkman Stable, died at his clubhouse seat only moments before his Brau Imp romped to victory in the eighth race.

Wished Jockey Luck

Park, 63, had wished Jockey Ray Mikkonen luck a few minutes before in the paddock. Park watched his colorbearer saddled, returned to the clubhouse, but died apparently of a heart attack before seeing his horse win.

He was pronounced dead at the track hospital by Dr. S. McCeney, track physician in attendance.

Brau Imp sped to a three and a half length victory in the mile and a sixteenth test and paid $12.20.

Aubrey Snellings, who started off the meeting as an outrider, continued his saddle comeback by booting home a $31.20 for $2 winner in the 4½-furlong third race.

Snellings was astride Handspring, trained by J. Bowes Bond and owned by Mrs. Bond. The 2-year-old filly won by three lengths from Noble Mateador with the favorite, Powder Cap, a length farther back in third position.

Powder Cap was claimed from the race for $7,500 from the Auburn Farm.

The daily double (Nos. 7 and 9) was worth $32.20 with Blue Canary and Short Skirts accounting for the first and second races, respectively.

Blum Is Suspended

Jockey Walter Blum became the second rider to be set down by the stewards at this meeting. He begins a 10-day suspension tomorrow for a careless ride aboard Revenooer in yesterday's first race. Revenooer finished second but was disqualified for causing a jam at the first turn. Blum has ridden seven winners this meeting. Bill Hartack, third leading rider in the country, yesterday was suspended for 10 days.

Today's mutuel handle was $1,024,087.

PARKS AIR FORCE BASE, Cal., March 30 (AP)—Young Gil Cadilli, opening a cut over Willie Pep's right eye in the fourth round, slowed the veteran featherweight down tonight to win a split decision in their 10 round nationally televised fight before 3,800 servicemen at this Air Force base.

Ft. Wayne Fights Jinx When NBA Finals Open Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Fort Wayne will be facing a jinx while the Syracuse Nationals will be fighting over confidence when they meet here tomorrow night for the first game in the final playoffs of the National Basketball Assn.

Fort Wayne never has won an NBA game in Syracuse. The Nats have whipped the Pistons 29 times, losing eight, since Al Cervi took over the Syracuse coaching duties.

This season Syracuse beat Fort Wayne seven out of nine regular-season games. But the teams shared overall honors, finishing in a tie for first place in the NBA.

Each finished first in its NBA division.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—"A baseball club is as strong as its bench. That's an old axiom and I heartily endorse it. I think we'll have a strong bench this year."

Charlie Grimm, the 36-years-in-baseball manager of the Milwaukee Braves, made the comments in prefacing his remarks about the 1955 Braves, training here.

"We have good pitching and I think we'll get off to a better start this year," Jolly Cholly continued.

"We didn't make hardly any runs the first half of last season. The pitching, however, was excellent. Our trouble: We didn't start to click until after the All-Star game."

Grimm, forthright in his comments, refused to base the Braves' failure to overtake the Dodgers and the Giants on the injuries suffered last season but admitted they were rough.

Bobby Thomson, the prize outfielder acquired from the Giants in the Johnny Antonelli deal, broke his ankle in spring training and he did not return until late in the season.

EDDIE MATHEWS, the slugging third sacker, was hit on the hand by Hal Jeffcoat and he missed a flock of games. Henry Aaron, the rookie star of the 1954 club, did a fine job as replacement for Thomson and then, in the stretch drive, he also broke his ankle.

Andy Pafko, another star outfielder, also was lost for a stretch and Joe Adcock, the first sacker who enjoyed one of his finest years last season, also missed nearly two dozen games.

The Braves of 1955, at this stage, are a sound ball club with good pitching, a strong bench at virtually every position but a little short or catching.

Grimm says he plans to carry but two catchers but posed the question of possible trouble if the No. 1 man, Del Crandall, who caught 138 games last year, should get hurt. The No. 2 catcher is Charlie White, who got into 50 games last year. A rookie from Atlanta, Jack Parks, is being looked at.

Grimm has 22 pitchers on the roster this spring and some heavy cutting will have to be done for the squad overall is a big one.

Charlie's front line is headed by Warren Spahn, a 21-game winner again last year; Lew Burdette, who was 15-14; the 6-foot 8-inch giant, Gene Conley, who finally came through for the Braves with a 14-9 record; Bob Buhl and Chet Nichols.

NICHOLS, who had a fine season before he went into the service and then came back to the club last year and had a mediocre 9-11 mark, is described by the Braves' manager as "ready again . . . definitely a major league pitcher and he'll help us this summer."

Grimm plans to use Ernie Johnson and Dave Jolly, the hard-working righthanders who saw duty in 87 games between them last year, as his bullpen corps again.

Other returning hurlers are No-Hit Jim Wilson and the bonus baby, Joey Jay, who had little chance to show much last year as he saw only 18 innings of action.

Among the new pitchers being given a second look are Don McMahan, righthander who won eight and lost five for Atlanta but appears to have the best chance; Roberto Vargas, a southpaw from Puerto Rico who had a 12-13 mark with Reading and Charley Gorin, another southpaw who pitched for Toledo.

George Crowe, the big first sacker who was with the Braves in 1953 and then was sent to Toledo where he hit 34 homers and batted .334 last season, will be ready to help out at first if Adcock needs any help. Grimm plans to carry the two first basemen.

JOHNNY LOGAN is the shortstop and Mathews the third base operative. Danny O'Connell, an all-around infield performer, is the second-sacker unless Jack Dittmer, who filled in for Mathews last year, can unseat him.

For infield bench help Jolly Cholly has the veteran Roy Smalley, who looks better this spring; Mel Roach, the other bonus player on the club who must be kept at least until July and two well-liked rookies, Bill Caro, who had a good year at Jacksonville and Al Facchini, who did well at Corpus Christi.

Caro is a third sacker and Facchini a shortstop.

Assuming Thomson has completely recovered from the leg injury he will be in one outfield spot, Bill Bruton, the speed merchant, in another and Henry Aaron or Andy Pafko in the third. Jim Pendleton, another all-around workman, is on hand to fill out in the outfield or he can play third base or shortstop.

One of the brightest of the outfield prospects is Chuck Tanner, a lefty swinger from Atlanta where he batted in 101 runs while compiling a .323 average. Tanner will be kept.

The National League race, says Grimm, will be a "terrific struggle."

Rugged Alumni To Battle Terps

Beightol Gets Nod As Varsity Quarter

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 30 (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum sends his 1955 University of Maryland football team against an alumni outfit composed of top flight professional and former college talent next Saturday.

Bernie Faloney, a standout on the 1953 national championship team from Maryland, will be calling signals in the backfield that Tatum two years ago called the "best I have ever seen."

With Faloney, who led Edmonton to the Grey Cup Title in the Canadian League last year, will be Chet Hanulak, now with the Cleveland Browns; Dick Nolan, of the New York Giants, and Ralph Felton of the Washington Redskins.

The four were the spark behind Maryland's 1953 national king pins. Player-Coach Ray Krouse will have six of the seven linemen from the 1953 team in the forward wall. There will be plenty of other former Maryland greats on the bench.

Lynn Beightol will start as signal caller for the varsity in the fifth annual game. The series stands at two victories for each.

Beightol, a senior, has been engaged in a touch-and-go battle with Baltimore's Frank Tamburello for the starting position. Tatum said the Cumberland competitor got the assignment because of the immense improvement he has shown in defense.

Tamburello, a sophomore, undoubtedly will see some action.

Dodgers Edge Milwaukee, 3-2

MOBILE, Ala., March 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers got to Jim (No-Hit) Wilson for two runs in the sixth inning and a 3-2 victory today, making it two straight over the Milwaukee Braves in their homeward exhibition baseball tour.

Wilson created his own jam, walking four men in the sixth. Sandy Amoros chipped in a single as the Brooks broke a 1-1 tie.

Milwaukee threatened in the 9th, but Tom Lasorda fanned pinch-hitter Jim Pendleton in relief after Charlie White, Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews had clipped Bob Darnell for three singles and a run.

Nats, Baltimore Cancel 2nd Game On Fourth Of July

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles and the Washington Senators announced today they would scratch the Fourth of July doubleheader tradition and play only one game here on Independence Day.

This will clear them out of Memorial Stadium in time for the Greater Northeast Baltimore Assn. to set up its fireworks show that evening. The association had protested a doubleheader would interfere with preparations.

The single game will start at 1:30. The other game will be played as part of a twi-night doubleheader or on an open date later in the season.

Hoeft Sparkles As Detroit Wins Over Bosox, 9-3

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Threatened with bullpen duty, southpaw Billy Hoeft allowed only three hits in six innings today as the Detroit Tigers polished off the Boston Red Sox, 9-3, before 1,881 grapefruit league fans.

Hoeft handed a 9-0 lead to George Zuverink who surrendered three runs in the last inning on a booming triple by Sammy White.

Nick Shuk Captures Bowie Feature Aboard Side Saddle

HEADING FOR TOP - - - By Alan Maver

Samuel Park, Stable Owner, Dies At Track

Horseman, 63, Had Heart Attack; Jockey Walter Blum Suspended

BOWIE, Md., March 30 (AP)—Nick Shuk, benefitting from the 10-day suspension handed Bill Hartack yesterday, booted home a pair of winners including Henry H. Hecht's Side Saddle in the featured fifth race at Bowie race track this afternoon.

Installed $4.80 for $2 favorite by the crowd of 10,733 fans on this mild, spring day, Side Saddle, a 6-year-old daughter of Holdall, was much the best in the mile and an eighth race and her time of 1.52 4/5 was the best of the meeting.

Bigdome, a Hecht castoff now owned by Henry Bowyer, was second, four lengths in front of Parlor Pink.

Samuel Park, Philadelphia owner of the Parkman Stable, died at his clubhouse seat only moments before his Brau Imp romped to victory in the eighth race.

Wished Jockey Luck

Park, 63, had wished Jockey Ray Mikkonen luck a few minutes before in the paddock. Park watched his colorbearer saddled, returned to the clubhouse, but died apparently of a heart attack before seeing his horse win.

He was pronounced dead at the track hospital by Dr. S. McCeney, track physician in attendance.

Brau Imp sped to a three and a half length victory in the mile and a sixteenth test and paid $12.20.

Aubrey Snellings, who started off the meeting as an outrider, continued his saddle comeback by booting home a $31.20 for $2 winner in the 4½-furlong third race.

Snellings was astride Handspring, trained by J. Bowes Bond and owned by Mrs. Bond. The 2-year-old filly won by three lengths from Noble Mateador with the favorite, Powder Cap, a length farther back in third position.

Powder Cap was claimed from the race for $7,500 from the Auburn Farm.

The daily double (Nos. 7 and 9) was worth $32.20 with Blue Canary and Short Skirts accounting for the first and second races, respectively.

Blum Is Suspended

Jockey Walter Blum became the second rider to be set down by the stewards at this meeting. He begins a 10-day suspension tomorrow for a careless ride aboard Revenooer in yesterday's first race. Revenooer finished second but was disqualified for causing a jam at the first turn. Blum has ridden seven winners this meeting. Bill Hartack, third leading rider in the country, yesterday was suspended for 10 days.

Today's mutuel handle was $1,024,087.

PARKS AIR FORCE BASE, Cal., March 30 (AP)—Young Gil Cadilli, opening a cut over Willie Pep's right eye in the fourth round, slowed the veteran featherweight down tonight to win a split decision in their 10 round nationally televised fight before 3,800 servicemen at this Air Force base.

Ft. Wayne Fights Jinx When NBA Finals Open Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Fort Wayne will be facing a jinx while the Syracuse Nationals will be fighting over confidence when they meet here tomorrow night for the first game in the final playoffs of the National Basketball Assn.

Fort Wayne never has won an NBA game in Syracuse. The Nats have whipped the Pistons 29 times, losing eight, since Al Cervi took over the Syracuse coaching duties.

This season Syracuse beat Fort Wayne seven out of nine regular-season games. But the teams shared overall honors, finishing in a tie for first place in the NBA.

Each finished first in its NBA division.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—"A baseball club is as strong as its bench. That's an old axiom and I heartily endorse it. I think we'll have a strong bench this year."

Charlie Grimm, the 36-years-in-baseball manager of the Milwaukee Braves, made the comments in prefacing his remarks about the 1955 Braves, training here.

"We have good pitching and I think we'll get off to a better start this year," Jolly Cholly continued.

"We didn't make hardly any runs the first half of last season. The pitching, however, was excellent. Our trouble: We didn't start to click until after the All-Star game."

Grimm, forthright in his comments, refused to base the Braves' failure to overtake the Dodgers and the Giants on the injuries suffered last season but admitted they were rough.

Bobby Thomson, the prize outfielder acquired from the Giants in the Johnny Antonelli deal, broke his ankle in spring training and he did not return until late in the season.

EDDIE MATHEWS, the slugging third sacker, was hit on the hand by Hal Jeffcoat and he missed a flock of games. Henry Aaron, the rookie star of the 1954 club, did a fine job as replacement for Thomson and then, in the stretch drive, he also broke his ankle.

Andy Pafko, another star outfielder, also was lost for a stretch and Joe Adcock, the first sacker who enjoyed one of his finest years last season, also missed nearly two dozen games.

The Braves of 1955, at this stage, are a sound ball club with good pitching, a strong bench at virtually every position but a little short or catching.

Grimm says he plans to carry but two catchers but posed the question of possible trouble if the No. 1 man, Del Crandall, who caught 138 games last year, should get hurt. The No. 2 catcher is Charlie White, who got into 50 games last year. A rookie from Atlanta, Jack Parks, is being looked at.

Grimm has 22 pitchers on the roster this spring and some heavy cutting will have to be done for the squad overall is a big one.

Charlie's front line is headed by Warren Spahn, a 21-game winner again last year; Lew Burdette, who was 15-14; the 6-foot 8-inch giant, Gene Conley, who finally came through for the Braves with a 14-9 record; Bob Buhl and Chet Nichols.

NICHOLS, who had a fine season before he went into the service and then came back to the club last year and had a mediocre 9-11 mark, is described by the Braves' manager as "ready again . . . definitely a major league pitcher and he'll help us this summer."

Grimm plans to use Ernie Johnson and Dave Jolly, the hard-working righthanders who saw duty in 87 games between them last year, as his bullpen corps again.

Other returning hurlers are No-Hit Jim Wilson and the bonus baby, Joey Jay, who had little chance to show much last year as he saw only 18 innings of action.

Among the new pitchers being given a second look are Don McMahan, righthander who won eight and lost five for Atlanta but appears to have the best chance; Roberto Vargas, a southpaw from Puerto Rico who had a 12-13 mark with Reading and Charley Gorin, another southpaw who pitched for Toledo.

George Crowe, the big first sacker who was with the Braves in 1953 and then was sent to Toledo where he hit 34 homers and batted .334 last season, will be ready to help out at first if Adcock needs any help. Grimm plans to carry the two first basemen.

JOHNNY LOGAN is the shortstop and Mathews the third base operative. Danny O'Connell, an all-around infield performer, is the second-sacker unless Jack Dittmer, who filled in for Mathews last year, can unseat him.

For infield bench help Jolly Cholly has the veteran Roy Smalley, who looks better this spring; Mel Roach, the other bonus player on the club who must be kept at least until July and two well-liked rookies, Bill Caro, who had a good year at Jacksonville and Al Facchini, who did well at Corpus Christi.

Caro is a third sacker and Facchini a shortstop.

Assuming Thomson has completely recovered from the leg injury he will be in one outfield spot, Bill Bruton, the speed merchant, in another and Henry Aaron or Andy Pafko in the third. Jim Pendleton, another all-around workman, is on hand to fill out in the outfield or he can play third base or shortstop.

One of the brightest of the outfield prospects is Chuck Tanner, a lefty swinger from Atlanta where he batted in 101 runs while compiling a .323 average. Tanner will be kept.

The National League race, says Grimm, will be a "terrific struggle."

Rugged Alumni To Battle Terps

Beightol Gets Nod As Varsity Quarter

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 30 (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum sends his 1955 University of Maryland football team against an alumni outfit composed of top flight professional and former college talent next Saturday.

Bernie Faloney, a standout on the 1953 national championship team from Maryland, will be calling signals in the backfield that Tatum two years ago called the "best I have ever seen."

With Faloney, who led Edmonton to the Grey Cup Title in the Canadian League last year, will be Chet Hanulak, now with the Cleveland Browns; Dick Nolan, of the New York Giants, and Ralph Felton of the Washington Redskins.

The four were the spark behind Maryland's 1953 national king pins. Player-Coach Ray Krouse will have six of the seven linemen from the 1953 team in the forward wall. There will be plenty of other former Maryland greats on the bench.

Lynn Beightol will start as signal caller for the varsity in the fifth annual game. The series stands at two victories for each.

Beightol, a senior, has been engaged in a touch-and-go battle with Baltimore's Frank Tamburello for the starting position. Tatum said the Cumberland competitor got the assignment because of the immense improvement he has shown in defense.

Tamburello, a sophomore, undoubtedly will see some action.

Dodgers Edge Milwaukee, 3-2

MOBILE, Ala., March 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers got to Jim (No-Hit) Wilson for two runs in the sixth inning and a 3-2 victory today, making it two straight over the Milwaukee Braves in their homeward exhibition baseball tour.

Wilson created his own jam, walking four men in the sixth. Sandy Amoros chipped in a single as the Brooks broke a 1-1 tie.

Milwaukee threatened in the 9th, but Tom Lasorda fanned pinch-hitter Jim Pendleton in relief after Charlie White, Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews had clipped Bob Darnell for three singles and a run.

Nats, Baltimore Cancel 2nd Game On Fourth Of July

BALTIMORE, March 30 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles and the Washington Senators announced today they would scratch the Fourth of July doubleheader tradition and play only one game here on Independence Day.

This will clear them out of Memorial Stadium in time for the Greater Northeast Baltimore Assn. to set up its fireworks show that evening. The association had protested a doubleheader would interfere with preparations.

The single game will start at 1:30. The other game will be played as part of a twi-night doubleheader or on an open date later in the season.

Hoeft Sparkles As Detroit Wins Over Bosox, 9-3

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Threatened with bullpen duty, southpaw Billy Hoeft allowed only three hits in six innings today as the Detroit Tigers polished off the Boston Red Sox, 9-3, before 1,881 grapefruit league fans.

Hoeft handed a 9-0 lead to George Zuverink who surrendered three runs in the last inning on a booming triple by Sammy White.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—(INS)—Producers are finally convinced that movie audiences have come of age when such a classic as Hendrik Van Loon's "The Story Of Mankind" is bought (by Warner Brothers) for a picture.

The book, published in 17 languages, including Braille and Esperanto, has won over 40 awards in literature and has passed the 5,000,000 sales mark.

Jack Warner could have made no better selection than Irwin Allen to bring this undertaking to the screen. Allen won an Academy Award for "The Sea Around Us" and is currently completing "The Animal World" for Warners.

He will script, produce and direct "The Story Of Mankind"—a gigantic task of tracing man's history through the one million years of sojourn on the three billion year old earth.

Sam Spiegel, producer of "On The Waterfront," arrived in town just in time for the Academy Awards. While he was here he signed a new deal with Columbia Pictures to make three pictures in the next two years.

Sam also had several visits with Gary Cooper about "The Bridge Of The Kwai," which he is making in Siam with five important male stars. He lunched with Marlon Brando, who won him so many awards for "Waterfront."

Elia Kazan, he tells me, is taking a long vacation in Europe, which he can well afford to do. His stage play, "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" is a smash in New York. "East Of Eden" is one of the best pictures of the year, and, of course, "On The Waterfront" is slightly terrific.

"The prettiest baby you ever saw," said Sid Luft when he telephoned that Judy Garland had had a 5 pound 8 ounce son early that morning. Judy always says her babies are the prettiest, and she said the same thing.

Just the day before little Joe, as the baby will be called even if he's baptized Joshua, was born, Sid had an appointment with Jack Warner on the Warner lot. Judy may play Helen Morgan, if the rights for the picture can be cleared, and who would be better? Sid tells me they also have a western in mind for Judy.

First, she is going to do a variety show like she did at the London Palladium and the Palace in New York.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The reason Julie Harris' friends have not been seeing much of her in New York is because she and Manning Guerin expect a baby in July. They're in New York after a trip to the Barbados Islands.

Jacqueline Cochran, famous aviatrix wife of Financier Floyd Odlum, is talking a deal to bring her life story to the screen. She has her heart set on Rosalind Russell to portray her.

Joy Windsor is marrying Paul Ellis on April 16. It was Joy Lansing who was with Larry Chance, and not the bride-to-be.

Jane Wyman's escort to the Academy Awards was Ross Hunter, producer of "Magnificent Obsession" for which Jane was up for an award.

Louis B. Mayer received a personal invitation to be Mario Lanza's guest at Mario's opening at the New Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas Monday night. This is in gratitude to Mayer, who gave Mario his first picture job. L. B. has accepted, too.

Anne Baxter and Russell Birdwell, who are counting the days 'til they can marry, at a table for two at the Captain's Table.

Gloria Swanson celebrated her birthday in New York with a half dozen of her closest friends. Among them was Lois Wilson, whose friendship with Gloria dates back thirty years.

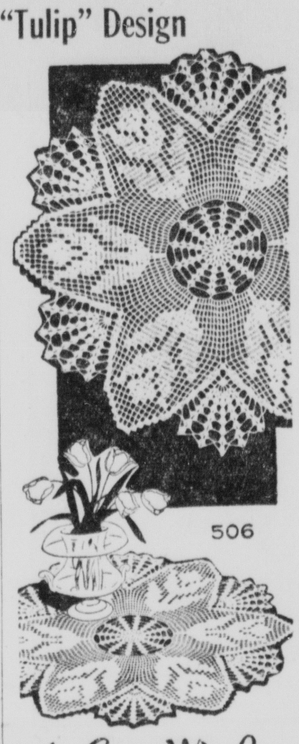

Sorry to hear that Queenie Smith, veteran musical comedy star, is ailing in a local sanitarium.

Line Renaud, who is such a hit at the Cocoanut Grove, and who was so cute on Larry Finley's TV show, has been signed by Capitol Records.

"Man Of A Thousand Secrets" is the title of the Dean Jennings profile written about celebrity service's Earl Blackwell in the Saturday Evening Post.

Turn your back on gossip unless you want to see an ugly reflection in your mirror.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

One of the most outstanding qualities of charm is great kindness. Kindness occurs in conversation as well as deed. One who gossips is very unkind and is certainly not sincere. Charm cannot exist where gossiping flourishes.

Gossiping is belittling, and it is hardening. Have you ever watched anyone's face when she is tossing out a choice piece of gossip? It's almost frightening to watch a loose-tongued woman. Critical people who tear others apart have not only distorted views, but distorted faces. Your thoughts are reflected in your face. If you're happy — you look happy. If you have mean, vindictive thoughts — your face betrays it. And, if you continue these unpleasant grimaces, wrinkles and lines will be etched in your face permanently.

Tete-A-Tete

If you don't think so, sit down in front of your mirror and hold a typical gossipy conversation with it. This is the moment to be honest with yourself. Do you like the revealing tete-a-tete that you see? Now replace with a smile and think pleasant thoughts about someone you love.

Always remember most men will choose the face with a smile over one that takes on unpleasant expressions — however enchanting the features are. Your voice must "smile" too (for help on this, note below about my booklet, "Your Most Attractive Voice").

Above It All

It's a known and accepted fact that if you criticize, you are instantly open to criticism yourself. If you gossip, you are invariably subject to gossip. If you are above it all . . . you can't be involved. And, being above these things is an outstanding ingredient for real charm.

Loyalty and faithfulness not only to friends, but to your own principles are signs of a beautiful character. And you must have respect for yourself.

Remember that your thoughts are your own as long as they are unspoken. Always stop and think before you say anything. Repeated gossip may be regretted later.

Ask yourself: "Should this be said?" If you want to be considered charming have this reputation among your friends: "If she can't say something nice about someone, she doesn't say anything." And, if you have the fine reputation of being a "clam," your friends will confide in you.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stampted self-addressed envelope.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Humane Officer Attacked By Dog

A two-week quarantine period was placed yesterday on a pedigreed boxer after the dog attacked Charles K. Welch, city humane officer.

In Police Court, Magistrate J. Milton Dick ordered that the animal be confined due to the prevalence of rabies. The owner is a local businessman.

Welch testified he answered a call Tuesday concerning a pack of stray dogs. He managed to catch one animal and then was bitten on the left arm by the boxer.

John Hare, city, also told the court he was "jumped" by the canine about 10 days ago. A heavy coat prevented personal injury, he said.

The owner claimed he had received no complaints about the large boxer, except for a warning from the chief of police.

Following the incident Tuesday, Welch secured a warrant charging the owner with having a vicious dog.

Daily Bridge Lesson

A CLEAR CASE FOR A THROW-IN

SOUTH lost his game contract in the hand below by overlooking the marked opportunity for a throw-in play.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ J 8 5 4 ♥ 6 2 ♦ J 4 3 ♣ 9 8 5 2
♠ A 6 2 ♥ J 9 8 3 ♦ 6 2 ♣ K J 10 7	N W E S	♠ 9 3 ♥ 5 ♦ A K Q 10 8 7 5 ♣ 6 4 3
	♠ K Q 10 7 ♥ A K Q 10 7 4 ♦ 9 ♣ A Q

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	3 ♦	4 ♥
Dble.	Pass	Pass	Pass

It isn't often that a vulnerable player can afford to preempt against non-vulnerable opponents, but East acted correctly in doing just that, with his long diamonds and general defensive weakness.

West, opening against the four-heart contract, naturally selected his top diamond, and East continued the suit. As it happened, a shift to clubs at Trick 2 would have been a very good defensive idea, but it was difficult for East to know exactly what line the defense should take.

South ruffed the second diamond and laid down the ace and king of trumps. He was disappointed but not surprised when East showed out, and, seeing no reason to let West keep two trumps, South went ahead with the trump queen and then led the king of spades. West won, cashed the high trump and exited with a spade, and South eventually had to concede a club trick to West, for down one.

Under most circumstances South would have been right to cash his three top trumps, leaving West with only the master trump, but in this case that move was very wrong. Observe the vast difference if, after leading only two high trumps, South had knocked out the spade ace. West would exit with a spade, but his safety would be short-lived, for now South would cash his trump queen, then lead spades until West ruffed in. If West declined to ruff a spade, South would finally throw him in with the trump and force a club return up to the major tenace.

South's actual method of play gave West an easy and safe exit whereas the suggested method would have "locked him in." And if South wanted to make doubly sure of the end-play, he could ruff another diamond before throwing West on lead.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Humane Officer Attacked By Dog

A two-week quarantine period was placed yesterday on a pedigreed boxer after the dog attacked Charles K. Welch, city humane officer.

In Police Court, Magistrate J. Milton Dick ordered that the animal be confined due to the prevalence of rabies. The owner is a local businessman.

Welch testified he answered a call Tuesday concerning a pack of stray dogs. He managed to catch one animal and then was bitten on the left arm by the boxer.

John Hare, city, also told the court he was "jumped" by the canine about 10 days ago. A heavy coat prevented personal injury, he said.

The owner claimed he had received no complaints about the large boxer, except for a warning from the chief of police.

Following the incident Tuesday, Welch secured a warrant charging the owner with having a vicious dog.

Daily Bridge Lesson

A CLEAR CASE FOR A THROW-IN

SOUTH lost his game contract in the hand below by overlooking the marked opportunity for a throw-in play.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ J 8 5 4 ♥ 6 2 ♦ J 4 3 ♣ 9 8 5 2
♠ A 6 2 ♥ J 9 8 3 ♦ 6 2 ♣ K J 10 7	N W E S	♠ 9 3 ♥ 5 ♦ A K Q 10 8 7 5 ♣ 6 4 3
	♠ K Q 10 7 ♥ A K Q 10 7 4 ♦ 9 ♣ A Q

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	3 ♦	4 ♥
Dble.	Pass	Pass	Pass

It isn't often that a vulnerable player can afford to preempt against non-vulnerable opponents, but East acted correctly in doing just that, with his long diamonds and general defensive weakness.

West, opening against the four-heart contract, naturally selected his top diamond, and East continued the suit. As it happened, a shift to clubs at Trick 2 would have been a very good defensive idea, but it was difficult for East to know exactly what line the defense should take.

South ruffed the second diamond and laid down the ace and king of trumps. He was disappointed but not surprised when East showed out, and, seeing no reason to let West keep two trumps, South went ahead with the trump queen and then led the king of spades. West won, cashed the high trump and exited with a spade, and South eventually had to concede a club trick to West, for down one.

Under most circumstances South would have been right to cash his three top trumps, leaving West with only the master trump, but in this case that move was very wrong. Observe the vast difference if, after leading only two high trumps, South had knocked out the spade ace. West would exit with a spade, but his safety would be short-lived, for now South would cash his trump queen, then lead spades until West ruffed in. If West declined to ruff a spade, South would finally throw him in with the trump and force a club return up to the major tenace.

South's actual method of play gave West an easy and safe exit whereas the suggested method would have "locked him in." And if South wanted to make doubly sure of the end-play, he could ruff another diamond before throwing West on lead.

Senate Tax Plan Rejected In House

Delegates To Offer Alternate

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 —House Democratic financiers refused tonight to accept a plan of their colleagues in the Senate that would yield a needed 30 million dollars without increasing taxes.

The Ways and Means Committee voted down 27-2 the Senate Finance Committee plan several hours after it was put forth as a more painless way of meeting a deficit than proposed by Gov. McKeldin.

The Republican governor proposes to raise the income and sales tax along with reaping a windfall by starting withholding of income taxes on July 1.

The Senate proposal would have retained the windfall angle, but deprive the counties and Baltimore City of a share that amounts to 8½ million dollars. This was the main objection of the delegates to the Senate plan.

Chairman Boone (D-Balto County) said the Ways and Means Committee would offer an alternative tax raising plan of its own Friday.

4 Working Days Left

The difference of opinion between the major Senate and House committees opened up a serious question of delay in completion of the General Assembly which has only four working days left.

The Senate still has to dispose of amendments to the budget passed by the House.

The substitute tax program of the Senate committee had broken down this way:

1. $19,650,000 to be received by the State from doubling up of income tax payments by withholding, and putting at a flat $800 personal and dependent exemptions.

2. $8,672,000 from the "windfall" which would be frozen into the State treasury rather than going to the counties under Maryland's redistribution (Sherbow) plan.

3. $2,500,000 to be derived from repealing the present exemptions from sales taxes of items bought out of state and "not readily obtainable" in Maryland, and by imposing the sales tax on some materials, such as tires for fleets of taxicabs, which now are rented or leased.

Needed: 28½ Million

The total take for the one year period would be $30,822,000, well above the 28½ million dollars needed to balance the 269-million dollar budget which has been passed by the House and is being considered by the Senate.

The Finance Committee plan would solve the State's money problem only for the fiscal year 1956, which begins next July.

McKeldin has asked that the sales tax rate be raised from 2 to 3 per cent this June and that the income tax rate be upped from 2 to 3 per cent next January. He also had proposed the withholding plan and had wanted exemptions raised to a flat $1,000.

The governor's plan would have produced a surplus of nearly 7 million dollars, which he wanted earmarked for school needs in the fiscal year 1957. He also said his plan would have taken care of needed future revenues without further hiking taxes in coming years.

The exemptions presently are $1,000 for personal and $600 for dependents.

The Democratic scheme means that with the new exemptions a married couple with two children will pay the same tax. A married couple with no children would pay $8 more a year, a couple with one child will pay $4 more.

Alternate Discussed

The so called "windfall" would result in the State collecting withholding taxes after July while, at the same time, it would be collecting payments of persons who are paying 1954 taxes on the quarterly payment system. At the same time, it would collect next spring the 1955 taxes due before withholding went into effect as well as getting by withholding the taxes for the first six months of 1956 for the treasury.

An alternate discussed by the Senate group today, in case the freezing of the county funds is opposed, was to split the money 50-50 between the State and counties and hike the amusement tax rate from ½ of 1 per cent to 2 per cent and upping corporation income taxes from 4 to 5 per cent to make up the balance.

Sen. Northrop (D-Montgomery) opposed the freezing of the counties windfall at the committee session this morning, but couldn't get enough support to stop its approval.

The Finance Committee also heard James G. Rennie, budget di-

Home Rule Bill Action Delayed Another Day

Senate Tacks On 112 Amendments

BULLETIN

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates reconsidered and for a second time tonight failed to approve a bonus for war veterans financed by a lottery.

The 71 votes for the bonus were three shy of the necessary majority for passage. The second failure killed the bill and practically ended any chance of House passage of a bonus bill this session.

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee tackled the question of municipal home rule today but ran into problems which prolonged action on it for another day.

The measure, which has been worked over throughout the session, reached the committee today from the Senate, which had tacked on 112 amendments.

Sen. Hoff (R-Carroll), head of a joint subcommittee task force which reworked the bill, explained its provisions to the delegates. He also asked them to give "careful consideration" to an amendment tacked on in the Senate at the request of Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto.-County) which would give county commissioners veto authority over incorporation of towns.

Hoff had opposed Turnbull's move as "violating the spirit" of a constitutional amendment approved by voters last fall giving municipalities broader powers. The bill before the Legislature spells out how these powers are to be effected.

Hoff said he appreciated Baltimore County's problem of not having any municipalities within its borders and not wanting any, but that he still opposed the principle of the amendment.

The hearing was carried over until tomorrow afternoon when John W. T. Webb, Salisbury attorney representing the Eastern Shore Public Service Co., suggested further amendments.

He complained that the bill as it stands gives towns and city governments too much authority in issuing revenue bonds, even though the Legislature still regulates the maximum debt municipalities may incur.

Webb wants amendments written which will give voters the right, by a petition of 20 per cent of them, to compel the city to hold a public referendum before issuing revenue bonds if they are for something voters might be opposed to. The bill provides for this in issuance of so-called "faith and credit" or general obligation bonds.

There were indications the bill might reach the floor of the House Thursday night or Friday. If any changes are made from the Senate version it will have to go back to that chamber for concurrence before being passed on to Gov. McKeldin.

Interest In Bond Sale Still Heavy

Interest continues heavy in the $2,400,000 bond issue which the City of Cumberland plans to sell next week.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said yesterday that the more than 50 queries received represent investment firms from many cities, including New York, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Bids on the issue will be opened by the Mayor and Council Tuesday at 10 a.m., according to Finance Commissioner John J. Long.

Oldtime Bargain Days Scheduled For Bicentennial

Bygone Era To Be Recreated

The biggest bargain event in 200 years is being promised by members of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce during the three-day "Old-Fashioned Bargain Days" scheduled here in conjunction with the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial.

During those three days the merchants of Cumberland will go all out to bring back bargains of the good old days and will be appropriately dressed in keeping with the celebration.

The store clerks will be attired in old fashioned garb and the store windows will display old antiques and photos which will give the shopper an idea of how things were in years gone by.

General chairman of arrangements for the bargain days is Morton Peskin Sr., who said last night that there will be everything from the dummies on the outside of the various stores to the old German band which will furnish music throughout the occasion.

Expected to be on sale are a number of the best of bargains and Peskin pointed out that manufacturers are pledging their cooperation in making the event a success.

Residents of Cumberland and vicinity can look forward to the organ grinder and his monkey, buckboards on Baltimore Street and downtown Cumberland as well as several "Keystone Kops" on duty on the main stem.

Anyone in Cumberland who has a Wooden Indian in his possession or any other antique appropriate for the event is asked to contact the Mercantile Bureau.

The old-time fire fighting equipment is expected to make a comeback as well as the old hitching post and watering trough.

Atmosphere is what the merchants plan to have and are going ahead with plans to accomplish just that. Many of the favorite tunes of the barbership quartet will be sung at various places, Peskin pointed out.

On Friday night the various committees named to put over the celebration will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the ballroom of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

All merchants of Cumberland are invited to be present. An invitation is also being extended to other businessmen, including the barbers and other small businessmen.

Rehearsals Will Keep Singers Busy

Tomorrow will be a busy day for some 483 singers who will spend the day in rehearsals for the Allegany County Choral Festival, which will be conducted at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Fort Hill High School.

W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in the county public schools, yesterday released a schedule which lists rehearsals for various groups of vocal musicians from 8:45 a. m. until 3:10 p. m. tomorrow.

While one group is rehearsing on the auditorium stage at Fort Hill others will practice in other rooms of the building.

First to rehearse on the stage will be the 85-member vested choir, starting at 8:45 a. m. Then the 200-voice choir will appear on stage for practice at 9:30 a. m.

The 150-member boys' chorus will rehearse on the stage at 11:10 a. m. The girls' chorus of 312 voices will be on stage at 12:10 p. m. The orchestra, a special group composed of musicians from Beall, Fort Hill and Allegany, will be in the pit for rehearsal starting at 1:15 p. m.

Singers from eight schools, Flintstone, Oldtown, Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, Mt. Savage, Valley and Bruce will take part in the music festival.

Valley Road Man Hurt In Fall From Roof

Charles Lee, 49, of Route 3, Valley Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital late yesterday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered when he fell while repairing a roof at his home.

He suffered injuries of both wrists and was kept in for X-rays and treatment. His condition was "good."

Western Maryland Using Blinker Crossing Light

The familiar kerosene-type lantern is "going out," as far as night watchmen on the Western Maryland Railway Company here are concerned.

Replacing the lantern on an experimental basis at the Baltimore Street crossing is a blinker-type battery-powered warning signal.

Actually, the idea of using this type signal light was figured out by R. S. Compton, supervisor of tracks for the Elkins Division of the Western Maryland.

Railway employes riding motor cars at night have been using a signal light which has one red blinker light attached to the end of the battery box.

Compton modified this type light, manufactured by a Chicago firm, by adding a second light on the opposite end of the box which houses four six-volt batteries.

Both lights operate from one switch and a handle on the battery box makes it easy to carry. Harry Duckworth, veteran crossing watchman, highly favors the new gadget and says it certainly attracts the attention of motorists and pedestrians halted for trains approaching from the east or west.

Duckworth added that City Police have made favorable comments on the warning light. However, he said, the "old reliable" lanterns are still kept ready in the event something might happen to the batteries, light bulbs or mechanism of the experimental light.

Youths Held In Thefts At Cresaptown

Baker Arrests Teen-Age Trio

Three Cresaptown youths were arrested yesterday in connection with a series of 10 theft cases in that area during February and March.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police here said two 16-year-old boys and a 17-year-old boy are being held in connection with the series of depredations.

The minors are being held in the County Infirmary and the 17-year-old lad in the County Jail for further investigation.

The lads were picked up yesterday by Cpl. Baker in connection with the series which began with the attempted breaking and entering of the Cresaptown Theatre on February 27. Some 14 bulbs were removed from the marquee after intruders failed to force a door.

A second visit to the theatre on March 6 was more successful, after intruders broke a window to enter and take 200 candy bars.

The next Sunday, the theatre was again entered by removing lumber from a boarded-up window. Some 20 candy bars were looted.

The lads are being quizzed in connection with two breaking and enterings of Cresaptown School, the first during February and the second and third last Saturday and Sunday nights.

In the first entry, a small amount of cash was taken and rooms were ransacked.

The school was entered and ransacked on Saturday night, and again Sunday night—the culprits getting in by a broken window each time.

The Cresaptown Hardware Store was entered during February. Merchandise valued at about $35 taken after a window was broken out to gain entry.

Last week, the series continued with the theft of merchandise valued at about $30 from the car of Lloyd A. Lehman, parked on Brant Road.

Ransacked recently was the truck of Ivan Miller on Brady Road. Cpl. Baker said the intruders broke a lock to get into the side of a double garage containing Miller's car, and a second lock to get to the side where the truck was parked.

House Approves Statewide Vote Machine Bill

The House of Delegates last night passed and sent to the Senate HB 816, which would make voting machines mandatory in all Maryland counties and Baltimore City by the elections of 1958.

The bill, drawn by Delegate Melvin H. Derr (R-Frederick), is cosponsored by Delegate Fred B. Driscoll of Allegany County along with eight other delegates from counties which do not now have voting machines.

Monday night Senator Robert B. Kimble's bill making voting machines mandatory in Allegany County in time for the 1956 elections was passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

Among other bills passed by the House last night was HB 185, introduced by Delegate Driscoll. This bill provides absentee voting for civilians as well as military personnel.

Incorporated in this bill as an amendment was a measure that had been introduced by Delegates Estel C. Kelley and George R. Hughes Jr. This amendment made it possible for persons hospitalized, invalided, etc., to vote provided they have a doctor's certificate.

Before Driscoll's absentee voting bill was passed, 104-4, Speaker of the House John C. Luber referred to it as "one of the most important" bills of the session.

City Rec Board Meets Tonight

The City Recreation Board will meet tonight in City Hall to act on a number of suggested improvements.

One of the subjects to be discussed is the possibility of acquiring or leasing land for additional ball fields.

Robert E. Pence, rec director, said the department is in drastic need of more ball fields, saying there are more than 100 teams, with only eight ball fields.

Pence announced that the Senior Citizens Club will not meet today, and that the next meeting of the organization will be April 7 at 2 p.m.

Red Cross Drive Reports $28,171 Toward Its Goal

Renewed Vigor Pleases Chairman

Pleased with the renewed vigor being shown in the current Red Cross fund raising campaign, Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman, reported last night that collections now total $28,171.81, which is more than 76 per cent along the way to the $37,000 goal.

None of the local divisions has yet reached its quota but Ebert observed that several are now approaching their goals.

Among the communities around the county which are cooperating in the campaign only one, Vale Summit, has reached its objective. This small settlement has collected $64, $14 more than the $50 quota there.

The chairman of the drive last night urged all workers to wind up their solicitation this week and submit their final reports by the end of the week.

Any individual or club not yet contacted is requested to notify the Red Cross office in the Post Office Building or simply mail the contribution to the Post Office in Cumberland.

Ebert submitted the following breakdown on the Red Cross campaign which originally was planned to end today:

Advance gifts, $11,455.50 collected toward a goal of $13,000; clubs and organizations, $455 toward $1,000 goal; national firms, $1,226.50 toward $1,500 goal; women's division, $5,374.27 toward $7,000 quota, and classified, $5,910.10 toward $10,000.

Contributions reported by outlying communities included $64 from Vale Summit, $2,100 from Frostburg toward $2,500 goal; $840 from Lonaconing toward $1,000; $409 from Mt. Savage toward $550; Eckhart, $208.44 toward $275 and Ridgeley, $129 toward $350 goal. Westernport - Luke, Midland and Barton have not yet made any reports to campaign headquarters.

Parking Lot Agreement Is Reached

The Town of Westernport and the Western Maryland Railway Company have entered an agreement on the use of railroad property in that community which will be converted into a parking lot.

The lot, located on Church Street, measures about 140 feet in length and varies from 35 to 100 feet in width. Approximately 25 meters are expected to be installed on the lot.

The Mayor and Council at a special meeting last night agreed unanimously to pay the railroad $25 a month rental or $300 annually with either party able to cancel the agreement in a 30-day period.

Mayor Okey Michael said the agreement is effective as of March 1 and the parking lot is expected to be completed and put into operation about July 1.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., town attorney, was authorized to offer $300 annually to the company, which at first asked for $540 a year.

A letter was received from C. H. Stoner, real estate agent of the company, that the $300 rental fee would be acceptable.

As a measure to alleviate the parking problem in Westernport approximately $2,000 will be spent to put the lot in shape, including a fence along the railroad side of the premises.

City officials pointed out that after the lot is put into operation, parking is expected to be curtailed on Church Street. The meters will be operated on a 24-hour basis with free parking allowed on Sundays and holidays.

Today Is Deadline For Old Tag Use

Tonight at midnight is the absolute deadline for use of old license tags on private automobiles, and because of this fact Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat plans to keep his office at the Court House open until 6 p. m. today for sale of the new tags.

Yesterday's sale of 850 sets of the new tags brought the total sold in Treat's office since February 23 to 15,131, already 87 more than were sold through March 31 last year.

Final day sales last year totaled 1,100. With one day's activity remaining a year ago the total was 13,944, which is 1,187 less than yesterday's total.

Scientific Career Of County Native Cited

DR. WILBUR G. MALCOLM

Changes in the management of the Lederle Laboratories Division of American Cyanamid Company at Pearl River, N.Y., have focused attention on the career of an Allegany County native who has gained a national reputation in the field of bacteriology and science.

He is Dr. Wilbur G. Malcolm, a native of Moscow Mills and a son of the late William H. Malcolm and Annie (Thomas) Malcolm.

Dr. Malcolm has been relieved of his responsibilities as general manager of the Lederle Laboratories Division in order to concentrate on his duties as vice president of American Cyanamid in which he will continue to have staff responsibilities for pharmaceuticals, drugs and sutures. Like other vice presidents of American Cyanamid he will be free from line responsibilities.

This well-known native of Allegany County became a vice president of American Cyanamid and general manager of Lederle in 1946 when the pharamaceutical plant became a division of the parent company.

Big Increases Noted

Dr. Malcolm joined Lederle Laboratories in 1934 as a bacteriologist and in 1937 was named assistant director of the laboratories in executive director in 1938. In the 20 years that he has been associated with the New York State plant, Lederle became one of the largest medical research and pharamaceutical firms in the world, increasing its personnel from fewer than 400 in 1934 to about 4,500 today.

A number of products that received world-wide acclaim in the march against disease have been developed under Dr. Malcolm's direction at Lederle.

Among them was the use of rabbit serum for treatment of pneumonia, a 1937 development. In 1940 came the "sulfa drug," sulfadiazine, and in 1943 Lederle became one of the world's largest producers of blood plasma.

Postwar achievements included the 1947 improvement and refinement of diptheria and tentanus toxoids, the 1948 discovery of the antibiotic aureomycin chlortetracycline and in 1950 the use of antibiotics in animal feed and the development of vaccines for rabies, canine distemper and other animal diseases.

Several Drugs Developed

Since then have come the 1951 development of hog cholera vaccine and a major enzyme product for use in human medicine and in 1953 the development of antibiotic achromycin tetracycline and a new type of oral diuretic, Diamox, which has helped many persons suffering from heart conditions and other diseases causing excess fluids throughout their systems.

A graduate of the old Barton High School, Dr. Malcolm entered Maryland Agriculture College in 1918 on a scholarship and became a fixture on the College Park institution for the next few years. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1922 and his master of science degree in 1924. While associated with the National Intstitute of Health in Washington he received his Ph.D., like the other degrees from the University of Maryland.

Industry Tax, Teachers Pay Bills Enacted

Plant Expansion Plan Emergency Measure

The Senate yesterday enacted and sent to Governor McKeldin bills which retain the retroactive feature of this county's tax exemptions for industrial expansion, and a bill providing salary increases for Allegany County school teachers.

In 1953, a bill was passed granting tax exemptions to new and expanding industries in Allegany County, covering all facilities back to June 1, 1951.

The County Commissioners asked that the retroactive feature be stricken from the bill, due to its effect on the tax base.

Saying to remove the tax grant back to that date would be breaking faith with industries, Senator Kimble refused to change the date.

He concurred with and placed in his SB 549 other recommendations of the County Commissioners, striking from the measure exemptions for processing and distributing firms and exemptions for replacement of existing machinery.

Effective At Once

The bill also clarifies the definition of manufacturing for the purpose of tax exemption.

It was pointed out by the Allegany County Delegation, which yesterday placed an emergency tag on the bill—making it effective on passage—that the bill will not affect exemptions for machinery placed in plants before the passage of the bill.

The Senate yesterday finally passed House Bill 590, sponsored by the Allegany County Delegation, providing a $300 salary increase for county teachers this September and an additional $100 a year for two succeeding years.

Got Favorable Report

The bill was enacted by the Senate yesterday after receiving a favorable report from Senator Kimble.

Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, reported last night that the House had passed HB 844, an enabling act allowing the County Commissioners to set up a dog licensing system.

House Bill 846, the Cresaptown light bill, also passed the House, Del. See said.

He said the bill, requested by Earl Manges, attorney for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association, calls for a referendum the first Monday of next April.

Action Is Pending

Enacted yesterday was SB 503, introduced by Senator Kimble, to recodify the local laws of Allegany County, Del. See termed the move "badly needed."

The House also passed SB 529, which allows additional compensation for trial magistrates attending official meetings.

He said the Delegation has taken no action yet on SB 504, which would reorganize the Allegany County Juvenile Court, or SB 502 and 528, both referring to the Trial Magistrates Court in Cumberland.

Senate Tax Plan Rejected In House

Delegates To Offer Alternate

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 —House Democratic financiers refused tonight to accept a plan of their colleagues in the Senate that would yield a needed 30 million dollars without increasing taxes.

The Ways and Means Committee voted down 27-2 the Senate Finance Committee plan several hours after it was put forth as a more painless way of meeting a deficit than proposed by Gov. McKeldin.

The Republican governor proposes to raise the income and sales tax along with reaping a windfall by starting withholding of income taxes on July 1.

The Senate proposal would have retained the windfall angle, but deprive the counties and Baltimore City of a share that amounts to 8½ million dollars. This was the main objection of the delegates to the Senate plan.

Chairman Boone (D-Balto County) said the Ways and Means Committee would offer an alternative tax raising plan of its own Friday.

4 Working Days Left

The difference of opinion between the major Senate and House committees opened up a serious question of delay in completion of the General Assembly which has only four working days left.

The Senate still has to dispose of amendments to the budget passed by the House.

The substitute tax program of the Senate committee had broken down this way:

1. $19,650,000 to be received by the State from doubling up of income tax payments by withholding, and putting at a flat $800 personal and dependent exemptions.

2. $8,672,000 from the "windfall" which would be frozen into the State treasury rather than going to the counties under Maryland's redistribution (Sherbow) plan.

3. $2,500,000 to be derived from repealing the present exemptions from sales taxes of items bought out of state and "not readily obtainable" in Maryland, and by imposing the sales tax on some materials, such as tires for fleets of taxicabs, which now are rented or leased.

Needed: 28½ Million

The total take for the one year period would be $30,822,000, well above the 28½ million dollars needed to balance the 269-million dollar budget which has been passed by the House and is being considered by the Senate.

The Finance Committee plan would solve the State's money problem only for the fiscal year 1956, which begins next July.

McKeldin has asked that the sales tax rate be raised from 2 to 3 per cent this June and that the income tax rate be upped from 2 to 3 per cent next January. He also had proposed the withholding plan and had wanted exemptions raised to a flat $1,000.

The governor's plan would have produced a surplus of nearly 7 million dollars, which he wanted earmarked for school needs in the fiscal year 1957. He also said his plan would have taken care of needed future revenues without further hiking taxes in coming years.

The exemptions presently are $1,000 for personal and $600 for dependents.

The Democratic scheme means that with the new exemptions a married couple with two children will pay the same tax. A married couple with no children would pay $8 more a year, a couple with one child will pay $4 more.

Alternate Discussed

The so called "windfall" would result in the State collecting withholding taxes after July while, at the same time, it would be collecting payments of persons who are paying 1954 taxes on the quarterly payment system. At the same time, it would collect next spring the 1955 taxes due before withholding went into effect as well as getting by withholding the taxes for the first six months of 1956 for the treasury.

An alternate discussed by the Senate group today, in case the freezing of the county funds is opposed, was to split the money 50-50 between the State and counties and hike the amusement tax rate from ½ of 1 per cent to 2 per cent and upping corporation income taxes from 4 to 5 per cent to make up the balance.

Sen. Northrop (D-Montgomery) opposed the freezing of the counties windfall at the committee session this morning, but couldn't get enough support to stop its approval.

The Finance Committee also heard James G. Rennie, budget di-

Home Rule Bill Action Delayed Another Day

Senate Tacks On 112 Amendments

BULLETIN

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 (AP)— The Maryland House of Delegates reconsidered and for a second time tonight failed to approve a bonus for war veterans financed by a lottery.

The 71 votes for the bonus were three shy of the necessary majority for passage. The second failure killed the bill and practically ended any chance of House passage of a bonus bill this session.

ANNAPOLIS, March 30 (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee tackled the question of municipal home rule today but ran into problems which prolonged action on it for another day.

The measure, which has been worked over throughout the session, reached the committee today from the Senate, which had tacked on 112 amendments.

Sen. Hoff (R-Carroll), head of a joint subcommittee task force which reworked the bill, explained its provisions to the delegates. He also asked them to give "careful consideration" to an amendment tacked on in the Senate at the request of Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto.-County) which would give county commissioners veto authority over incorporation of towns.

Hoff had opposed Turnbull's move as "violating the spirit" of a constitutional amendment approved by voters last fall giving municipalities broader powers. The bill before the Legislature spells out how these powers are to be effected.

Hoff said he appreciated Baltimore County's problem of not having any municipalities within its borders and not wanting any, but that he still opposed the principle of the amendment.

The hearing was carried over until tomorrow afternoon when John W. T. Webb, Salisbury attorney representing the Eastern Shore Public Service Co., suggested further amendments.

He complained that the bill as it stands gives towns and city governments too much authority in issuing revenue bonds, even though the Legislature still regulates the maximum debt municipalities may incur.

Webb wants amendments written which will give voters the right, by a petition of 20 per cent of them, to compel the city to hold a public referendum before issuing revenue bonds if they are for something voters might be opposed to. The bill provides for this in issuance of so-called "faith and credit" or general obligation bonds.

There were indications the bill might reach the floor of the House Thursday night or Friday. If any changes are made from the Senate version it will have to go back to that chamber for concurrence before being passed on to Gov. McKeldin.

Interest In Bond Sale Still Heavy

Oldtime Bargain Days Scheduled For Bicentennial

Bygone Era To Be Recreated

The biggest bargain event in 200 years is being promised by members of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce during the three-day "Old-Fashioned Bargain Days" scheduled here in conjunction with the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial.

During those three days the merchants of Cumberland will go all out to bring back bargains of the good old days and will be appropriately dressed in keeping with the celebration.

The store clerks will be attired in old fashioned garb and the store windows will display old antiques and photos which will give the shopper an idea of how things were in years gone by.

General chairman of arrangements for the bargain days is Morton Peskin Sr., who said last night that there will be everything from the dummies on the outside of the various stores to the old German band which will furnish music throughout the occasion.

Expected to be on sale are a number of the best of bargains and Peskin pointed out that manufacturers are pledging their cooperation in making the event a success.

Residents of Cumberland and vicinity can look forward to the organ grinder and his monkey, buckboards on Baltimore Street and downtown Cumberland as well as several "Keystone Kops" on duty on the main stem.

Anyone in Cumberland who has a Wooden Indian in his possession or any other antique appropriate for the event is asked to contact the Mercantile Bureau.

The old-time fire fighting equipment is expected to make a comeback as well as the old hitching post and watering trough.

Atmosphere is what the merchants plan to have and are going ahead with plans to accomplish just that. Many of the favorite tunes of the barbership quartet will be sung at various places, Peskin pointed out.

On Friday night the various committees named to put over the celebration will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the ballroom of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

All merchants of Cumberland are invited to be present. An invitation is also being extended to other businessmen, including the barbers and other small businessmen.

Rehearsals Will Keep Singers Busy

Tomorrow will be a busy day for some 483 singers who will spend the day in rehearsals for the Allegany County Choral Festival, which will be conducted at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Fort Hill High School.

W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in the county public schools, yesterday released a schedule which lists rehearsals for various groups of vocal musicians from 8:45 a. m. until 3:10 p. m. tomorrow.

While one group is rehearsing on the auditorium stage at Fort Hill others will practice in other rooms of the building.

First to rehearse on the stage will be the 85-member vested choir, starting at 8:45 a. m. Then the 200-voice choir will appear on stage for practice at 9:30 a. m.

The 150-member boys' chorus will rehearse on the stage at 11:10 a. m. The girls' chorus of 312 voices will be on stage at 12:10 p. m. The orchestra, a special group composed of musicians from Beall, Fort Hill and Allegany, will be in the pit for rehearsal starting at 1:15 p. m.

Singers from eight schools, Flintstone, Oldtown, Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, Mt. Savage, Valley and Bruce will take part in the music festival.

Valley Road Man Hurt In Fall From Roof

Charles Lee, 49, of Route 3, Valley Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital late yesterday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered when he fell while repairing a roof at his home.

He suffered injuries of both wrists and was kept in for X-rays and treatment. His condition was "good."

Western Maryland Using Blinker Crossing Light

The familiar kerosene-type lantern is "going out," as far as night watchmen on the Western Maryland Railway Company here are concerned.

Replacing the lantern on an experimental basis at the Baltimore Street crossing is a blinker-type battery-powered warning signal.

Actually, the idea of using this type signal light was figured out by R. S. Compton, supervisor of tracks for the Elkins Division of the Western Maryland.

Railway employes riding motor cars at night have been using a signal light which has one red blinker light attached to the end of the battery box.

Compton modified this type light, manufactured by a Chicago firm, by adding a second light on the opposite end of the box which houses four six-volt batteries.

Both lights operate from one switch and a handle on the battery box makes it easy to carry. Harry Duckworth, veteran crossing watchman, highly favors the new gadget and says it certainly attracts the attention of motorists and pedestrians halted for trains approaching from the east or west.

Duckworth added that City Police have made favorable comments on the warning light. However, he said, the "old reliable" lanterns are still kept ready in the event something might happen to the batteries, light bulbs or mechanism of the experimental light.

Youths Held In Thefts At Cresaptown

Baker Arrests Teen-Age Trio

Three Cresaptown youths were arrested yesterday in connection with a series of 10 theft cases in that area during February and March.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police here said two 16-year-old boys and a 17-year-old boy are being held in connection with the series of depredations.

The minors are being held in the County Infirmary and the 17-year-old lad in the County Jail for further investigation.

The lads were picked up yesterday by Cpl. Baker in connection with the series which began with the attempted breaking and entering of the Cresaptown Theatre on February 27. Some 14 bulbs were removed from the marquee after intruders failed to force a door.

A second visit to the theatre on March 6 was more successful, after intruders broke a window to enter and take 200 candy bars.

The next Sunday, the theatre was again entered by removing lumber from a boarded-up window. Some 20 candy bars were looted.

The lads are being quizzed in connection with two breaking and enterings of Cresaptown School, the first during February and the second and third last Saturday and Sunday nights.

In the first entry, a small amount of cash was taken and rooms were ransacked.

The school was entered and ransacked on Saturday night, and again Sunday night—the culprits getting in by a broken window each time.

The Cresaptown Hardware Store was entered during February. Merchandise valued at about $35 taken after a window was broken out to gain entry.

Last week, the series continued with the theft of merchandise valued at about $30 from the car of Lloyd A. Lehman, parked on Brant Road.

Ransacked recently was the truck of Ivan Miller on Brady Road. Cpl. Baker said the intruders broke a lock to get into the side of a double garage containing Miller's car, and a second lock to get to the side where the truck was parked.

House Approves Statewide Vote Machine Bill

The House of Delegates last night passed and sent to the Senate HB 816, which would make voting machines mandatory in all Maryland counties and Baltimore City by the elections of 1958.

The bill, drawn by Delegate Melvin H. Derr (R-Frederick), is cosponsored by Delegate Fred B. Driscoll of Allegany County along with eight other delegates from counties which do not now have voting machines.

Monday night Senator Robert B. Kimble's bill making voting machines mandatory in Allegany County in time for the 1956 elections was passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

Among other bills passed by the House last night was HB 185, introduced by Delegate Driscoll. This bill provides absentee voting for civilians as well as military personnel.

Incorporated in this bill as an amendment was a measure that had been introduced by Delegates Estel C. Kelley and George R. Hughes Jr. This amendment made it possible for persons hospitalized, invalided, etc., to vote provided they have a doctor's certificate.

Before Driscoll's absentee voting bill was passed, 104-4, Speaker of the House John C. Luber referred to it as "one of the most important" bills of the session.

Pence announced that the Senior Citizens Club will not meet today, and that the next meeting of the organization will be April 7 at 2 p.m.

Red Cross Drive Reports $28,171 Toward Its Goal

Renewed Vigor Pleases Chairman

Pleased with the renewed vigor being shown in the current Red Cross fund raising campaign, Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman, reported last night that collections now total $28,171.81, which is more than 76 per cent along the way to the $37,000 goal.

None of the local divisions has yet reached its quota but Ebert observed that several are now approaching their goals.

Among the communities around the county which are cooperating in the campaign only one, Vale Summit, has reached its objective. This small settlement has collected $64, $14 more than the $50 quota there.

The chairman of the drive last night urged all workers to wind up their solicitation this week and submit their final reports by the end of the week.

Any individual or club not yet contacted is requested to notify the Red Cross office in the Post Office Building or simply mail the contribution to the Post Office in Cumberland.

Ebert submitted the following breakdown on the Red Cross campaign which originally was planned to end today:

Advance gifts, $11,455.50 collected toward a goal of $13,000; clubs and organizations, $455 toward $1,000 goal; national firms, $1,226.50 toward $1,500 goal; women's division, $5,374.27 toward $7,000 quota, and classified, $5,910.10 toward $10,000.

Contributions reported by outlying communities included $64 from Vale Summit, $2,100 from Frostburg toward $2,500 goal; $840 from Lonaconing toward $1,000; $409 from Mt. Savage toward $550; Eckhart, $208.44 toward $275 and Ridgeley, $129 toward $350 goal. Westernport - Luke, Midland and Barton have not yet made any reports to campaign headquarters.

Parking Lot Agreement Is Reached

The Town of Westernport and the Western Maryland Railway Company have entered an agreement on the use of railroad property in that community which will be converted into a parking lot.

The lot, located on Church Street, measures about 140 feet in length and varies from 35 to 100 feet in width. Approximately 25 meters are expected to be installed on the lot.

The Mayor and Council at a special meeting last night agreed unanimously to pay the railroad $25 a month rental or $300 annually with either party able to cancel the agreement in a 30-day period.

Mayor Okey Michael said the agreement is effective as of March 1 and the parking lot is expected to be completed and put into operation about July 1.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., town attorney, was authorized to offer $300 annually to the company, which at first asked for $540 a year.

A letter was received from C. H. Stoner, real estate agent of the company, that the $300 rental fee would be acceptable.

As a measure to alleviate the parking problem in Westernport approximately $2,000 will be spent to put the lot in shape, including a fence along the railroad side of the premises.

City officials pointed out that after the lot is put into operation, parking is expected to be curtailed on Church Street. The meters will be operated on a 24-hour basis with free parking allowed on Sundays and holidays.

Today Is Deadline For Old Tag Use

Tonight at midnight is the absolute deadline for use of old license tags on private automobiles, and because of this fact Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat plans to keep his office at the Court House open until 6 p. m. today for sale of the new tags.

Yesterday's sale of 850 sets of the new tags brought the total sold in Treat's office since February 23 to 15,131, already 87 more than were sold through March 31 last year.

Final day sales last year totaled 1,100. With one day's activity remaining a year ago the total was 13,944, which is 1,187 less than yesterday's total.

Scientific Career Of County Native Cited

DR. WILBUR G. MALCOLM

Changes in the management of the Lederle Laboratories Division of American Cyanamid Company at Pearl River, N.Y., have focused attention on the career of an Allegany County native who has gained a national reputation in the field of bacteriology and science.

He is Dr. Wilbur G. Malcolm, a native of Moscow Mills and a son of the late William H. Malcolm and Annie (Thomas) Malcolm.

Dr. Malcolm has been relieved of his responsibilities as general manager of the Lederle Laboratories Division in order to concentrate on his duties as vice president of American Cyanamid in which he will continue to have staff responsibilities for pharmaceuticals, drugs and sutures. Like other vice presidents of American Cyanamid he will be free from line responsibilities.

This well-known native of Allegany County became a vice president of American Cyanamid and general manager of Lederle in 1946 when the pharamaceutical plant became a division of the parent company.

Big Increases Noted

Dr. Malcolm joined Lederle Laboratories in 1934 as a bacteriologist and in 1937 was named assistant director of the laboratories in executive director in 1938. In the 20 years that he has been associated with the New York State plant, Lederle became one of the largest medical research and pharamaceutical firms in the world, increasing its personnel from fewer than 400 in 1934 to about 4,500 today.

A number of products that received world-wide acclaim in the march against disease have been developed under Dr. Malcolm's direction at Lederle.

Among them was the use of rabbit serum for treatment of pneumonia, a 1937 development. In 1940 came the "sulfa drug," sulfadiazine, and in 1943 Lederle became one of the world's largest producers of blood plasma.

Postwar achievements included the 1947 improvement and refinement of diptheria and tentanus toxoids, the 1948 discovery of the antibiotic aureomycin chlortetracycline and in 1950 the use of antibiotics in animal feed and the development of vaccines for rabies, canine distemper and other animal diseases.

Several Drugs Developed

Since then have come the 1951 development of hog cholera vaccine and a major enzyme product for use in human medicine and in 1953 the development of antibiotic achromycin tetracycline and a new type of oral diuretic, Diamox, which has helped many persons suffering from heart conditions and other diseases causing excess fluids throughout their systems.

A graduate of the old Barton High School, Dr. Malcolm entered Maryland Agriculture College in 1918 on a scholarship and became a fixture on the College Park institution for the next few years. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1922 and his master of science degree in 1924. While associated with the National Intstitute of Health in Washington he received his Ph.D., like the other degrees from the University of Maryland.

Industry Tax, Teachers Pay Bills Enacted

Plant Expansion Plan Emergency Measure

The Senate yesterday enacted and sent to Governor McKeldin bills which retain the retroactive feature of this county's tax exemptions for industrial expansion, and a bill providing salary increases for Allegany County school teachers.

In 1953, a bill was passed granting tax exemptions to new and expanding industries in Allegany County, covering all facilities back to June 1, 1951.

The County Commissioners asked that the retroactive feature be stricken from the bill, due to its effect on the tax base.

Saying to remove the tax grant back to that date would be breaking faith with industries, Senator Kimble refused to change the date.

He concurred with and placed in his SB 549 other recommendations of the County Commissioners, striking from the measure exemptions for processing and distributing firms and exemptions for replacement of existing machinery.

Effective At Once

The bill also clarifies the definition of manufacturing for the purpose of tax exemption.

It was pointed out by the Allegany County Delegation, which yesterday placed an emergency tag on the bill—making it effective on passage—that the bill will not affect exemptions for machinery placed in plants before the passage of the bill.

The Senate yesterday finally passed House Bill 590, sponsored by the Allegany County Delegation, providing a $300 salary increase for county teachers this September and an additional $100 a year for two succeeding years.

Got Favorable Report

The bill was enacted by the Senate yesterday after receiving a favorable report from Senator Kimble.

Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, reported last night that the House had passed HB 844, an enabling act allowing the County Commissioners to set up a dog licensing system.

House Bill 846, the Cresaptown light bill, also passed the House, Del. See said.

He said the bill, requested by Earl Manges, attorney for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association, calls for a referendum the first Monday of next April.

Action Is Pending

Enacted yesterday was SB 503, introduced by Senator Kimble, to recodify the local laws of Allegany County. Del. See termed the move "badly needed."

The House also passed SB 529, which allows additional compensation for trial magistrates attending official meetings.

He said the Delegation has taken no action yet on SB 504, which would reorganize the Allegany County Juvenile Court, or SB 502 and 528, both referring to the Trial Magistrates Court in Cumberland.
